MARSHALL PLEADS FOR GREEK AID

Philadelphia Is Chosen As GOP Convention City

Vote Is 72-26 With Chicago The Loser

KANSAS CITY, April 21—(AP)—Philadelphia was chosen late today as the site of the 1948 Republican Convention to be held during the week of June 20, 1948.

The "City of Brotherly Love" presented a certified check for $200,000 to National GOP Chairman B. Carroll Reece to outbid the offer of Chicago, the only other serious contender.

On a roll call, Philadelphia won almost three to one, 72 to 26, and the national committee promptly made the choice unanimous.

Atlantic City also had invited the convention but Mrs. Reeve Schley, national committeewoman from New Jersey, said the offer was intended primarily to fill any gap if Chicago and Philadelphia adherents got into a deadlock.

$50,000 Entertainment Fund

Mayor Bernard Samuel, of Philadelphia; G. Mason Owlett, Pennsylvania national committeeman, and Frank Muroch, chairman of a special mayor's committee, spearheaded the Philadelphia campaign.

In addition to the $200,000 guarantee, they offered a city entertainment fund of $50,000, television facilities to reach the 13 eastern seaboard states with 163 electorial college votes and 8,000 hotel rooms, including 6,000 "first class" and 2,000 "medium class."

Mayor Samuel said his administration would even fix traffic tickets for the delegates if necessary.

Choice of the convention city ended formal business of the national committee and members adjourned to attend a committee banquet where Rep. Charles A. Halleck, House Majority leader was chief speaker.

Halleck Criticizes Truman

Halleck, in a prepared address, accused President Truman of wanting to defer tax cuts because "he wants to take credit for tax reduction" as a 1948 campaign weapon.

At a luncheon earlier, members heard Gov. Frank Carlson, of Kansas, declare that "the nation, the world wants only an opportunity to right itself—not Uncle Sam as wet nurse."

Carlson asserted that the Republican Party "must return the government to the people."

Halleck said:

"Your Congress is ignoring his (the President's) opposition to reduction in his padded budget, just as it is rejecting his protest that now is not the time to cut taxes."

U. S., France And Britain Conclude Coal Agreement

MOSCOW, April 21—(AP)—French Minister Herve Alphand announced tonight that a six-month coal agreement had been concluded by the United States, France and Great Britain assuring France of coal from Germany on a sliding scale depending on production.

The agreement was negotiated in Moscow and approved by the Foreign Ministers of the three states. The Russian government and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov were kept informed, Alphand said.

Alphand commented that unless France received 500,000 tons of coal a month from outside sources this year and 1,000,000 tons a month next year, the nation would have "tremendous difficulties" and would be unable to avoid inflation or balance her budget.

He said that if the Saar should be integrated into France as the United States, France and Great Britain advocate, France would be able to satisfy its coal needs from that region alone, provided production was increased according to plans of French economists.

Charleston Mayor Loses

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 21 (AP)—Mayor D. Boone Dawson conceded tonight his defeat for re-election to a fourth four-year term in that office, and said he had promised his support to R. Carl Andrews, successful Democratic candidate.

Detroit Picket Line Clash Points Up Growing Tension In Phone Workers' Strike

"Crucial Stage" Near; New U.S. Plan Awaited

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — A picket line melee in Detroit pointed up growing tension in the cross-country telephone strike today as the walkout went into its third week with both sides stiffly holding their lines.

Government conciliators described the situation as approaching a "crucial stage." They indicated they are about ready to come up with a new settlement proposal but withheld any outline of the plan.

Last U. S. Proposal Rebuffed

The last government settlement proposal met a quick rebuff from both sides. The National Federation of Telephone Workers would have no part of it because it made no provision for a "down payment" wage increase. The Bell System telephone companies wanted arbitration on a regional basis, rather than the proposed single arbitration board to pass on wage and other disputes all over the country.

Two main factors apparently will govern the outcome if the strike develops into a waiting contest:

The capacity of the workers to stay off the job without pay.

The degree to which the companies can keep automatic telephone service going without regular equipment maintenance crews.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, serving the District of Columbia and nearby Maryland and Virginia, reported that 756 non-supervisory employes reported for work today, an increase of 172 from last week.

Two Injured In Detroit Clash

J. B. Morrison, company vice president, said in a statement that "this bears out the company's prediction of a back-to-work movement as the third payless week begins today."

The NFTW, on the other hand, contended that over the country in general the strike is gaining recruits.

The Detroit fighting broke out at the business office entrance of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company when, police said, strikers attempted to stop non-strikers from reporting for work.

Two were injured and 22, including two union officials, were arrested, booked for investigation of inciting a riot. They were released to a union attorney an hour later, with orders to report for arraignment tomorrow.

A union spokesman tonight described back-to-work movements in various cities as "insignificant." He said reports given out by several telephone companies of a substantial return to work are "phony."

26 JAP HOLDOUTS ON PELELIU GIVE UP TO AMERICANS

PELELIU, April 21. (AP)—Finally convinced that the war is over, 26 Japanese soldiers and sailors formally surrendered to the Americans on this Pacific island today, two and one-half years after it was secured by the United States Marines.

Seven others, still hiding in the caves around Bloody Nose Ridge, are expected to surrender tomorrow.

Marine patrols had been searching vainly for the holdouts for more than three weeks, during which precautions were taken against a threatened banzai charge on the 32 American families on the island.

Truman Offers Formula To Head Off Depression

Asks Price Slashes, Home Front Unity

NEW YORK, April 21—(AP)—President Truman today coupled a pointed demand for sharp price reductions with an appeal for home front "unity" to avert a major depression which would carry disaster for the forces of democracy the world over.

Addressing the annual luncheon of the Associated Press, the President declared that "prices must be brought down" and taxes kept up until the country is "over the hump" of inflation.

An "economic cloudburst" he said, would weaken the power of the United States to aid democracies in their fight against "totalitarianism" and leave free nations everywhere "easy targets for external pressures and alien deiologies."

Tax Cut Plan "Inflationary"

He counseled "moderation" on the part of business, "forbearance" on the part of labor, all-out farm production "and wise guidance on the part of government."

By keeping its economy sound, he said, the United States not only can continue to aid the weak, but "demonstrate to all other nations the vitality and superiority of a free economy."

He left again the clear implication he may veto Republican-sponsored tax cut proposals by labeling them inflationary.

The government must continue high taxes along with rigid control of credits, rents and exports, the President asserted. He expressed fear that further credit spending would add new fuel to the "inflationary fires" in the familar tradition of "boom and bust."

Price Control "Sabotaged"

While he renewed his appeal to labor for "moderation" in its wage demands, he aimed his principal challenge to "those businessmen who have it within their power to reduce their prices."

Their failure to do so, he said, may bring "magnified" wage demands.

He blamed the high cost of living on a group he said "saw fit to sabotage price control" when he recommended its continuation in the spring of 1946.

Without naming names, he said this group had "represented to the public that prices would come down in a free market."

Asserting the opposite happened, the President challenged "private enterprise" to make a free economy work by arresting the upward climb of prices.

Churchgoers "Tagged"

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP) — Sixty-three motorists, mostly churchgoers, were given parking tickets Sunday after 4,000 warning tags had been placed on illegally parked vehicles in the area.

Clergy of the various churches complained they had not been given sufficient warning.

Union Makes New Proposal To GMC

DETROIT, April 21 (AP) — The CIO United Automobile Workers today made what Walter P. Reuther, union president, described as "an entirely new proposal" to General Motors Corporation, from which it originally demanded a wage increase of 23½ cents an hour.

Reuther declined to detail the new proposal but said "it was something that affected the overall negotiations." He said a full report on the new proposal will be made to the union's General Motors Council here on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, he said, negotiations with GM, resumed today, had been recessed to give the corporation time to consider the new proposal overnight.

Reuther's announcement came shortly after General Motors extended its 11½ cent an hour wage increase plus additional paid holidays to 3,200 employes of its inland manufacturing division at Dayton.

As these developments came out of today's conferences the executive board of the UAW-CIO announced a giant mass meeting for next Thursday to protest what it calls anti-labor legislation pending in congress.

West Va. Coal Mine Fire Under Control

MULLENS, W. Va., April 21 (AP) — General Superintendent J. A. Lewis reported tonight that a fire in the Brule Smokeless Coal Company's mine at Otsego is under control and may be extinguished.

He said he expected work to be resumed in the operation within the next several days.

M. J. Amkey, of the Federal Bureau of Mines station at Mt. Hope, said inspectors had not yet reached the point where the blaze broke out in a conveyor belt early today, but said they had found some destruction of coal and of mine timbering by the fire.

Orders Doubled

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — The Association of American Railroads said today that Class 1 railroads had 87,080 new freight cars on order on April 1, more than double the 40,217 outstanding orders on the same date last year.

REUNION—Patrick McEvinney is kissed by his older daughter, Grace, 27, as he is reunited with his family for the first time in nearly a quarter of a century. Grace, her mother, Mrs. Catherine McEvinney (right), and her younger sister, Catherine, 24, arrived at LaGuardia Field, New York, by plane from London yesterday. McEvinney came to the United States in 1923 from Scotland. Catherine was born five months after he left.

Door Left Ajar For Big 4 Accord On Austrian Pact

Semi-Secret Session Held By Ministers

MOSCOW, April 21 (AP) — The Foreign Ministers struggled for two hours in a semi-secret session tonight to break the deadlock on the Austrian treaty, and a brief announcement afterwards indicated that while no major issues were resolved, the door was left slightly ajar for agreement.

Secretary Marshall called for the executive session apparently in a final effort to salvage something from more than six weeks of wrangling over the writing of peace pacts for Austria and Germany.

It was believed that Marshall laid the final United States position on the line and that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was being given time to have a final consultation with Prime Minister Stalin and the policymakers in the Kremlin to see if a meeting of minds was possible.

Russia Holds Up Agreements

A brief announcement after the meeting said only that the Austrian treaty had been discussed. An official spokesman, asked if Austria would be discussed again, said it was probable but refused to elaborate further.

On all the major Austrian issues, such as Yugoslav claims for Southern Carinthia and a definition of German assets, Russia is opposed by the United States, Britain and France.

Meanwhile an authoritative source disclosed that Maj. Gen. William H. Draper, chief economic adviser on Germany and one of the top men in Marshall's delegation, would leave tomorrow for Berlin.

This was taken to indicate that all hope has been abandoned for reaching major agreements on Germany, at least as far as the Americans are concerned.

Trieste Issue Arises

Tomorrow morning the ministers will discuss the financial report on Trieste, which became a controversial issue today when Marshall suggested that the United States may be able to supply the potential free port with food.

Apparently suspecting an extension of the Truman program to aid Greece and Turkey, Molotov demanded immediate discussion of the entire report before it is sent to the United Nations. He sought to make certain that there is "no interference" in Trieste's internal affairs.

Will Hold Price Line

PITTSBURGH, April 21 (AP) — The Westinghouse Electric Corporation announced today that "while some lines of apparatus will require some price increase due to recent wage increases, no price advance on home appliances is contemplated at this time."

Murray Describes Steel Pact As Answer To "Labor Baiters"

Agreement Approved By USW Policy Group

PITTSBURGH, April 21. (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray asserted tonight that the steel workers' new pact with the United States Steel Corporation "assures peace in he industry for two years" and furnishes "an answer to congressional labor baiters" contemplating restrictive labor laws.

The agreement, providing a $1-per day increase for 140,000 employes of United States Steel subsidiaries, was approved late today by the 175-man wage policy committee of the CIO United Steel workers. This left the actual signing as the only further step to complete the pact. The signing, involving top officials of the union and the corporation, is scheduled for tomorrow.

Addressing a press conference after the committee meeting, Murray described the pact as "an answer to all congressional labor baiters hell-bent on destruction of labor unions in America."

In this connection, Murray said he had not yet received an AFL telegram to discuss labor legislation at a Washington conference Thursday, but that he would give it "utmost consideration."

He expressed hope the new contract with United States Steel would serve as a pattern for peaceful settlement of labor-management differences.

"It removes certain elements of doubt concerning the things that labor and industry can do, independent of government intervention, to preserve decent, peaceful and honorable relations," he said.

Anticipating "no difficulty" in negotiating contracts with other basic steel companies, he said the union is preparing to resume conferences with 80 other basic steel companies immediately.

LEWIS, SOFT COAL OPERATORS AGREE TO ATTEND PARLEY

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—The Federal Coal Mines Administration said today that John L. Lewis and a majority of soft coal mine operators have agreed to confer here April 29 on the question of resuming contract negotiations.

Navy Capt. N. H. Collisson, Coal Mines Administrator, said Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, informed him today the union will be represented at the conference.

Collisson invited 32 operators' organizations to the meeting. He said several associations informed him that the Southern Coal Producers Association negotiating committee will represent them.

Hospital Is Beset With Labor Woes

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 21. (AP)—Nearly all of the more than 40 maintenance workers in the New Haven unit of the Grace-New Haven Community Hospital resigned today, a union spokesman said, upon the institution's refusal to grant them union recognition.

Dr. Albert W. Snoke, director of the hospital, which with nearly 500 patients is New Haven's largest, immediately put the institution on an emergency basis.

He said union recognition was "the sole issue." Edward J. Logue, representative of the United Mine Workers (AFL), charged the workers were underpaid and that many received less than union dormitory maids at Yale University. The New Haven unit of the hospital is the teaching hospital for Yale's medical school.

Dr. Snoke said the hospital's supply of heat and light were not yet affected, since both were supplied by a Yale University powerhouse.

With the help of hospital executive personnel, the separately operated laundry in nearby West Haven was kept in operation, but succeeded in handling less than half of the normal day's output of 10,000 pounds of linen.

Ringgold Funeral Today

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va., April 21 (AP)—Funeral service will be held tomorrow for Rowland Carvel Ringgold, about 70, prominent in Democratic activities in West Virginia who died at his home of a heart ailment. Ringgold, a native of Maryland, was for the past 10 years identified with the oil importing business with offices in New York.

AFL Sends CIO Bid To Discuss Merger

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—The threat of severe congressional restrictions on labor union activity spurred the AFL today to invite the CIO to meet Thursday and talk about merger.

The spark of unity which had flared in December when John L. Lewis' miners were under injunction and heavy fine, had all but died out in an exchange of letters which followed between the AFL and CIO.

But passage of the Hartley labor bill in the House last week, and the scheduled start of Senate debate on the Senate Labor Committee bill next Wednesday stirred the AFL leaders to revive the merger move. The AFL Executive Council of 15 top leaders began a two-week session today.

AFL President William Green wired CIO Chief Philip Murray, proposing a meeting Thursday at 11:00 a. m., EST, at the Statler Hotel. There was no immediate comment from Murray.

Cuban Capitol Fired On During Congress Meeting

HAVANA, April 21 (AP)—A group of unidentified persons fired several bursts from a machine gun at the Cuban Capitol tonight while Congress was in session there, but there were no casualties.

The Senate police said the gunmen fired from a moving automobile on a street running in back of the Capitol. They were not captured.

The mysterious attack immediately resulted in a wave of recriminations in the congressional session and Democratic Sen. Joee Enrique Bringuier charged from the Senate floor that President Ramon Grau San Martin was the instigator of the shooting. Sen. Luis Cainas Milanes heatedly defended the Chief Executive.

Two Jewish Terrorists Cheat Noose

Set Off Explosives Against Their Hearts

JERUSALEM, Tuesday, April 22 (AP)—Two convicted members of the Jewish underground committed suicide in the death row of Jerusalem prison last night by detonating small amounts of explosives against their hearts shortly before they were scheduled to be hanged for acts of terrorism.

An official police announcement said that Meyer Feinstein and Moshe Barazini committed suicide together in the same cell of the prison.

Clad in the traditional red garb of the condemned, the two men had been confined in death row for more than two weeks. An investigation was launched to determine how they obtained the explosives. Police said the detonation of the charges did a small amount of damage to the cell but that no other persons were injured.

Curfew Is Imposed

The suicides were announced a few hours after some 80,000 Jews in Jerusalem were placed under virtual house arrest in a rigid curfew imposed to prevent demonstrations or retaliation for the carrying out of death sentences by British authorities.

Feinstein and Barazini died six days after Dov Bela Gruner and three other members of the Jewish underbround were hanged at Acre prison in Northern Palestine.

The hanging of those men set off a wave of minor reprisal incidents by Irgun Zvai Leumi, the Jewish underground organization in which all but Barazini claimed membership. Barazini said he was a member of the Stern Gang, another underground group.

Appealed For Clemency

Feinstein and Barazini sent appeals for clemency to Lt. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Palestine High Commissioner, asking that their sentences be commuted to life imprisonment. A reliable but unofficial source said the condemned men took this action after being visited by their families.

Authorities said the curfew was imposed on Jerusalem to forestall reprisals threatened by Irgun which had pledged "blood for blood" revenge at the rate of 10 for one when members of the organization were hanged.

Oil Seeps Under Galveston Piers

TEXAS CITY, April 21. (AP) — Highly-inflammable oil from explosion-torn Texas City seeped under Galveston's wharves today, posing a fire threat there as that city began to recover from a six-day nightmare.

The crude oil at Galveston 11 miles away apparently came from the tanks of the three ships destroyed here Wednesday and Thursday violent explosions that sank them, destroyed the Monsanto Chemical Corporation plant, and much of this industrial coastal city of 15,000, killing 575 persons.

Lt. Comdr. H. F. Cobb, of the Coast Guard, in command at Galveston," said there was no serious danger as long as safety precautions were taken to avoid fire on the piers.

Also at Galveston, the Coast Guard hearing heard another witness say that "no smoking" signs were disregarded aboard the SS High Flyer, the second freighter to explode. Earlier, a witness said smoking was general on the Grandcamp, the French ship that first exploded and set off the chain of disaster.

Third Of State Auto Tags Sold; Deadline April 30

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP) — Only one third of the new 1947 Maryland license plates have been sold, although deadline for using the old ones is midnight April 30, the Motor Vehicles Department reported today.

Vacationers driving out of the state must have new plates by April 30, because all other states have been notified of the expiration date for Maryland tags, a department official said.

Senate To Vote On Bill Today; Passage Sure

Program Is Urgent, Secretary Asserts

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall declared today that President Truman's program of Bulwarking Greece and Turkey against Communism is urgent and "indispensable."

But Sen. Wherry (Neb), the Republican whip, called the $400,000,000 program "the first installment of appropriations that will run into billions of dollars in the next two years" and announced he will vote against the bill.

Sen. Pepper (D-Fla.), issued a statement tonight saying that in spite of his "honest desire" to support Mr. Truman "in good conscience" he could not support a policy "which commits the United States for the first time to acting in vital international matters affecting peace or war outside the United Nations."

Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) placed the message from Marshall in Moscow before the Senate as it plodded toward a vote tomorrow, with passage certain. Marshall's message said.

"I understand some question has arisen as to my participation in the Greek-Turkish aid program.

"As you know, prior to my departure for Moscow, I participated in the formulation of this program and in the decision to go forward with it.

Marshall "Fully Concurs"

"When I reached Paris on March 6, the President telegraphed the proposed text of his message of March 12 and I informed the (State) department that I fully concurred.

"I personally, and for the State Department, attach the highest order of urgency to immediate passage of the Greek-Turkish aid legislation.

"In my opinion the program proposed is indispensable and I am in complete accord with the actions taken by Mr. Acheson for the department and by the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, in urging the Congress to pass this legislation."

The question of Marshall's views had been raised by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis). He told the Senate last week there had been "rumors" that the Secretary of State had some misgivings about the policy involved.

Passage Viewed As Certain

Marshall's plea for speedy passage of the bill to provide financial and limited military assistance for Greece and Turkey is expected to be answered by an approval vote of more than two to one when the Senate starts calling the roll at 4 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, tomorrow.

However, the House has yet to act on the bill and it may be some time before it becomes law.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), chief opponent of the measure, said he and Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who has declined to state his position, want to talk tomorrow. Sen. McKellar (D-Tenn) arose to say he wants time for an opposition speech.

16 KILLED IN CRASH OF BOMBER AT SEA

HONOLULU, April 21 (AP)—Sixteen officers and enlisted men were killed early Sunday in the crash of a B-29 at sea immediately after it took off from Kwajalein, headquarters of the 20th Air Force announced today.

The plane, on a routine flight from Kwajalein to Guam, caught fire, exploded and sank a few minutes after the takeoff. There were no survivors, the Air Force report said.

The big bomber was attached to the 19th Bombardment Group on Guam.

Stork Hovering Over Actress Bette Davis

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif., April 21 (AP)—Bette Davis' baby is expected within a week or 10 days, her mother disclosed today.

Mrs. Ruth Favor Palmer said the Academy Award winner will have the child, her first, in nearby Santa Ana. The actress, 39, is wed to William Grant Sherry, landscape artist.

Princess Elizabeth Dedicates Life To British Empire On 21st Birthday

CAPETOWN, South Africa, April 21. (AP)—Princess Elizabeth dedicated her life today, on her 21st birthday, to the globe-girdling empire which she some day may rule, and urged Britain's youth to rally behind her leadership in helping to build a "more happy, more prosperous" commonwealth.

In a stirring radio broadcast, the heiress presumptive told a world-wide audience of millions of her father's subjects that her life, "whether it be long or short," would be devoted to their service.

A 21-gun salute echoed through Capetown and crowds gathered in the street to cheer the princess on her anniversary. Gifts and telegrams from all parts of the world deluged the royal household.

Among the messages was one from Prime Minister Attlee, cabled from London, which said "the simple dignity and wise understanding which your royal highness has shown have endeared you to all classes at home."

In London, as here, flags were displayed at government and business buildings. Bands played and church bells pealed in honor of the popular princess.

A holiday atmosphere prevailed in this capital, where the royal family is winding up its South African tour. Among the gifts which Elizabeth received were 400 diamonds, valued at $80,000, from the South African government.

47 Per Cent Cut In Interior Dept. Budget Looms; Krug Signals Fight

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee chopped the Interior Department's budget nearly in half today and Secretary Krug, signalling a stiff fight, termed the action false economy that might start a depression.

Rep. Robert F. Jones (R-Ohio), chairman of the subcommittee which made the 47 per cent cut, issued a statement "to emphasize, first of all that the committee, in making such a huge cut in these appropriations has not impaired nor curtailed any of the essential functions or services of the department."

He said the slash does not mean that construction of power and irrigation projects "will be killed or stopped." The Bureau of Reclamation, which does that work, bore 60 per cent of the cut.

Krug told a news conference that cuts of the size projected would cause "a tremendous setback in the nation's economy and perhaps the start of a major business depression."

He added:

"Under the name of economy the proposed program would in effect 'economize' the nation into bankrupcy of its natural resources."

He said that if present trends in power demand continue the slash might even lead to brownouts in northwestern areas served by government power plants.

Krug estimated that 10,000 to 15,000 of his department's 45,000 employes would have to be left out.

MARSHALL PLEADS FOR GREEK AID

Philadelphia Is Chosen As GOP Convention City

Vote Is 72-26 With Chicago The Loser

KANSAS CITY, April 21—(AP)—Philadelphia was chosen late today as the site of the 1948 Republican Convention to be held during the week of June 20, 1948.

The "City of Brotherly Love" presented a certified check for $200,000 to National GOP Chairman B. Carroll Reece to outbid the offer of Chicago, the only other serious contender.

On a roll call, Philadelphia won almost three to one, 72 to 26, and the national committee promptly made the choice unanimous.

Atlantic City also had invited the convention but Mrs. Reeve Schley, national committeewoman from New Jersey, said the offer was intended primarily to fill any gap if Chicago and Philadelphia adherents got into a deadlock.

$50,000 Entertainment Fund

Mayor Bernard Samuel, of Philadelphia; G. Mason Owlett, Pennsylvania national committeeman, and Frank Muroch, chairman of a special mayor's committee, spearheaded the Philadelphia campaign.

In addition to the $200,000 guarantee, they offered a city entertainment fund of $50,000, television facilities to reach the 13 eastern seaboard states with 163 electorial college votes and 8,000 hotel rooms, including 6,000 "first class" and 2,000 "medium class."

Mayor Samuel said his administration would even fix traffic tickets for the delegates if necessary.

Choice of the convention city ended formal business of the national committee and members adjourned to attend a committee banquet where Rep. Charles A. Halleck, House Majority leader was chief speaker.

Halleck Criticizes Truman

Halleck, in a prepared address, accused President Truman of wanting to defer tax cuts because "he wants to take credit for tax reduction" as a 1948 campaign weapon.

At a luncheon earlier, members heard Gov. Frank Carlson, of Kansas, declare that "the nation, the world wants only an opportunity to right itself—not Uncle Sam as wet nurse."

Carlson asserted that the Republican Party "must return the government to the people."

Halleck said:

"Your Congress is ignoring his (the President's) opposition to reduction in his padded budget, just as it is rejecting his protest that now is not the time to cut taxes."

U. S., France And Britain Conclude Coal Agreement

MOSCOW, April 21—(AP)—French Minister Herve Alphand announced tonight that a six-month coal agreement had been concluded by the United States, France and Great Britain assuring France of coal from Germany on a sliding scale depending on production.

The agreement was negotiated in Moscow and approved by the Foreign Ministers of the three states. The Russian government and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov were kept informed, Alphand said.

Alphand commented that unless France received 500,000 tons of coal a month from outside sources this year and 1,000,000 tons a month next year, the nation would have "tremendous difficulties" and would be unable to avoid inflation or balance her budget.

He said that if the Saar should be integrated into France as the United States, France and Great Britain advocate, France would be able to satisfy its coal needs from that region alone, provided production was increased according to plans of French economists.

Charleston Mayor Loses

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 21 (AP)—Mayor D. Boone Dawson conceded tonight his defeat for re-election to a fourth four-year term in that office, and said he had promised his support to R. Carl Andrews, successful Democratic candidate.

Detroit Picket Line Clash Points Up Growing Tension In Phone Workers' Strike

"Crucial Stage" Near; New U.S. Plan Awaited

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — A picket line melee in Detroit pointed up growing tension in the cross-country telephone strike today as the walkout went into its third week with both sides stiffly holding their lines.

Government conciliators described the situation as approaching a "crucial stage." They indicated they are about ready to come up with a new settlement proposal but withheld any outline of the plan.

Apparently government seizure of the lines is not a part of the formula. John R. Steelman, presidential labor adviser, told reporters he knows of no plans for the government to take over.

Last U. S. Proposal Rebuffed

The last government settlement proposal met a quick rebuff from both sides. The National Federation of Telephone Workers would have no part of it because it made no provision for a "down payment" wage increase. The Bell System telephone companies wanted arbitration on a regional basis, rather than the proposed single arbitration board to pass on wage and other disputes all over the country.

Two main factors apparently will govern the outcome if the strike develops into a waiting contest:

The capacity of the workers to stay off the job without pay.

The degree to which the companies can keep automatic telephone service going without regular equipment maintenance crews.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, serving the District of Columbia and nearby Maryland and Virginia, reported that 756 non-supervisory employes reported for work today, an increase of 172 from last week.

Two Injured In Detroit Clash

J. B. Morrison, company vice president, said in a statement that "this bears out the company's prediction of a back-to-work movement as the third payless week begins today."

The NFTW, on the other hand, contended that over the country in general the strike is gaining recruits.

The Detroit fighting broke out at the business office entrance of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company when, police said, strikers attempted to stop non-strikers from reporting for work.

Two were injured and 22, including two union officials, were arrested, booked for investigation of inciting a riot. They were released to a union attorney an hour later, with orders to report for arraignment tomorrow.

A union spokesman tonight described back-to-work movements in various cities as "insignificant." He said reports given out by several telephone companies of a substantial return to work are "phony."

26 JAP HOLDOUTS ON PELELIU GIVE UP TO AMERICANS

PELELIU, April 21. (AP)—Finally convinced that the war is over, 26 Japanese soldiers and sailors formally surrendered to the Americans on this Pacific island today, two and one-half years after it was secured by the United States Marines.

Seven others, still hiding in the caves around Bloody Nose Ridge, are expected to surrender tomorrow.

Marine patrols had been searching vainly for the holdouts for more than three weeks, during which precautions were taken against a threatened banzai charge on the 32 American families on the island.

Truman Offers Formula To Head Off Depression

Asks Price Slashes, Home Front Unity

NEW YORK, April 21—(AP)—President Truman today coupled a pointed demand for sharp price reductions with an appeal for home front "unity" to avert a major depression which would carry disaster for the forces of democracy the world over.

Addressing the annual luncheon of the Associated Press, the President declared that "prices must be brought down" and taxes kept up until the country is "over the hump" of inflation.

An "economic cloudburst" he said, would weaken the power of the United States to aid democracies in their fight against "totalitarianism" and leave free nations everywhere "easy targets for external pressures and alien deiologies."

Tax Cut Plan "Inflationary"

He counseled "moderation" on the part of business, "forbearance" on the part of labor, all-out farm production "and wise guidance on the part of government."

By keeping its economy sound, he said, the United States not only can continue to aid the weak, but "demonstrate to all other nations the vitality and superiority of a free economy."

He left again the clear implication he may veto Republican-sponsored tax cut proposals by labeling them inflationary.

The government must continue high taxes along with rigid control of credits, rents and exports, the President asserted. He expressed fear that further credit spending would add new fuel to the "inflationary fires" in the familar tradition of "boom and bust."

Price Control "Sabotaged"

While he renewed his appeal to labor for "moderation" in its wage demands, he aimed his principal challenge to "those businessmen who have it within their power to reduce their prices."

Their failure to do so, he said, may bring "magnified" wage demands.

He blamed the high cost of living on a group he said "saw fit to sabotage price control" when he recommended its continuation in the spring of 1946.

Without naming names, he said this group had "represented to the public that prices would come down in a free market."

Asserting the opposite happened, the President challenged "private enterprise" to make a free economy work by arresting the upward climb of prices.

Churchgoers "Tagged"

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP) — Sixty-three motorists, mostly churchgoers, were given parking tickets Sunday after 4,000 warning tags had been placed on illegally parked vehicles in the area.

Clergy of the various churches complained they had not been given sufficient warning.

Union Makes New Proposal To GMC

DETROIT, April 21 (AP) — The CIO United Automobile Workers today made what Walter P. Reuther, union president, described as "an entirely new proposal" to General Motors Corporation, from which it originally demanded a wage increase of 23½ cents an hour.

Reuther declined to detail the new proposal but said "it was something that affected the overall negotiations." He said a full report on the new proposal will be made to the union's General Motors Council here on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, he said, negotiations with GM, resumed today, had been recessed to give the corporation time to consider the new proposal overnight.

Reuther's announcement came shortly after General Motors extended its 11½ cent an hour wage increase plus additional paid holidays to 3,200 employes of its inland manufacturing division at Dayton.

As these developments came out of today's conferences the executive board of the UAW-CIO announced a giant mass meeting for next Thursday to protest what it calls anti-labor legislation pending in congress.

West Va. Coal Mine Fire Under Control

MULLENS, W. Va., April 21 (AP) — General Superintendent J. A. Lewis reported tonight that a fire in the Brule Smokeless Coal Company's mine at Otsego is under control and may be extinguished.

He said he expected work to be resumed in the operation within the next several days.

M. J. Amkey, of the Federal Bureau of Mines station at Mt. Hope, said inspectors had not yet reached the point where the blaze broke out in a conveyor belt early today, but said they had found some destruction of coal and of mine timbering by the fire.

Orders Doubled

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — The Association of American Railroads said today that Class 1 railroads had 87,080 new freight cars on order on April 1, more than double the 40,217 outstanding orders on the same date last year.

REUNION—Patrick McEvinney is kissed by his older daughter, Grace, 27, as he is reunited with his family for the first time in nearly a quarter of a century. Grace, her mother, Mrs. Catherine McEvinney (right), and her younger sister, Catherine, 24, arrived at LaGuardia Field, New York, by plane from London yesterday. McEvinney came to the United States in 1923 from Scotland. Catherine was born five months after he left.

Door Left Ajar For Big 4 Accord On Austrian Pact

Semi-Secret Session Held By Ministers

MOSCOW, April 21 (AP) — The Foreign Ministers struggled for two hours in a semi-secret session tonight to break the deadlock on the Austrian treaty, and a brief announcement afterwards indicated that while no major issues were resolved, the door was left slightly ajar for agreement.

Secretary Marshall called for the executive session apparently in a final effort to salvage something from more than six weeks of wrangling over the writing of peace pacts for Austria and Germany.

It was believed that Marshall laid the final United States position on the line and that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was being given time to have a final consultation with Prime Minister Stalin and the policymakers in the Kremlin to see if a meeting of minds was possible.

Russia Holds Up Agreements

A brief announcement after the meeting said only that the Austrian treaty had been discussed. An official spokesman, asked if Austria would be discussed again, said it was probable but refused to elaborate further.

On all the major Austrian issues, such as Yugoslav claims for Southern Carinthia and a definition of German assets, Russia is opposed by the United States, Britain and France.

Meanwhile an authoritative source disclosed that Maj. Gen. William H. Draper, chief economic adviser on Germany and one of the top men in Marshall's delegation, would leave tomorrow for Berlin.

This was taken to indicate that all hope has been abandoned for reaching major agreements on Germany, at least as far as the Americans are concerned.

Trieste Issue Arises

Tomorrow morning the ministers will discuss the financial report on Trieste, which became a controversial issue today when Marshall suggested that the United States may be able to supply the potential free port with food.

Apparently suspecting an extension of the Truman program to aid Greece and Turkey, Molotov demanded immediate discussion of the entire report before it is sent to the United Nations. He sought to make certain that there is "no interference" in Trieste's internal affairs.

Will Hold Price Line

PITTSBURGH, April 21 (AP) — The Westinghouse Electric Corporation announced today that "while some lines of apparatus will require some price increase due to recent wage increases, no price advance on home appliances is contemplated at this time."

Murray Describes Steel Pact As Answer To "Labor Baiters"

Agreement Approved By USW Policy Group

PITTSBURGH, April 21. (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray asserted tonight that the steel workers' new pact with the United States Steel Corporation "assures peace in he industry for two years" and furnishes "an answer to congressional labor baiters" contemplating restrictive labor laws.

The agreement, providing a $1-per day increase for 140,000 employes of United States Steel subsidiaries, was approved late today by the 175-man wage policy committee of the CIO United Steel workers. This left the actual signing as the only further step to complete the pact. The signing, involving top officials of the union and the corporation, is scheduled for tomorrow.

Addressing a press conference after the committee meeting, Murray described the pact as "an answer to all congressional labor baiters hell-bent on destruction of labor unions in America."

In this connection, Murray said he had not yet received an AFL telegram to discuss labor legislation at a Washington conference Thursday, but that he would give it "utmost consideration."

He expressed hope the new contract with United States Steel would serve as a pattern for peaceful settlement of labor-management differences.

"It removes certain elements of doubt concerning the things that labor and industry can do, independent of government intervention, to preserve decent, peaceful and honorable relations," he said.

Anticipating "no difficulty" in negotiating contracts with other basic steel companies, he said the union is preparing to resume conferences with 80 other basic steel companies immediately.

LEWIS, SOFT COAL OPERATORS AGREE TO ATTEND PARLEY

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—The Federal Coal Mines Administration said today that John L. Lewis and a majority of soft coal mine operators have agreed to confer here April 29 on the question of resuming contract negotiations.

Navy Capt. N. H. Collisson, Coal Mines Administrator, said Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, informed him today the union will be represented at the conference.

Collisson invited 32 operators' organizations to the meeting. He said several associations informed him that the Southern Coal Producers Association negotiating committee will represent them.

Hospital Is Beset With Labor Woes

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 21. (AP) —Nearly all of the more than 40 maintenance workers in the New Haven unit of the Grace-New Haven Community Hospital resigned today, a union spokesman said, upon the institution's refusal to grant them union recognition.

Dr. Albert W. Snoke, director of the hospital, which with nearly 500 patients is New Haven's largest, immediately put the institution on an emergency basis.

He said union recognition was "the sole issue." Edward J. Logue, representative of the United Mine Workers (AFL), charged the workers were underpaid and that many received less than union dormitory maids at Yale University. The New Haven unit of the hospital is the teaching hospital for Yale's medical school.

Dr. Snoke said the hospital's supply of heat and light were not yet affected, since both were supplied by a Yale University powerhouse.

With the help of hospital executive personnel, the separately operated laundry in nearby West Haven was kept in operation, but succeeded in handling less than half of the normal day's output of 10,000 pounds of linen.

Ringgold Funeral Today

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va., April 21 (AP)—Funeral service will be held tomorrow for Rowland Carvel Ringgold, about 70, prominent in Democratic activities in West Virginia who died at his home of a heart ailment. Ringgold, a native of Maryland, was for the past 10 years identified with the oil importing business with offices in New York.

AFL Sends CIO Bid To Discuss Merger

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—The threat of severe congressional restrictions on labor union activity spurred the AFL today to invite the CIO to meet Thursday and talk about merger.

The spark of unity which had flared in December when John L. Lewis' miners were under injunction and heavy fine, had all but died out in an exchange of letters which followed between the AFL and CIO.

But passage of the Hartley labor bill in the House last week, and the scheduled start of Senate debate on the Senate Labor Committee bill next Wednesday stirred the AFL leaders to revive the merger move. The AFL Executive Council of 15 top leaders began a two-week session today.

AFL President William Green wired CIO Chief Philip Murray, proposing a meeting Thursday at 11:00 a. m., EST, at the Statler Hotel. There was no immediate comment from Murray.

Cuban Capitol Fired On During Congress Meeting

HAVANA, April 21 (AP)—A group of unidentified persons fired several bursts from a machine gun at the Cuban Capitol tonight while Congress was in session there, but there were no casualties.

The Senate police said the gunmen fired from a moving automobile on a street running in back of the Capitol. They were not captured.

The mysterious attack immediately resulted in a wave of recriminations in the congressional session and Democratic Sen. Joee Enrique Bringuier charged from the Senate floor that President Ramon Grau San Martin was the instigator of the shooting. Sen. Luis Cainas Milanes heatedly defended the Chief Executive.

Two Jewish Terrorists Cheat Noose

Set Off Explosives Against Their Hearts

JERUSALEM, Tuesday, April 22 (AP)—Two convicted members of the Jewish underground committed suicide in the death row of Jerusalem prison last night by detonating small amounts of explosives against their hearts shortly before they were scheduled to be hanged for acts of terrorism.

An official police announcement said that Meyer Feinstein and Moshe Barazini committed suicide together in the same cell of the prison.

Clad in the traditional red garb of the condemned, the two men had been confined in death row for more than two weeks. An investigation was launched to determine how they obtained the explosives. Police said the detonation of the charges did a small amount of damage to the cell but that no other persons were injured.

Curfew Is Imposed

The suicides were announced a few hours after some 80,000 Jews in Jerusalem were placed under virtual house arrest in a rigid curfew imposed to prevent demonstrations or retaliation for the carrying out of death sentences by British authorities.

Feinstein and Barazini died six days after Dov Bela Gruner and three other members of the Jewish underbround were hanged at Acre prison in Northern Palestine.

The hanging of those men set off a wave of minor reprisal incidents by Irgun Zvai Leumi, the Jewish underground organization in which all but Barazini claimed membership. Barazini said he was a member of the Stern Gang, another underground group.

Appealed For Clemency

Feinstein and Barazini sent appeals for clemency to Lt. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Palestine High Commissioner, asking that their sentences be commuted to life imprisonment. A reliable but unofficial source said the condemned men took this action after being visited by their families.

Authorities said the curfew was imposed on Jerusalem to forestall reprisals threatened by Irgun which had pledged "blood for blood" revenge at the rate of 10 for one when members of the organization were hanged.

Oil Seeps Under Galveston Piers

TEXAS CITY, April 21. (AP) — Highly-inflammable oil from explosion-torn Texas City seeped under Galveston's wharves today, posing a fire threat there as that city began to recover from a six-day nightmare.

The crude oil at Galveston 11 miles away apparently came from the tanks of the three ships destroyed here Wednesday and Thursday violent explosions that sank them, destroyed the Monsanto Chemical Corporation plant, and much of this industrial coastal city of 15,000, killing 575 persons.

Lt. Comdr. H. F. Cobb, of the Coast Guard, in command at Galveston, said there was no serious danger as long as safety precautions were taken to avoid fire on the piers.

Also at Galveston, the Coast Guard hearing heard another witness say that "no smoking" signs were disregarded aboard the SS High Flyer, the second freighter to explode. Earlier, a witness said smoking was general on the Grandcamp, the French ship that first exploded and set off the chain of disaster.

Third Of State Auto Tags Sold; Deadline April 30

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP) — Only one third of the new 1947 Maryland license plates have been sold, although deadline for using the old ones is midnight April 30, the Motor Vehicles Department reported today.

Vacationers driving out of the state must have new plates by April 30, because all other states have been notified of the expiration date for Maryland tags, a department official said.

Senate To Vote On Bill Today; Passage Sure

Program Is Urgent, Secretary Asserts

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall declared today that President Truman's program of Bulwarking Greece and Turkey against Communism is urgent and "indispensable."

But Sen. Wherry (Neb), the Republican whip, called the $400,000,000 program "the first installment of appropriations that will run into billions of dollars in the next two years" and announced he will vote against the bill.

Sen. Pepper (D-Fla.), issued a statement tonight saying that in spite of his "honest desire" to support Mr. Truman "in good conscience" he could not support a policy "which commits the United States for the first time to acting in vital international matters affecting peace or war outside the United Nations."

Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) placed the message from Marshall in Moscow before the Senate as it plodded toward a vote tomorrow, with passage certain. Marshall's message said.

"I understand some question has arisen as to my participation in the Greek-Turkish aid program.

"As you know, prior to my departure for Moscow, I participated in the formulation of this program and in the decision to go forward with it.

Marshall "Fully Concurs"

"When I reached Paris on March 6, the President telegraphed the proposed text of his message of March 12 and I informed the (State) department that I fully concurred.

"I personally, and for the State Department, attach the highest order of urgency to immediate passage of the Greek-Turkish aid legislation.

"In my opinion the program proposed is indispensable and I am in complete accord with the actions taken by Mr. Acheson for the department and by the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, in urging the Congress to pass this legislation."

The question of Marshall's views had been raised by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis). He told the Senate last week there had been "rumors" that the Secretary of State had some misgivings about the policy involved.

Passage Viewed As Certain

Marshall's plea for speedy passage of the bill to provide financial and limited military assistance for Greece and Turkey is expected to be answered by an approval vote of more than two to one when the Senate starts calling the roll at 4 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, tomorrow.

However, the House has yet to act on the bill and it may be some time before it becomes law.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), chief opponent of the measure, said he and Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who has declined to state his position, want to talk tomorrow. Sen. McKellar (D-Tenn) arose to say he wants time for an opposition speech.

16 KILLED IN CRASH OF BOMBER AT SEA

HONOLULU, April 21 (AP)—Sixteen officers and enlisted men were killed early Sunday in the crash of a B-29 at sea immediately after it took off from Kwajalein, headquarters of the 20th Air Force announced today.

The plane, on a routine flight from Kwajalein to Guam, caught fire, exploded and sank a few minutes after the takeoff. There were no survivors, the Air Force report said.

The big bomber was attached to the 19th Bombardment Group on Guam.

Stork Hovering Over Actress Bette Davis

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif., April 21 (AP)—Bette Davis' baby is expected within a week or 10 days, her mother disclosed today.

Mrs. Ruth Favor Palmer said the Academy Award winner will have the child, her first, in nearby Santa Ana. The actress, 39, is wed to William Grant Sherry, landscape artist.

Princess Elizabeth Dedicates Life To British Empire On 21st Birthday

CAPETOWN, South Africa, April 21. (AP)—Princess Elizabeth dedicated her life today, on her 21st birthday, to the globe-girdling empire which she some day may rule, and urged Britain's youth to rally behind her leadership in helping to build a "more happy, more prosperous" commonwealth.

In a stirring radio broadcast, the heiress presumptive told a world-wide audience of millions of her father's subjects that her life, "whether it be long or short," would be devoted to their service.

A 21-gun salute echoed through Capetown and crowds gathered in the street to cheer the princess on her anniversary. Gifts and telegrams from all parts of the world deluged the royal household.

Among the messages was one from Prime Minister Attlee, cabled from London, which said "the simple dignity and wise understanding which your royal highness has shown have endeared you to all classes at home."

In London, as here, flags were displayed at government and business buildings. Bands played and church bells pealed in honor of the popular princess.

A holiday atmosphere prevailed in this capital, where the royal family is winding up its South African tour. Among the gifts which Elizabeth received were 400 diamonds, valued at $80,000, from the South African government.

47 Per Cent Cut In Interior Dept. Budget Looms; Krug Signals Fight

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee chopped the Interior Department's budget nearly in half today and Secretary Krug, signalling a stiff fight, termed the action false economy that might start a depression.

Rep. Robert F. Jones (R-Ohio), chairman of the subcommittee which made the 47 per cent cut, issued a statement "to emphasize, first of all that the committee, in making such a huge cut in these appropriations has not impaired nor curtailed any of the essential functions or services of the department."

He said the slash does not mean that construction of power and irrigation projects "will be killed or stopped." The Bureau of Reclamation, which does that work, bore 60 per cent of the cut.

Krug told a news conference that cuts of the size projected would cause "a tremendous setback in the nation's economy and perhaps the start of a major business depression."

He added:

"Under the name of economy the proposed program would in effect 'economize' the nation into bankrupcy of its natural resources."

He said that if present trends in power demand continue the slash might even lead to brownouts in northwestern areas served by government power plants.

Krug estimated that 10,000 to 15,000 of his department's 45,000 employes would have to be left out.

Dorothy Maguire To Be Heard In Health Drama

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 21.—Dorothy McGuire of Stage and screen is to do some radio acting Tuesday night for CBS at 10. The reason is the drama "Lantern in the Dark," a documentary treating on public health nursing. It deals with the career of Nurse Elsie Scott in San Juan county, Washington.

The Boston Symphony orchestra is concluding its weekly concerts on ABC at 8:30, to be replaced the following week by another series of "pops" programs. In the closing broadcast, the orchestra will have the cooperation of the Harvard Glee club and the Radcliffe choral society for the presentation of Brahms' "A German Requiem." It will take up all of the hour save for the regular announcements.

The American Forum on ABC at 9:30 is asking "Should congress pass new labor laws?" For the answers it is calling on a panel made up of two members of the house and speakers for the AFL and the CIO.

The Godfrey—Arthur—is all set for a four-weeks vacation. That means his Talent Scouts at 9:30 on CBS also will take a rest after Tuesday's broadcast for the same length of time. When it comes back it will be at a new time a half-hour earlier . . . Bob Hope is borrowing both Martha Tilton of the songs and Herbert Marshall of the Man Called X for his NBC guest department at 10.

The weekly United Nations program on NBC at 11:30 is to have a dramatic portrayal of "The World Narcotics Problem."

Radio in Review

By JOHN CROSBY

A New Slant On History

The Columbia Broadcasting System, which is constantly flirting with different ways to present news, has come up with a novel experiment for reviving some of the world's top news stories of bygone years. Entitled "C.B.S. Was There," a title I don't entirely approve of, the program presents history as a news story covered the same way the network would cover any topflight story.

John Crosby

One of the audition recordings — none of these has been on the air yet — is the story of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. The broadcast opens with a description of the crowd in front of Ford's Theater in Washington on the night of April 14, 1865. As a matter of fact, this event might very well have been covered by a radio network if there had been any then since, completely apart from its tragic ending, Lincoln's attendance at the theater was quite an occasion. He had gone to the theater only once before as President and had come in for a good deal of criticism at the time from bluenoses who considered the theater a scandalous frivolity.

This fact is cunningly woven into the broadcast when John Daly—C.B.S. uses its regular newsmen on the show—interviews the President as he steps from his carriage and asks him to comment on this criticism.

"Some think I do wrong to go to the opera and the theater," replied Lincoln. "But it rests me. I want to get this burden off, to change the current of my thoughts. A hearty laugh relaxes me. And I seem better able after it to bear my cross." This, in fact, was Lincoln's own defense of his theatergoing although its context has been changed. Throughout the program, actual quotes and genuine historic incidents are used, though with a certain amount of dramatic license.

After Lincoln enters his box, the C.B.S. broadcast is switched to an adjoining box where Daly keeps up a running commentary on the crowd, Mrs. Lincoln's dress and the play, "Our American Cousin." In the background—a very neat and difficult bit of production—the play itself can be heard. Suddenly a muffled shot booms through the microphone.

"What was that?" mutters Daly. "There's no shot in the play. One moment. Major Rathbone is struggling with a man in the President's box—a man who is stabbing wildly at him with a knife. Now his attacker has leapt over the railing. He's on the stage. . ." Here everything dissolves into total confusion as the crowd and the announcer try to understand what is happening. Daly sticks with the story until the President is carried across the street to the Petersen home. The broadcast then switches back to the C.B.S. newsroom.

"This is Quincy Howe." It's the nervous but quiet voice of the professional newscaster. The trick of using veteran newsmen, who have learned to face any disaster with dry, unharried competence, adds immeasurably to the authenticity of the program. "John Daly has just announced that an attempt has been made on the life of Abraham Lincoln at Ford's Theater. The suddenness with which this tragi. . . . I have just been handed a bulletin. Secretary of State Seward has been attacked. A man entered the Seward house on Lafayette Square in Washington tonight. He overpowered resistance, gained entrance to the Secretary's bedroom and slashed at Mr. Seward with a knife."

By mixing well known history with these not-so-well known incidents the program packs a genuine wallop. "All Washington is in a state of panic," says another C.B.S. newsman. "There are wild rumors that the entire Cabinet has been murdered." There were such rumors too.

A few moments later the broadcast switches back to the front of the Petersen home where Daly interviews Secretary of the Navy Gideon Welles and Lincoln's secretary, John Hay, as they leave the death chamber. Hay relates the famed story of Lincoln's own dream which foretold his death in office. From there the broadcast switches overseas to pick up expressions of sympathy from Queen Victoria, a French student and Leo Tolstoy. The broadcast ends when Secretary of War Stanton announces the death of the President with his famed words: "Now he belongs to the ages."

Right now C.B.S. is shopping around for a sponsor for the show and I hope they find one. Besides providing a painless history lesson, it's an exciting program.

Forestry Film Being Shown In County

"Trees for Tomorrow," a sound film dramatizing the new era of forest management in America, was shown under the auspices of the Department of States Forests and Parks, for the Lonaconing Parent-Teacher Association yesterday.

The picture, which is descriptive of today's forestry practices for use and conservation of our forests, was made in the heart of the timber country and is narrated by Harry von Zell. It shows how to properly harvest a timber crop so as to provide for constant replacement of the trees through leaving seed sources or by planting seedlings. Up-to-date methods of spotting forest fires, proper and adequate means of forest protection and fire fighting are shown in the film.

"Trees for Tomorrow" depicts the uses made of America's forests ever since the days of the first colonists, up to and including the many tried and new uses of wood and wood fibers. Methods of manufacturing forest products including lumber, paper, plywood, cellophane, plastics, and rayon for clothing are informatively presented.

The movie will also be shown this week at the Midland, LaVale, and Corriganville schools.

Scouts Will Meet

This evening at 6:30 o'clock the Boy Scouts of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church will hold a pre-investiture ceremony in the assembly room of the school. Following the Novena prayers in church the Scouts of the parish will receive their Scout Charter and the new Scouts will get membership certificates. The Boy Scouts from St. Mary's parish will be guests of the Scouts of SS. Peter and Paul Church.

Dorothy Maguire To Be Heard In Health Drama

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 21.—Dorothy McGuire of Stage and screen is to do some radio acting Tuesday night for CBS at 10. The reason is the drama "Lantern in the Dark," a documentary treating on public health nursing. It deals with the career of Nurse Elsie Scott in San Juan county, Washington.

The Boston Symphony orchestra is concluding its weekly concerts on ABC at 8:30, to be replaced the following week by another series of "pops" programs. In the closing broadcast, the orchestra will have the cooperation of the Harvard Glee club and the Radcliffe choral society for the presentation of Brahms' "A German Requiem." It will take up all of the hour save for the regular announcements.

The American Forum on ABC at 9:30 is asking "Should congress pass new labor laws?" For the answers it is calling on a panel made up of two members of the house and speakers for the AFL and the CIO.

The Godfrey—Arthur—is all set for a four-weeks vacation. That means his Talent Scouts at 9:30 on CBS also will take a rest after Tuesday's broadcast for the same length of time. When it comes back it will be at a new time a half-hour earlier . . . Bob Hope is borrowing both Martha Tilton of the songs and Herbert Marshall of the Man Called X for his NBC guest department at 10.

The weekly United Nations program on NBC at 11:30 is to have a dramatic portrayal of "The World Narcotics Problem."

Radio in Review

By JOHN CROSBY

A New Slant On History

The Columbia Broadcasting System, which is constantly flirting with different ways to present news, has come up with a novel experiment for reviving some of the world's top news stories of bygone years. Entitled "C.B.S. Was There," a title I don't entirely approve of, the program presents history as a news story covered the same way the network would cover any topflight story.

John Crosby

One of the audition recordings — none of these has been on the air yet — is the story of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. The broadcast opens with a description of the crowd in front of Ford's Theater in Washington on the night of April 14, 1865. As a matter of fact, this event might very well have been covered by a radio network if there had been any then since, completely apart from its tragic ending, Lincoln's attendance at the theater was quite an occasion. He had gone to the theater only once before as President and had come in for a good deal of criticism at the time from bluenoses who considered the theater a scandalous frivolity.

This fact is cunningly woven into the broadcast when John Daly—C.B.S. uses its regular newsmen on the show—interviews the President as he steps from his carriage and asks him to comment on this criticism.

"Some think I do wrong to go to the opera and the theater," replied Lincoln. "But it rests me. I want to get this burden off, to change the current of my thoughts. A hearty laugh relaxes me. And I seem better able after it to bear my cross." This, in fact, was Lincoln's own defense of his theatergoing although its context has been changed. Throughout the program, actual quotes and genuine historic incidents are used, though with a certain amount of dramatic license.

After Lincoln enters his box, the C.B.S. broadcast is switched to an adjoining box where Daly keeps up a running commentary on the crowd, Mrs. Lincoln's dress and the play, "Our American Cousin." In the background—a very neat and difficult bit of production—the play itself can be heard. Suddenly a muffled shot booms through the microphone.

"What was that?" mutters Daly. "There's no shot in the play. One moment. Major Rathbone is struggling with a man in the President's box—a man who is stabbing wildly at him with a knife. Now his attacker has leapt over the railing. He's on the stage. . ." Here everything dissolves into total confusion as the crowd and the announcer try to understand what is happening. Daly sticks with the story until the President is carried across the street to the Petersen home. The broadcast then switches back to the C.B.S. newsroom.

"This is Quincy Howe." It's the nervous but quiet voice of the professional newscaster. The trick of using veteran newsmen, who have learned to face any disaster with dry, unharried competence, adds immeasurably to the authenticity of the program. "John Daly has just announced that an attempt has been made on the life of Abraham Lincoln at Ford's Theater. The suddenness with which this tragi. . . . I have just been handed a bulletin. Secretary of State Seward has been attacked. A man entered the Seward house on Lafayette Square in Washington tonight. He overpowered resistance, gained entrance to the Secretary's bedroom and slashed at Mr. Seward with a knife."

By mixing well known history with these not-so-well known incidents the program packs a genuine wallop. "All Washington is in a state of panic," says another C.B.S. newsman. "There are wild rumors that the entire Cabinet has been murdered." There were such rumors too.

A few moments later the broadcast switches back to the front of the Petersen home where Daly interviews Secretary of the Navy Gideon Welles and Lincoln's secretary, John Hay, as they leave the death chamber. Hay relates the famed story of Lincoln's own dream which foretold his death in office. From there the broadcast switches overseas to pick up expressions of sympathy from Queen Victoria, a French student and Leo Tolstoy. The broadcast ends when Secretary of War Stanton announces the death of the President with his famed words: "Now he belongs to the ages."

Right now C.B.S. is shopping around for a sponsor for the show and I hope they find one. Besides providing a painless history lesson, it's an exciting program.

Advice To The Lovelorn

How Do You Know When You're In Love? Here's Preliminary Test

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

In most cases where two young people are truly "in love" with each other, they feel as though they hadn't a care in the world. Life is just one rose-colored hour after another, and anyone reckless enough to suggest that it might not always be that way, that occasion might even arise, in years to come, when each would think the other a great deal less than perfect, would be written off as a complete idiot.

That is one big reason why I view with considerable skepticism the many letters that come to me, mostly from teen-agers and slightly older young people, which begin in some such way as this: "I am deeply in love with this fellow, and he says he feels the same way about me. But——." And I don't have to go beyond the "but" to know that the writer of the letter is not "in love" at all but is simply using the words to express anything from infatuation with the other person's blue eyes and smooth line to a very real admiration—but scarcely anything warmer—for certain qualities in the young man or woman that instinctively attract those about them.

For the "but" means that there are doubts and reservations in the mind of the one using the word; that in the next sentence he or she will go on to say: "My problem is this." And doubts and reservations and problems simply do not arise in those first ecstatic days of being "in love." Everything is clear sailing when each of two young people thinks the other is the most wonderful person in the world.

Don't misunderstand me, now. Nothing would be sillier than to say that people in love don't have problems, and don't sometimes wonder if it wouldn't have been better if they had never seen each other. But that type of situation rarely arises until after marriage, after the first thrills have worn off and a husband and wife, however much they may love each other realize that the person they've married is just another human being, with all a human being's faults and frailties. In the days of courtship and engagement, neither party to the happy goings-on can conceive of life ever being anything but one long joyride, as long as the two of them are together.

All this is why I am always particularly pleased when a teen-age has the good sense to stop and consider whether the emotion felt at the moment for a member of the opposite sex is indeed love itself. As for instance, the one who wrote me this brief-and-to-the-point letter recently:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I am a girl 16 years old and I like a boy very much, but do not know whether I love him or not. Can you please tell me when or how you know when you are in love?

"C.B."

So, to "C.B." I would say, first, that I'm delighted she is wise enough to think there might at least be a qustion as to whether or not she is actually "in love." And, second, I would say that the fact that she's only 16 is one excellent reason for believing that what she feels for this boy is not love, but an attraction likely to pass and be forgotten in not too long a time. For not one 16-year-old in a thousand—and I'm being deliberately conservative in my figures—is capable of real love, which is a composite of more things than the teen-ager ever stops to think about when she "falls for" a boy.

To know when you are actually in lave, "C.B.," is to realize fully this composite nature of the emotion, and to find that your heart and mind can O.K. each of the items that together compose it.

Among these items are such questions as these: "Do you and this other person like the same sort of people?" "Are the things that you like about him fundamental qualities, like friendliness, loyalty, sincerity, etc., or superficial ones like good looks, a socially pleasant manner, an entertaining line?" "Have you many of the same sort of interests so that you will always be able to do things together companionably?" "Do you agree on what is and what is not important in life, or haven't you bothered to find out?" "Could you depend upon him in any emergency?" "Does his attitude toward you make you always feel perfectly happy and secure?"

These are only a few of the things, "C.B." to which you should be able to answer "Yes" with certainty before deciding that you are definitely in love. But they're enough to begin on.

So, to "C.B." I would say, first, that I'm delighted she is wise enough to think there might at least be a qustion as to whether or not she is actually "in love." And, second, I would say that the fact that she's only 16 is one excellent reason for believing that what she feels for this boy is not love, but an attraction likely to pass and be forgotten in not too long a time. For not one 16-year-old in a thousand—and I'm being deliberately conservative in my figures—is capable of real love, which is a composite of more things than the teen-ager ever stops to think about when she "falls for" a boy.

To know when you are actually in lave, "C.B.," is to realize fully this composite nature of the emotion, and to find that your heart and mind can O.K. each of the items that together compose it.

Among these items are such questions as these: "Do you and this other person like the same sort of people?" "Are the things that you like about him fundamental qualities, like friendliness, loyalty, sincerity, etc., or superficial ones like good looks, a socially pleasant manner, an entertaining line?" "Have you many of the same sort of interests so that you will always be able to do things together companionably?" "Do you agree on what is and what is not important in life, or haven't you bothered to find out?" "Could you depend upon him in any emergency?" "Does his attitude toward you make you always feel perfectly happy and secure?"

These are only a few of the things, "C.B." to which you should be able to answer "Yes" with certainty before deciding that you are definitely in love. But they're enough to begin on.

Way Of The Economizer In U. S. Congress Is Hard

The economizer isn't promoting special privileges for anyone, so nobody much applauds him. He is just trying to save money for the taxpayers, who aren't organized to support him. His way is hard.

The House recently appropriated $32,500,000 to run the United States Customs Bureau in the next fiscal year. That isn't actually a reduction. Its $3,100,000 more than Congress voted the bureau for the current year. But it's $3,500,000 less than the bureau asked for. So what happened? Before the Senate had acted on the appropriation, three months before the end of the current fiscal year, Customs Commissioner Johnson sent dismissal notices to 1340 of the bureau's 1605 port-patrol officers and 236 of its 351 border inspectors.

In the face of an increased appropriation that seems a drastic reduction of employment, and is hardly justified. We think it is significant that the firings were only in those two categories and nowhere else among the bureau's total 8847 employes. And doubly significant that no dismissal notice was sent to any of the 217 employes in the headquarters at Washington, where people have no vote and no representation in Congress.

The political effect of the dismissal notices was immediate and loud. Collectors and other employes in many ports hustled up protests from Chambers of Commerce, importing firms, relatives and friends. Senators were bombarded with telegrams and letters saying that the reduction of customs personnel would bring on a wave of smuggling and dope-running, wreck our foreign trade and increase the difficulties of foreign travel.

It is to be hoped the Senate won't be stampeded by this political pressure. The taxpayers want the Customs Bureau to have all the employes it needs to do its job effectively—but no more. With $3,100,000 more than it has this year, it would seem, the bureau should be able to pay a force adequate to police the ports, patrol the borders and check the imports.

We believe the Senate should conduct a real investigation of the blatant propaganda and lobby activities by Customs Bureau officials. The burden of proof that more money is needed is on the bureau. It is not up to Congress to prove that this bureau, or any other, shouldn't have all the money it wants.

Korea May Become Subject Of Showdown With Russia

General MacArthur's announcement that Korea is well advanced toward self-rule and statements in the Chinese press that Korea could be independent within three months focus attention on a little country which could easily become one of the world's trouble spots.

Korea was on America's side during the war. Her people are fierce individualists, who have earned the name of "the Irish of the Orient." They resent American and Russian occupation almost equally.

The United States has 50,000 troops in South Korea, facing 200,000 Russian soldiers across an arbitrary boundary. There is no indication that the Russians intend to get out.

Meanwhile Korea's 28,500,000 people suffer. Their complementary economy of an industrial and mining area, held by Russia, and an agricultural area, held by the United States. There is hardly any trade or communication between the two zones. Hence the one lacks food, while the other needs minerals, power, timber and other products.

Under this set-up the United States has been pouring $140,000,000 a year into South Korea (in addition to occupation costs) without improving the situation. A new program is to be presented to Congress, as soon as it passes on aid to Greece and Turkey, which would cost the American taxpayers still more, but which, it is argued, would enable Koreans to become self-supporting in a few years.

Thus Korea, like Germany and Greece, is to become a laboratory to test whether American or Russian methods work better.

In the meantime, Secretary Marshall's request for meeting with Russia to consider establishment of an independent, sovereign Korean nation, involves much more than that. In joining the problems of Korea's peculiar status to the current German and Austrian negotiations, the Secretary clearly is pushing for a complete understanding with the Soviet Union.

If hope for agreement on Germany and Austria is as slight as the present Moscow stalemate indicates, a meeting of minds on the Korean question is unlikely. But we must find out, and soon, whether it is possible to settle any basic issue with Russia. And Korea's case is an ideal subject for a showdown.

Four governments are involved in the occupation of Germany, but only the United States and Russia are in Korea. We can press for an understanding there unhampered by side issues. Then, too, in Korea we are dealing with a liberated nation and a nominal ally whose integrity the United States and Russia are committed to respect by voluntary mutual agreement.

If we can't come to terms on Korea, we will know that it's futile to renew efforts for understanding on the German and Austrian problems. Then the impotent Potsdam agreement can be scrapped, clearing the way for a new approach to the occupation situation as a whole.

Medicine Or Surgery?

Charles De Gaulle's emergence from political eclipse is the big talk in London as well as in Paris. The British papers want to know what the general's intentions are in returning to public life and some of them doubt whether his plans embrace any constitutional procedure.

The incapacity of the uneasy coalition government of Paul Ramadier to put French affairs in order has made Frenchmen ready listeners to their erstwhile saviour who has embarked on a speaking campaign against the constitution of the Fourth Republic. In urging revision of the constitution, De Gaulle of course is exercising the right of any Frenchman, but his fellow countrymen are wondering whether he proposes to wait until the next elections in 1951 to accomplish his ends.

With France in delicate political health as a result of the gymnastics of the communists something akin to a coup is feared.

BLURRED VISION FROM NERVOUS SPASMS

THE blood vessels in the back of the eyes are subject to the same adversities as the capillaries, veins, and arteries elsewhere. They are affected by many organic changes as in arteriosclerosis and are obstructed occasionally by a clot coming from a distant source.

The nervous system likewise plays a role and can influence the amount of circulation flowing thru the structures. It is fortunate that such effects are experienced rarely, otherwise many of us would suffer from visual disorders whenever we became upset or excited. On the other hand, physicians encounter individuals in whom periodic blackouts arise whenever they are worried or disturbed emotionally. Actual blindness may not follow; the sensation is better described as haziness lasting, at the maximum, 30 seconds.

The explanation is that the nervous system is overactive and evidence of spasm of the blood channels not only in the eyes but in different parts of the body will be exhibited. Coldness of the hands and feet and profuse sweating are common. Others have frequent bouts of indigestion, palpatation, or tremors. Now and then the abnormalities are observed only on becoming overtired, particularly after more smoking than usual.

Harrington told of a 25 year old seaman who was admitted to one of the naval hospitals wtih combat fatigue. The young man had been aboard a ship which had participated in four major sea battles, was hit twice by bombs, and no one occasion was set afire. As a civilian, he had never been jittery but under the continuing strain of war, with every call to duty, he began to tremble and felt overly alert. His cigaret consumption increased from 15 to 80 per day.

Subsequent to a night battle he noticed blurring of vision and, on returning to his quarters, near-by objects "appeared misty." After a few moments of rest, sight returned. This was the beginning of a series of similar episodes and after one engagement, he was found groping about the deck on hands and knees because he was unable to see. Again, the condition cleared after relaxation and when he was finally withdrawn from the environment of danger, there were no recurrences.

Temporary alterations in eyesight may also plague victims of Raynaud's disease and migraine headaches. In both maladies, the vessels are narrowed by nerve stimulation. The same can occur after damage to the eyes by a blow or overexposure to the sun.

In another phenomenon, central angiospastic retinopathy, blood pathways thruout the body are in a spastic state but the patient is aware of the condition only because of the optical symptoms. Vision is fogged and in some is so poor that for all practical purposes, blindness exists. One or both sides are involved and cold or excitement often aggravates the manifestations. The diagnosis is made by studying the eyes and examining the extremities to ascertain whether the circulation in these regions is similarly below par. Improvement in vision ensues when medicine capable of dilating the passageways are used.

SUGAR LEVEL

F. G. writes: What percentage of sugar must one have to be classed as a diabetic?

REPLY

There is no set amount, as even a trace may be indicative of the disease. On the other hand, sugar in the urine is not the only way to diagnose diabetes. The blood must be studied also and a glucose tolerance test is best for this purpose.

TICKLING

L. R. writes: For three months my throat has been tickling. I've been under a strain and two doctors have told me that this is a nervous cough. Is there an possibility of cancer?

REPLY

Nervousness can produce coughing and many of us have observed the phenomenon in speakers who hack a few times before warming up. If two physicians have examined your throat carefully, you need have no fear of cancer. Relieving your emotional conflict should bring improvement.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

If it's an apartment they're looking for, they're wasting their time. The same day they left a couple of Fiji Islanders docked at Los Angeles in a hollowed-out log and went tree hunting.

For a long time I'd felt the urge to get away from civilization. I'm getting tired of people. And I might add that that last sentence reads just as well backwards.

That couple said they were shoving off for distant lands to get away from big city noises. I can't agree. Los Angeles is so quiet you can hear a pedestrian drop.

But a person should never object to worry. It's good for you. You worry, develop wrinkles around your eyes, your face begins to sag, then you become a radio comedian, make your living telling jokes about it. Seriously, though, I can sympathize with them—wanting to get away from city noises. I went to see a picture the other night and I simply had to leave the theatre because of the noise.

There ought to be a law against snoring in the movies.

But I do want to wish that couple all the luck in the world. And I just hope they don't head for one of those islands formerly occupied by American troops.

I'm afraid that as soon as they land, one of those ferocious, primitive tribesmen would come running down to the beach yelling "Hiya goldbrick, I see you've got something mellow with you. Get a chick for me and let's start cooking."

Man Who Made Truman Lectures Him On Deserting FDR Liberalism; Big City Bosses Worried Over Truman's Middle-Of-Road Policy; Newsprint

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 21.—President Truman heard some blunt talk about "liberalism" from an unexpected quarter the other day. The man who preached the sermon on liberalism was none other than Ed Flynn, "boss of the Bronx" and the man who did the most, next to Bob Hannegan, to nominate Truman at Chicago.

Flynn, together with Democratic leaders from Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut called at the White House to discuss party political prospects with the Chief Executive, and barely had they been seated when Flynn cut loose. Democratic executive director Gael Sullivan, standing near the President, started the discussion by saying:

"Folks, this is our listening post for today. We want to hear your problems. Go ahead and tell us about them."

"The biggest problem the Democratic Party has," shot back New York's boss Flynn, "is staying liberal. Unless the Democratic Party remains liberal we're licked."

"That's just what we're doing, Ed, staying liberal," replied the gentleman whom Flynn helped make President of the United States.

"On some things we are," said Flynn, "but on others we're missing the boat. There's a growing tendency in the Administration to move over to dead center. This trend toward the center should be stopped. That's the Republican Party's spot. Dead center. And that's what the center is, 'dead'."

Truman politely said that he didn't notice any such trend.

"Well," replied Flynn, "we've got to get in there and pitch for more progressive legislation. We've got to fight harder for health, welfare, social insurance and education. We've got to do a lot more than we've done about housing too. We can't let Taft steal the play on that front either."

"Ed, I'm going down the line for every piece of legislation I believe in," Truman declared. "I stated our program of social legislation in my message to the Congress last January. In that message I wasn't just talking with my head, I was talking with my heart too."

Note—Next day, the House passed the tough GOP anti-labor bill with 93 Democrats voting with the Republicans.

Hague Speaks

Jersey City's Frank Hague, who also had a lot to do with nominating Truman, backed up Flynn. He too called for more liberalism in the party as an essential for re-election in '48. However, he wasn't as outspoken as the boss of the Bronx.

"We've just seen the enormous rise in the President's prestige nationally," said Hague. "But we must not be deceived by it. We're now in an era of good feeling. This is the very time we must work the hardest. If we don't we're liable to slip back into the rut."

Hague reported that the New Jersey outlook is dim for the Democrats unless a lot of hard work is done. He mentioned the reverses of the last campaign, urged his fellow politicians to push for a large vote next year.

Green Quotes Pearson

Rhode Island's Senator Theodore Francis Green observed that the growth of Truman's popularity is due to the fact that the President showed the country he could make decisions on his own. In order to remain popular, Green said, the President would have to continue making forthright decisions.

He warned the party against playing down Roosevelt too much, however, and pointed out that the country would be a long time forgetting that the Democratic Party was Roosevelt's Party.

"Don't forget," said the Senator from Rhode Island, "that the Republicans haven't dared repeal a single piece of Roosevelt legislation, or even attack it for that matter. This should show all of us how popular he still is and how strongly his memory favors us."

Green went on to cite a tendency in the Democratic Party to play down Roosevelt for fear of diminishing President Truman's stature.

"As Drew Pearson said, Mr. President," Green concluded, "you've got an opportunity to break precedent and make history by being the first great President to follow a great President. We're all sure you're doing just that.

Women's Vote

A rather sharp note was sounded by Connecticut National Committee Woman Mary Hausman, who urged action to retrieve the women's vote.

"Make no mistake about it," she said. "The women beat us last time. And they can do it aagin. It takes an awful lot of irritation to make millions of women carry their babies with them to the polls on Election Day to vote against an administration whose actions they disagree with. It will take a lot more to make them vote for us next time."

Although not asked to comment, Mayor Hague seemed to take this almost as personal criticism.

"Don't look at me," he said. "I'm for the women."

Canadian Dog Wags Wall Street

For a long time Canadians have complained that the Wall Street tail has wagged the Canadian financial dog. Canadian business, largely financed in Wall Street, was at the mercy of the big New York speculators.

But now Prime Minister Maurice Duplessie of Quebec has reversed this in an action which may affect American newspapers, and which already has had reverberations inside the Justice Department. Duplessie has threatened to withhold crown lands from newsprint production if Wall Street speculators tamper with the St. Lawrence Corporation, now supplying vitally needed newsprint to several large American dailies.

Despite the fact that newsprint is the lifeblood of American newspapers, the St. Lawrence Company is in the throes of a stockholders battle, featured by such a Wall Street buying siege that the Securities and Exchange Commission is lifting its eyebrows. Center of the speculative effort is the Van Alstyne, Noel, Co., of New York, previously suspended by the SEC for ten days for selling shares of Higgins boat in violation of the rules. Meanwhile, stockholders will battle it out at a meeting April 28.

Military Unification Bill Shares Spot Of Importance

By MARK SULLIVAN

To pick from the surging current of the day's news one comparatively unnoticed measure in Congress, the bill unifying the armed services; to call the public's attention to this at a time when the country is under anxious strain about matters of recognized momentousness—the labor legislation, the Greek loan and its implications, Moscow, the United Nations—is to assume that this military unification measure has comparable importance. Some competent persons who have examined the scope and provisions of the bill with much care believe it has this degree of importance.

The public generally thinks it is merely a measure to bring together the Army, Navy and Air force under one new cabinet member, to be known as Secretary of National Defense. Because the average citizen so interprets the bill, he pays little attention to it. It has seemed a matter about which only military experts are competent to decide. To some degree this point of view exists in Congress. In hearings on this bill before the Armed Forces Committee of the Senate, twice recently, only 4 Senators of the 13 on the committee were present.

But the unification bill deals with much more than the details of merging the services. The objectives of that are simple—greater strength for the armed forces through a single unified command, and greater efficiency and economy through a centralized authority over spending.

Some Revision Called For

But accompanying this are some provisions which touch the status and functions of the military in time of both war and peace. Some revision in this field is called for by experience in the recent war and especially in the period of preparedness preceding. It is necessary to review the status of the military in a modern government and a modern society, and in a change world.

But any step in the relation of the military to government and to civilian society must take account of a deep-seated American tradition. This tradition includes much isolation of the military from other areas of society, and strict subordination of the military to civilian authority and civilian interests. As an example of the spirit of this tradition, no military man has ever been made Secretary of War, always a civilian has commanded the military. In this same spirit there has always been reluctance to make a military man President, though this has been done, conspicuously, in the case of General Grant.

To preserve the American tradition, in the present state of the world, may be difficult. We might have to abandon a part of it, with our eyes open, if we conclude that universal military service is necessary.

What is needed in the present bill is that, in providing for changes which are made necessary by modern conditions, the language used shall be carefully chosen to safeguard the American tradition to the utmost.

The pending bill, taking account of the immense part played in modern war by industry, sets up a National Security Resources Board, to function in skeleton form permanently, and in wartime fully. This is a civilian board. Parallel with it is another, representing the military, the Munitions Board which is permanent. The relation between the civilian board and the military one is important. The American tradition would say that the civilian board should have superiority of decision in the field of civilian industry and in the process of industrial mobilization for war. During the recent war there was prolonged controversy between the armed forces and the civilian War Production Board headed by Donald Nelson. Mr. Nelson took the view that the military should be restricted to stating their requirements, that procurement of them should be left to the civilian board.

The pending bill sets up a National Security Council, of which the expressed purpose is "to advise the President with respect to the integration of foreign and military policies". This is obviously a function of the highest importance; who shall compose it, correspondingly so. In the pending bill as it now stands, the Council would have 6 members. Four of the 6 are heads of the military—the Secretary of National Defense and his subordinates, the Secretaries of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force. The fifth is the chairman of the National Security Resources Board. The sixth is the Secretary of State. (The bill provides that the President may appoint additional members in his discretion.)

In a council whose function has to do with "integration of foreign and military policies", the preponderance of 4 members who are spokesmen for the military out of a total of 6 seems marked. So does the absence of any representatives from Congress. Conformance to the American tradition would suggest that the language of the bill be so written as as to insure adequate representation from Congress. The chairmen of the Senate and House Foreign Affairs Committees and the ranking minority members of them, would seem obvious.

President Truman's Figuring Puzzles Nation's Taxpayers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 21—Is the Truman administration engaged in a political juggling maneuver and is it deliberately withholding information and misleading the American people on the subject of the government's finances?

This is a grave question to ask. But the President's revelation over the week-end that the Administration has made a "mistake" of $3,500,000,000 within three and a half months presents either a blunder of the first magnitude or a piece of political manipulation that deserves nation-wide condemnation.

Why did the President on January 1st of this year say that the expenditures would be $2,250,000,000 more than he now says they will be for the year that ends less than 70 days hence?

Mr. Truman told the congress and the nation in January of this year that there would be a deficit of $2,300,000,000 by July 1, 1947. Expert statisticians of the time recognized the figure as a phoney. It was obvious that the Administration had not only overestimated expenses but had underestimated receipts. Was this done for the purpose of scaring the Republican Congress so it would not attempt to balance the budget and so that the spending which has flourished under the New Deal would continue?

The President came out flatly against tax reduction in his message last January. Did he hope by talking about a $2,300,0000,000 deficit to build public opinion against the Republicans so they would abandon their program of tax reduction this year, which would mean that the Democrats could propose it in January 1948 as something to their own advantage in the presidential campaign year?

Public Entitled To Know

The public is entitled to know what was behind the "mistakes" in the administration's figuring. It is a lame excuse that business has proved more profitable than expected or that high prices have contributed to the high receipts. If the President has any good estimating staff around him he would know in January what kind of a business year 1946 was for taxes in many industries, especially in the consumer field. But even if it be conceded that receipts from 1946 and the first half of 1947 were difficult to estimate and that an error of $2,300,000,000 in receipts should be passed by now as inconsequential, the fact remains that the President on the other hand did not indicate in his January 1947 budget message that an economy of $1,250,000,000 could or would be made on the expense side before July 1 of this year. He was wrong just $3,550,000,000—but in Washington, billions seem to be trifles.

What really brought the economies? The country is indebted to Representative John Taber, Republican chairman of the House Appropriations committee and his colleagues and to the Republicans on the House Ways and Means committee who insisted that expenses could be cut and taxes reduced.

The psychological effect of insisting on budget cutting has been strong recently among the executive departments and boards and agencies. The knowledge that the Republicans on Capitol Hill were in earnest reached the ears of many a bureaucrat and the savings started to be made. Mr. Truman finds himself in the awkward position of not knowing in January that by April he could save $1,250,000,000.

The Republicans in the House have been under constant attack and ridicule by the New Deal spenders and their spokesmen in the press. To talk of cutting the budget and reducing taxes has been regarded as a "reactionary" viewpoint—so accustomed for the last 14 years has official Washington become to the idea that "liberalism" means being liberal with the people's money and that it can be issued in limitless amounts by turning on the printing presses.

Even when it is reluctantly and grudgingly admitted now that the 1947 budget will bring on July 1, 1947, a surplus of $1,250,000,000, the President frowns on tax reduction for this year and shifts the emphasis to debt reduction, because, as he said in a recent political statement, he plans tax reduction "at the proper time"—which, of course, means an election year.

The American people cannot long repose confidence in an Administration which withholds the true figures on their finances for political purposes. The $3,550,000,000 error tends to confirm a suspicion that all along the Treasury experts know the figures but, like the reports of the economic advisers, these are being doctored for political purposes.

THESE DAYS

Federal Budgeteering

SOME of the expenditures of the federal government are beyond understanding. I take a group of regulatory agencies which produces no goods and operates no utilities. Except that the Civil Aeronautics Administration now takes care of the Federal Aid Airport Program, it is supervisory. It operates no airlines, no airports.

The agencies in question are the Interstate Commerce Commission, the oldest regulatory agency in our government, in charge of railroads, busses, etc.; the Federal Communications Commission, in charge of radio, telegraph and telephone; and the three aviation agencies, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Civil Aeronautics Board and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. Why it is necessary to have these three aviation agencies, it is hard to understand. It seems to me, a layman but also a taxpayer, that one agency can do all of it. Certainly if the cost of the three agencies are totalled, it seems extraordinarily high.

Let's look at the figures:

	Appropriation in Dollars
Year	ICC	FCC	Total Aviation
1933	$ 5,190,181	$ 671,924	$ 915,000
1934	5,431,119	666,885	957,000
1935	5,850,667	2,755,000	1,345,000
1936	8,124,573	1,525,000	1,178,000
1937	8,429,848	2,172,000	2,545,000
1938	7,939,500	1,762,000	1,734,000
1939	8,976,000	1,752,820	17,895,480
1940	8,930,000	2,038,175	25,605,000
1941	9,058,786	4,126,340	115,935,934
1942	9,322,750	5,068,729	245,817,687
1943	9,504,192	7,777,135	337,327,725
1944	8,912,000	7,609,914	110,578,890
1945	9,194,825	8,371,700	82,748,701
1946	8,119,338	5,489,900	78,804,000
1947	9,621,000	5,585,000	153,542,720
1948	11,898,000	7,300,000	142,202,000

Aviation controls and activities during the war years cost a great deal, but why the jump from nearly $18,000,000 in 1939 to nearly $83,000,000 in 1945 requires explanation. What consumed that much money in 1945 when the war was over? How much of this is excessive payroll? How much of it is administrative waste?

The outcry against economy in federal expenditures revolves about the idea that every saving will eliminate some essential service of government. The question then arises as to what is essential. The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, which plans to expend $36,360,000 in 1948, exists to "supervise and direct scientific study of the problems of flight . . ." It was created during World War I (on March 3, 1915) when aviation was in its infancy. It is now advisory to the War and Navy Departments, the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the aviation industry. It is principally a scientific aid to aviation. The question is, why must it be a separate organization with an expensive overhead?

The Civil Aeronautics Board costs very little, an estimated $3,380,000 for 1948, and it is supposed to run commercial aviation as the ICC runs railroads and the FCC runs radio. So what does the Civil Aeronautics Administration, which wants $102,462,000 in 1948, do? It is within the Department of Commerce and it seems to do about everything that the other two agencies do, except a little more. This agency costs a lot because of its program of airport aid, but why did it spend $51,000,000 in 1946 before it got into that kind of business?

At any rate, here goes a lot of our millions and I wonder if Senator Byrd has discovered whether every dollar spent is a dollar earned.

Assets

Most of us think of Assets in terms of possessions. And those of the fleeting, material sort. But these Assets are actually the least in value. They have no spiritual cast. The greatest of all Assets are —friends.

Even a friendly and loyal dog has often proved to be an invaluable Asset—but the touch of a friendly human hand, an understanding heart, and a mind schooled in patience, strife, sorrow, and disappointment, a friend "without capitulation," as Stevenson once wrote, far exceeds all other Assets in this world.

A rich man dies and the newspapers list his Assets, and often the names of those to whom he has distributed these Assets, but if such a one has left little else, he has died poor indeed. When a man like Will Rogers, for example, leaves this earth, there is left a void in millions of lives who loved him for himself alone, regardless of all other Assets. It is a wonderful thing to die love rich! With something of you alive in a multitude of friends. That is an Asset that never melts away.

The intangible Assets are what make of character, and of life, their real wealth. The great writer, artist, scientist, pioneer, always leave these intangible Assets behind. Like a stream of never ending light. Can anyone appraise the value of a great thought, or of the influence of a great song or painting? What were the other Assets that Shakespeare left beyond those in his immortal writings? How much was Raphael worth?

Nature is full of Assets that are the inheritance of us all. Beauty is not bought by the pound in Nature's realm. It's free by the carload—if appreciated! No genuine friend can ever be bought. Friends are earned, and are the most prized by those who have little in material possessions.

Napoleon conquered nearly all of Europe—but he died almost friendless, exiled upon a desolate island. God endowed him with marvelous natural Assets—but the blood and tears of millions wiped them out!

Way Of The Economizer In U. S. Congress Is Hard

The economizer isn't promoting special privileges for anyone, so nobody much applauds him. He is just trying to save money for the taxpayers, who aren't organized to support him. His way is hard.

The House recently appropriated $32,500,000 to run the United States Customs Bureau in the next fiscal year. That isn't actually a reduction. Its $3,100,000 more than Congress voted the bureau for the current year. But it's $3,500,000 less than the bureau asked for. So what happened? Before the Senate had acted on the appropriation, three months before the end of the current fiscal year, Customs Commissioner Johnson sent dismissal notices to 1340 of the bureau's 1605 port-patrol officers and 236 of its 351 border inspectors.

In the face of an increased appropriation that seems a drastic reduction of employment, and is hardly justified. We think it is significant that the firings were only in those two categories and nowhere else among the bureau's total 8847 employes. And doubly significant that no dismissal notice was sent to any of the 217 employes in the headquarters at Washington, where people have no vote and no representation in Congress.

The political effect of the dismissal notices was immediate and loud. Collectors and other employes in many ports hustled up protests from Chambers of Commerce, importing firms, relatives and friends. Senators were bombarded with telegrams and letters saying that the reduction of customs personnel would bring on a wave of smuggling and dope-running, wreck our foreign trade and increase the difficulties of foreign travel.

It is to be hoped the Senate won't be stampeded by this political pressure. The taxpayers want the Customs Bureau to have all the employes it needs to do its job effectively—but no more. With $3,100,000 more than it has this year, it would seem, the bureau should be able to pay a force adequate to police the ports, patrol the borders and check the imports.

We believe the Senate should conduct a real investigation of the blatant propaganda and lobby activities by Customs Bureau officials. The burden of proof that more money is needed is on the bureau. It is not up to Congress to prove that this bureau, or any other, shouldn't have all the money it wants.

Korea May Become Subject Of Showdown With Russia

General MacArthur's announcement that Korea is well advanced toward self-rule and statements in the Chinese press that Korea could be independent within three months focus attention on a little country which could easily become one of the world's trouble spots.

Korea was on America's side during the war. Her people are fierce individualists, who have earned the name of "the Irish of the Orient." They resent American and Russian occupation almost equally.

The United States has 50,000 troops in South Korea, facing 200,000 Russian soldiers across an arbitrary boundary. There is no indication that the Russians intend to get out.

Meanwhile Korea's 28,500,000 people suffer. Their complementary economy of an industrial and mining area, held by Russia, and an agricultural area, held by the United States. There is hardly any trade or communication between the two zones. Hence the one lacks food, while the other needs minerals, power, timber and other products.

Under this set-up the United States has been pouring $140,000,000 a year into South Korea (in addition to occupation costs) without improving the situation. A new program is to be presented to Congress, as soon as it passes on aid to Greece and Turkey, which would cost the American taxpayers still more, but which, it is argued, would enable Koreans to become self-supporting in a few years.

Thus Korea, like Germany and Greece, is to become a laboratory to test whether American or Russian methods work better.

In the meantime, Secretary Marshall's request for meeting with Russia to consider establishment of an independent, sovereign Korean nation, involves much more than that. In joining the problems of Korea's peculiar status to the current German and Austrian negotiations, the Secretary clearly is pushing for a complete understanding with the Soviet Union.

If hope for agreement on Germany and Austria is as slight as the present Moscow stalemate indicates, a meeting of minds on the Korean question is unlikely. But we must find out, and soon, whether it is possible to settle any basic issue with Russia. And Korea's case is an ideal subject for a showdown.

Four governments are involved in the occupation of Germany, but only the United States and Russia are in Korea. We can press for an understanding there unhampered by side issues. Then, too, in Korea we are dealing with a liberated nation and a nominal ally whose integrity the United States and Russia are committed to respect by voluntary mutual agreement.

If we can't come to terms on Korea, we will know that it's futile to renew efforts for understanding on the German and Austrian problems. Then the impotent Potsdam agreement can be scrapped, clearing the way for a new approach to the occupation situation as a whole.

Medicine Or Surgery?

Charles De Gaulle's emergence from political eclipse is the big talk in London as well as in Paris. The British papers want to know what the general's intentions are in returning to public life and some of them doubt whether his plans embrace any constitutional procedure.

The incapacity of the uneasy coalition government of Paul Ramadier to put French affairs in order has made Frenchmen ready listeners to their erstwhile saviour who has embarked on a speaking campaign against the constitution of the Fourth Republic. In urging revision of the constitution, De Gaulle of course is exercising the right of any Frenchman, but his fellow countrymen are wondering whether he proposes to wait until the next elections in 1951 to accomplish his ends.

With France in delicate political health as a result of the gymnastics of the communists something akin to a coup is feared.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

BLURRED VISION FROM NERVOUS SPASMS

THE blood vessels in the back of the eyes are subject to the same adversities as the capillaries, veins, and arteries elsewhere. They are affected by many organic changes as in arteriosclerosis and are obstructed occasionally by a clot coming from a distant source.

The nervous system likewise plays a role and can influence the amount of circulation flowing thru the structures. It is fortunate that such effects are experienced rarely, otherwise many of us would suffer from visual disorders whenever we became upset or excited. On the other hand, physicians encounter individuals in whom periodic blackouts arise whenever they are worried or disturbed emotionally. Actual blindness may not follow; the sensation is better described as haziness lasting, at the maximum, 30 seconds.

The explanation is that the nervous system is overactive and evidence of spasm of the blood channels not only in the eyes but in different parts of the body will be exhibited. Coldness of the hands and feet and profuse sweating are common. Others have frequent bouts of indigestion, palpatation, or tremors. Now and then the abnormalities are observed only on becoming overtired, particularly after more smoking than usual.

Harrington told of a 25 year old seaman who was admitted to one of the naval hospitals wtih combat fatigue. The young man had been aboard a ship which had participated in four major sea battles, was hit twice by bombs, and no one occasion was set afire. As a civilian, he had never been jittery but under the continuing strain of war, with every call to duty, he began to tremble and felt overly alert. His cigaret consumption increased from 15 to 80 per day.

Subsequent to a night battle he noticed blurring of vision and, on returning to his quarters, near-by objects "appeared misty." After a few moments of rest, sight returned. This was the beginning of a series of similar episodes and after one engagement, he was found groping about the deck on hands and knees because he was unable to see. Again, the condition cleared after relaxation and when he was finally withdrawn from the environment of danger, there were no recurrences.

Temporary alterations in eyesight may also plague victims of Raynaud's disease and migraine headaches. In both maladies, the vessels are narrowed by nerve stimulation. The same can occur after damage to the eyes by a blow or overexposure to the sun.

In another phenomenon, central angiospastic retinopathy, blood pathways thruout the body are in a spastic state but the patient is aware of the condition only because of the optical symptoms. Vision is fogged and in some is so poor that for all practical purposes, blindness exists. One or both sides are involved and cold or excitement often aggravates the manifestations. The diagnosis is made by studying the eyes and examining the extremities to ascertain whether the circulation in these regions is similarly below par. Improvement in vision ensues when medicine capable of dilating the passageways are used.

SUGAR LEVEL

F. G. writes: What percentage of sugar must one have to be classed as a diabetic?

REPLY

There is no set amount, as even a trace may be indicative of the disease. On the other hand, sugar in the urine is not the only way to diagnose diabetes. The blood must be studied also and a glucose tolerance test is best for this purpose.

TICKLING

L. R. writes: For three months my throat has been tickling. I've been under a strain and two doctors have told me that this is a nervous cough. Is there an possibility of cancer?

REPLY

Nervousness can produce coughing and many of us have observed the phenomenon in speakers who hack a few times before warming up. If two physicians have examined your throat carefully, you need have no fear of cancer. Relieving your emotional conflict should bring improvement.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

If it's an apartment they're looking for, they're wasting their time. The same day they left a couple of Fiji Islanders docked at Los Angeles in a hollowed-out log and went tree hunting.

For a long time I'd felt the urge to get away from civilization. I'm getting tired of people. And I might add that that last sentence reads just as well backwards.

That couple said they were shoving off for distant lands to get away from big city noises. I can't agree. Los Angeles is so quiet you can hear a pedestrian drop.

But a person should never object to worry. It's good for you. You worry, develop wrinkles around your eyes, your face begins to sag, then you become a radio comedian, make your living telling jokes about it. Seriously, though, I can sympathize with them—wanting to get away from city noises. I went to see a picture the other night and I simply had to leave the theatre because of the noise.

There ought to be a law against snoring in the movies.

But I do want to wish that couple all the luck in the world. And I just hope they don't head for one of those islands formerly occupied by American troops.

I'm afraid that as soon as they land, one of those ferocious, primitive tribesmen would come running down to the beach yelling "Hiya goldbrick, I see you've got something mellow with you. Get a chick for me and let's start cooking."

Man Who Made Truman Lectures Him On Deserting FDR Liberalism; Big City Bosses Worried Over Truman's Middle-Of-Road Policy; Newsprint

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 21.—President Truman heard some blunt talk about "liberalism" from an unexpected quarter the other day. The man who preached the sermon on liberalism was none other than Ed Flynn, "boss of the Bronx" and the man who did the most, next to Bob Hannegan, to nominate Truman at Chicago.

Flynn, together with Democratic leaders from Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut called at the White House to discuss party political prospects with the Chief Executive, and barely had they been seated when Flynn cut loose. Democratic executive director Gael Sullivan, standing near the President, started the discussion by saying:

"Folks, this is our listening post for today. We want to hear your problems. Go ahead and tell us about them."

"The biggest problem the Democratic Party has," shot back New York's boss Flynn, "is staying liberal. Unless the Democratic Party remains liberal we're licked."

"That's just what we're doing, Ed, staying liberal," replied the gentleman whom Flynn helped make President of the United States.

"On some things we are," said Flynn, "but on others we're missing the boat. There's a growing tendency in the Administration to move over to dead center. This trend toward the center should be stopped. That's the Republican Party's spot. Dead center. And that's what the center is, 'dead'."

Truman politely said that he didn't notice any such trend.

"Well," replied Flynn, "we've got to get in there and pitch for more progressive legislation. We've got to fight harder for health, welfare, social insurance and education. We've got to do a lot more than we've done about housing too. We can't let Taft steal the play on that front either."

"Ed, I'm going down the line for every piece of legislation I believe in," Truman declared. "I stated our program of social legislation in my message to the Congress last January. In that message I wasn't just talking with my head, I was talking with my heart too."

Note—Next day, the House passed the tough GOP anti-labor bill with 93 Democrats voting with the Republicans.

Hague Speaks

Jersey City's Frank Hague, who also had a lot to do with nominating Truman, backed up Flynn. He too called for more liberalism in the party as an essential for re-election in '48. However, he wasn't as outspoken as the boss of the Bronx.

"We've just seen the enormous rise in the President's prestige nationally," said Hague. "But we must not be deceived by it. We're now in an era of good feeling. This is the very time we must work the hardest. If we don't we're liable to slip back into the rut."

Hague reported that the New Jersey outlook is dim for the Democrats unless a lot of hard work is done. He mentioned the reverses of the last campaign, urged his fellow politicians to push for a large vote next year.

Green Quotes Pearson

Rhode Island's Senator Theodore Francis Green observed that the growth of Truman's popularity is due to the fact that the President showed the country he could make decisions on his own. In order to remain popular, Green said, the President would have to continue making forthright decisions.

He warned the party against playing down Roosevelt too much, however, and pointed out that the country would be a long time forgetting that the Democratic Party was Roosevelt's Party.

"Don't forget," said the Senator from Rhode Island, "that the Republicans haven't dared repeal a single piece of Roosevelt legislation, or even attack it for that matter. This should show all of us how popular he still is and how strongly his memory favors us."

Green went on to cite a tendency in the Democratic Party to play down Roosevelt for fear of diminishing President Truman's stature.

"As Drew Pearson said, Mr. President," Green concluded, "you've got an opportunity to break precedent and make history by being the first great President to follow a great President. We're all sure you're doing just that.

Women's Vote

A rather sharp note was sounded by Connecticut National Committee Woman Mary Hausman, who urged action to retrieve the women's vote.

"Make no mistake about it," she said. "The women beat us last time. And they can do it aagin. It takes an awful lot of irritation to make millions of women carry their babies with them to the polls on Election Day to vote against an administration whose actions they disagree with. It will take a lot more to make them vote for us next time."

Although not asked to comment, Mayor Hague seemed to take this almost as personal criticism.

"Don't look at me," he said. "I'm for the women."

Canadian Dog Wags Wall Street

For a long time Canadians have complained that the Wall Street tail has wagged the Canadian financial dog. Canadian business, largely financed in Wall Street, was at the mercy of the big New York speculators.

But now Prime Minister Maurice Duplessie of Quebec has reversed this in an action which may affect American newspapers, and which already has had reverberations inside the Justice Department. Duplessie has threatened to withhold crown lands from newsprint production if Wall Street speculators tamper with the St. Lawrence Corporation, now supplying vitally needed newsprint to several large American dailies.

Despite the fact that newsprint is the lifeblood of American newspapers, the St. Lawrence Company is in the throes of a stockholders battle, featured by such a Wall Street buying siege that the Securities and Exchange Commission is lifting its eyebrows. Center of the speculative effort is the Van Alstyne, Noel, Co., of New York, previously suspended by the SEC for ten days for selling shares of Higgins boat in violation of the rules. Meanwhile, stockholders will battle it out at a meeting April 28.

Military Unification Bill Shares Spot Of Importance

By MARK SULLIVAN

To pick from the surging current of the day's news one comparatively unnoticed measure in Congress, the bill unifying the armed services; to call the public's attention to this at a time when the country is under anxious strain about matters of recognized momentousness—the labor legislation, the Greek loan and its implications, Moscow, the United Nations—is to assume that this military unification measure has comparable importance. Some competent persons who have examined the scope and provisions of the bill with much care believe it has this degree of importance.

The public generally thinks it is merely a measure to bring together the Army, Navy and Air force under one new cabinet member, to be known as Secretary of National Defense. Because the average citizen so interprets the bill, he pays little attention to it. It has seemed a matter about which only military experts are competent to decide. To some degree this point of view exists in Congress. In hearings on this bill before the Armed Forces Committee of the Senate, twice recently, only 4 Senators of the 13 on the committee were present.

But the unification bill deals with much more than the details of merging the services. The objectives of that are simple—greater strength for the armed forces through a single unified command, and greater efficiency and economy through a centralized authority over spending.

Some Revision Called For

But accompanying this are some provisions which touch the status and functions of the military in time of both war and peace. Some revision in this field is called for by experience in the recent war and especially in the period of preparedness preceding. It is necessary to review the status of the military in a modern government and a modern society, and in a change world.

But any step in the relation of the military to government and to civilian society must take account of a deep-seated American tradition. This tradition includes much isolation of the military from other areas of society, and strict subordination of the military to civilian authority and civilian interests. As an example of the spirit of this tradition, no military man has ever been made Secretary of War, always a civilian has commanded the military. In this same spirit there has always been reluctance to make a military man President, though this has been done, conspicuously, in the case of General Grant.

To preserve the American tradition, in the present state of the world, may be difficult. We might have to abandon a part of it, with our eyes open, if we conclude that universal military service is necessary.

What is needed in the present bill is that, in providing for changes which are made necessary by modern conditions, the language used shall be carefully chosen to safeguard the American tradition to the utmost.

The pending bill, taking account of the immense part played in modern war by industry, sets up a National Security Resources Board, to function in skeleton form permanently, and in wartime fully. This is a civilian board. Parallel with it is another, representing the military, the Munitions Board which is permanent. The relation between the civilian board and the military one is important. The American tradition would say that the civilian board should have superiority of decision in the field of civilian industry and in the process of industrial mobilization for war. During the recent war there was prolonged controversy between the armed forces and the civilian War Production Board headed by Donald Nelson. Mr. Nelson took the view that the military should be restricted to stating their requirements, that procurement of them should be left to the civilian board.

The pending bill sets up a National Security Council, of which the expressed purpose is "to advise the President with respect to the integration of foreign and military policies". This is obviously a function of the highest importance; who shall compose it, correspondingly so. In the pending bill as it now stands, the Council would have 6 members. Four of the 6 are heads of the military—the Secretary of National Defense and his subordinates, the Secretaries of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force. The fifth is the chairman of the National Security Resources Board. The sixth is the Secretary of State. (The bill provides that the President may appoint additional members in his discretion.)

In a council whose function has to do with "integration of foreign and military policies", the preponderance of 4 members who are spokesmen for the military out of a total of 6 seems marked. So does the absence of any representatives from Congress. Conformance to the American tradition would suggest that the language of the bill be so written as as to insure adequate representation from Congress. The chairmen of the Senate and House Foreign Affairs Committees and the ranking minority members of them, would seem obvious.

President Truman's Figuring Puzzles Nation's Taxpayers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 21—Is the Truman administration engaged in a political juggling maneuver and is it deliberately withholding information and misleading the American people on the subject of the government's finances?

This is a grave question to ask. But the President's revelation over the week-end that the Administration has made a "mistake" of $3,500,000,000 within three and a half months presents either a blunder of the first magnitude or a piece of political manipulation that deserves nation-wide condemnation.

Why did the President on January 1st of this year say that the expenditures would be $2,250,000,000 more than he now says they will be for the year that ends less than 70 days hence?

Mr. Truman told the congress and the nation in January of this year that there would be a deficit of $2,300,000,000 by July 1, 1947. Expert statisticians of the time recognized the figure as a phoney. It was obvious that the Administration had not only overestimated expenses but had underestimated receipts. Was this done for the purpose of scaring the Republican Congress so it would not attempt to balance the budget and so that the spending which has flourished under the New Deal would continue?

The President came out flatly against tax reduction in his message last January. Did he hope by talking about a $2,300,0000,000 deficit to build public opinion against the Republicans so they would abandon their program of tax reduction this year, which would mean that the Democrats could propose it in January 1948 as something to their own advantage in the presidential campaign year?

Public Entitled To Know

The public is entitled to know what was behind the "mistakes" in the administration's figuring. It is a lame excuse that business has proved more profitable than expected or that high prices have contributed to the high receipts. If the President has any good estimating staff around him he would know in January what kind of a business year 1946 was for taxes in many industries, especially in the consumer field. But even if it be conceded that receipts from 1946 and the first half of 1947 were difficult to estimate and that an error of $2,300,000,000 in receipts should be passed by now as inconsequential, the fact remains that the President on the other hand did not indicate in his January 1947 budget message that an economy of $1,250,000,000 could or would be made on the expense side before July 1 of this year. He was wrong just $3,550,000,000—but in Washington, billions seem to be trifles.

What really brought the economies? The country is indebted to Representative John Taber, Republican chairman of the House Appropriations committee and his colleagues and to the Republicans on the House Ways and Means committee who insisted that expenses could be cut and taxes reduced.

The psychological effect of insisting on budget cutting has been strong recently among the executive departments and boards and agencies. The knowledge that the Republicans on Capitol Hill were in earnest reached the ears of many a bureaucrat and the savings started to be made. Mr. Truman finds himself in the awkward position of not knowing in January that by April he could save $1,250,000,000.

The Republicans in the House have been under constant attack and ridicule by the New Deal spenders and their spokesmen in the press. To talk of cutting the budget and reducing taxes has been regarded as a "reactionary" viewpoint—so accustomed for the last 14 years has official Washington become to the idea that "liberalism" means being liberal with the people's money and that it can be issued in limitless amounts by turning on the printing presses.

Even when it is reluctantly and grudgingly admitted now that the 1947 budget will bring on July 1, 1947, a surplus of $1,250,000,000, the President frowns on tax reduction for this year and shifts the emphasis to debt reduction, because, as he said in a recent political statement, he plans tax reduction "at the proper time"—which, of course, means an election year.

The American people cannot long repose confidence in an Administration which withholds the true figures on their finances for political purposes. The $3,550,000,000 error tends to confirm a suspicion that all along the Treasury experts know the figures but, like the reports of the economic advisers, these are being doctored for political purposes.

THESE DAYS

By George E. Sokolsky

Federal Budgeteering

SOME of the expenditures of the federal government are beyond understanding. I take a group of regulatory agencies which produces no goods and operates no utilities. Except that the Civil Aeronautics Administration now takes care of the Federal Aid Airport Program, it is supervisory. It operates no airlines, no airports.

The agencies in question are the Interstate Commerce Commission, the oldest regulatory agency in our government, in charge of railroads, busses, etc.; the Federal Communications Commission, in charge of radio, telegraph and telephone; and the three aviation agencies, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Civil Aeronautics Board and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. Why it is necessary to have these three aviation agencies, it is hard to understand. It seems to me, a layman but also a taxpayer, that one agency can do all of it. Certainly if the cost of the three agencies are totalled, it seems extraordinarily high.

Let's look at the figures:

	Appropriation in Dollars
Year	ICC	FCC	Total Aviation
1933	$ 5,190,181	$ 671,924	$ 915,000
1934	5,421,119	666,885	957,000
1935	5,850,667	2,755,000	1,245,000

Aviation controls and activities during the war years cost a great deal, but why the jump from nearly $18,000,000 in 1939 to nearly $83,000,000 in 1945 requires explanation. What consumed that much money in 1945 when the war was over? How much of this is excessive payroll? How much of it is administrative waste?

The outcry against economy in federal expenditures revolves about the idea that every saving will eliminate some essential service of government. The question then arises as to what is essential. The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, which plans to expend $36,360,000 in 1948, exists to "supervise and direct scientific study of the problems of flight . . ." It was created during World War I (on March 3, 1915) when aviation was in its infancy. It is now advisory to the War and Navy Departments, the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the aviation industry. It is principally a scientific aid to aviation. The question is, why must it be a separate organization with an expensive overhead?

The Civil Aeronautics Board costs very little, an estimated $3,380,000 for 1948, and it is supposed to run commercial aviation as the ICC runs railroads and the FCC runs radio. So what does the Civil Aeronautics Administration, which wants $102,462,000 in 1948, do? It is within the Department of Commerce and it seems to do about everything that the other two agencies do, except a little more. This agency costs a lot because of its program of airport aid, but why did it spend $51,000,000 in 1946 before it got into that kind of business?

At any rate, here goes a lot of our millions and I wonder if Senator Byrd has discovered whether every dollar spent is a dollar earned.

Assets

Most of us think of Assets in terms of possessions. And those of the fleeting, material sort. But these Assets are actually the least in value. They have no spiritual cast. The greatest of all Assets are—friends.

Even a friendly and loyal dog has often proved to be an invaluable Asset—but the touch of a friendly human hand, an understanding heart, and a mind schooled in patience, strife, sorrow, and disappointment, a friend "without capitulation," as Stevenson once wrote, far exceeds all other Assets in this world.

A rich man dies and the newspapers list his Assets, and often the names of those to whom he has distributed these Assets, but if such a one has left little else, he has died poor indeed. When a man like Will Rogers, for example, leaves this earth, there is left a void in millions of lives who loved him for himself alone, regardless of all other Assets. It is a wonderful thing to die love rich! With something of you alive in a multitude of friends. That is an Asset that never melts away.

The intangible Assets are what make of character, and of life, their real wealth. The great writer, artist, scientist, pioneer, always leave these intangible Assets behind. Like a stream of never ending light. Can anyone appraise the value of a great thought, or of the influence of a great song or painting? What were the other Assets that Shakespeare left beyond those in his immortal writings? How much was Raphael worth?

Nature is full of Assets that are the inheritance of us all. Beauty is not bought by the pound in Nature's realm. It's free by the carload—if appreciated! No genuine friend can ever be bought. Friends are earned, and are the most prized by those who have little in material possessions.

Napoleon conquered nearly all of Europe—but he died almost friendless, exiled upon a desolate island. God endowed him with marvelous natural Assets—but the blood and tears of millions wiped them out!

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Billy Rose

I wouldn't walk along Wall Street these days if I were you. It's raining brokers again, and a fellow might get hurt.

Speculators are once more pricing gas pipes standing four deep at the Wailing Wall, they're unloading stocks in companies which, in some cases, have more cash-per-share in the bank than the quoted price on the Exchange.

The Republicans, of course, have the solution — change the name of Boulder Dam to Hoover Dam.

I think I have a better solution. I got it after reading Leo Cherne, the last Kiplinger letter and Gypsy Mary's Dream Book.

In a word: G-L-A-M-O-U-R.

Look at the record. Hollywood has parlayed one little plot into the nation's fourth largest industry. How? By serving up their turkeys with cranberry sauce, by seating the customer on a pink cloud next to Hedy Lemarr for 55 cents.

If sex and hoopla sell everything else, why not stocks?

Here's how Wall Street can go about getting the woolly lamb back into the bilfold. In return for this advice, all Little Willie wants is the popcorn concession.

1st. Move! Wall Street has a river at one end and a graveyard at the other. That's convenient, but not very cheerful.

2nd. Revamp your offices—a little Technicolor, please. A few maternity flashes on the ticker tape might liven things up a bit. While the customers are sitting around waiting for Big Steel to go back to 200, how about flashing some movies on your stock boards? "Gone With the Wind" might be appropriate.

3rd. Change your advertisements. They're as dated as the high wheel bike. Even proofreaders fall asleep over them. For example:

"'AMALGAMATED GOULASH'—The Stock That Has Everything! Coming Soon to the Bijou (formerly E. F. Hutton, Inc.) Romance! Mystery! Dividends! Starring Mortimer Schnook, Our Vice President Who Thrilled You in 'Passion on the Curb.' Meaner Than Mason! Creepier Than Karloff! Doors Open 10:00 a. m. $13 a Share Until 1:00 o'clock. Children Under 12 Half Price. Free Bubble Gum."

Can't you see the orange and green neon signs?: "This Week Only —'TOM GIRDLER LOVES REPUBLIC STEEL!' Smoking in the Balcony." Or, "SEARS IS BACK AND ROEBUCK'S GOT HIM!' The Stock of the Week! Liberty Magazine Gives It Four Dollar Signs!"

If that doesn't get them, you might offer a double feature. Let's say, "SCHENLEY COMMON" and "BROMO SELTZER PREFERRED."

To glamourize your star investment brokers, get them to endorse nationally famous products. For instance: "'Gillkette Razors are kind to my throat,' signed, Jules Bache and Co."

Jewel robberies always get publicity. Plant a story about the theft of the diamond-studded coupon clipping scissors belonging to the Lehman Brothers. And don't forget the cheesecake. Remember what pin-up pictures have done for Marlene Dietrich. With every call for margin, send out a photograph of Benjamin Fairless sitting on a ship's rail with his legs crossed.

4th. Jazz up your prospectuses. Forget assets and liabilities. Pattern them after movie magazines. "The Real Me," by Thomas Lamont, would make a dandy article.

"How Kuhn Met Loeb" is something everybody wants to know.

"Bunny is Funny That Way"—show girl tells All about her romance with American Chicle executive.

"The Blacksnake Whip is Out"—Personnel Director at Ford explains new theory of employer-employee relations.

Use some candid camera shots of House of Morgan partners, snapped in slacks in the rumpus room. Or one of the duPonts at his favorite hobby—counting money.

"I Love a Girl Who Can Bake A Cake," can be signed by Charlie Wilson of General Electric, or any Charlie Wilson you happen to have around.

And, of course, that inevitable statement by Floyd Odlum, "All I want is an Old Sloop, an Old pair of sneakers, and an Old million dollars."

And a follow-up by Cravath, de Gersdorff, Swaine and Wood, "All we want is four Old sloops, four Old pairs of sneakers, etc."

That's the general idea, boys. You can take it from there.

When Exchange President Emit Schram's picture is on the top of Dixie Cups, you'll be back in the money. When swooning bobby-sockers tear the spats off bankers coming out of the Union League Club, Wall Street will again be Easy Street.

Whatever you do, don't forget Wednesday Night is Dish Night.

PERMIT IS SOUGHT FOR CONFECTIONERY

Raymond Parker, 512½ Hill Street, filed an appeal with the Board of Zoning Appeals yesterday for a permit to use one room in his home as a confectionery store to be operated on a part-time basis in the evenings.

His application for a permit was refused by City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer because the building is located in a Residential B zoning district. The two-story building is owned by Julius Abramson, Frostburg.

Lawrence Linder, owner, and Edwin D. Van Meter and James W. Murphy, lessees, secured a permit to build a one-story concrete block building at 701 Baltimore Avenue to service cars and for a display room. The 44 by 28-foot structure, which will have a built-up roof, will be built by James V. Cookerly at an estimated cost of $2,000.

Mrs. Pauline W. Brooks, Yonkers, N. Y., secured a permit to enclose a 5 by 10-foot porch at 216 Wallace Street with frame walls covered with Inselbrick. Work will be done by J. F. Jones at an estimated cost of $350.

Estel Wilson Reed, acting secretary-treasurer of the Mechanics Club of Cumberland, Inc., secured a permit to use the second story of a two-story brick building at 53 North Centre Street as club rooms. The building is owned by Albert E. Windish, LaVale.

When a person speaks into a microphone, a listener close to a radio half way around the world hears his words before they are heard by people across the room from the speaker.

If two cups of boiling water are stirred with a strip of metal, it is possible to tell which metal was used by examining the minute amount dissolved in the water by means of an electric eye.

Allegany Nurses Alumnae To Hold Benefit Dance

Affair Will Be May 5 At K Of C

The Allegany Hospital Nurses Alumnae Association will sponsor a semi-formal benefit dance on May 5. It will be held at the Knights of Columbus home, with Jay Van's Orchestra playing from 9 until 1 o'clock.

Part of the money received from the dance will be placed in the Nancy Leo Memorial Scholarship fund and the remainder will be used for entertaining the two graduating classes of the hospital.

The one class, of 14 young women, will graduate on May 29 and the commencement exercises for the other will be held early in September. There are 23 members in the second group.

Local merchants are serving as patrons of the dance.

The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, Mrs. Alice Nelson, Mrs. Helen Allen and Miss Opal Bonner.

Graduates Are Honored

Georgia's Academy of Beauty Culture entertained its latest group of graduates with a dinner party, Saturday night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Miss Nyna Fey addressed the group and Mrs. Georgia Robertson conferred the diplomas.

Honor guests were Darus Zehrbach, Elsie May Dais, Buena Davis, Helen Christine Wiseman, Evelyn Louise Lillard, Agnes Marie Highbaugh, Dorothy Louise Langford, Bonnie Grace DeLaney, Caroline Ann Powell, Alice Lancaster and Grace Youngblood.

The graduates will participate in the state board examination to be held here May 7 and 8, at the academy.

Allegany Nurses Alumnae To Hold Benefit Dance

Affair Will Be May 5 At K Of C

The Allegany Hospital Nurses Alumnae Association will sponsor a semi-formal benefit dance on May 5. It will be held at the Knights of Columbus home, with Jay Van's Orchestra playing from 9 until 1 o'clock.

Part of the money received from the dance will be placed in the Nancy Leo Memorial Scholarship fund and the remainder will be used for entertaining the two graduating classes of the hospital.

The one class, of 14 young women, will graduate on May 29 and the commencement exercises for the other will be held early in September. There are 23 members in the second group.

Local merchants are serving as patrons of the dance.

The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, Mrs. Alice Nelson, Mrs. Helen Allen and Miss Opal Bonner.

Graduates Are Honored

Georgia's Academy of Beauty Culture entertained its latest group of graduates with a dinner party, Saturday night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Miss Nyna Fey addressed the group and Mrs. Georgia Robertson conferred the diplomas.

Honor guests were Darus Zehrbach, Elsie May Dais, Buena Davis, Helen Christine Wiseman, Evelyn Louise Lillard, Agnes Marie Highbaugh, Dorothy Louise Langford, Bonnie Grace DeLaney, Caroline Ann Powell, Alice Lancaster and Grace Youngblood.

The graduates will participate in the state board examination to be held here May 7 and 8, at the academy.

County Will Be Asked To Transfer Bridge Ownership

City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer said yesterday he will request the Board of County Commissioners to transfer ownership of the bridge across the Chesapeake and Ohio canal in the South End to the city as the first step in a project to remove the bridge to eliminate a traffic hazard at the site.

Rizer reported to the Mayor and Council that the Department of Interior, which owns the canal property, has notified him that the department is willing to issue permission for removal of the bridge upon formal application by the city.

The city engineer explained, however, that the bridge was built by the county when the site was not located within city limits, and that ownership must be transferred to the city. He said he will prepare an estimate of the probable cost of removing the bridge for the approval of the Mayor and Council, after which the formal application can be made.

Rizer said pipes will be placed in the canal bed to allow water to flow through and that an earthen fill will be made. With the bridge removed the road will be virtually level and a dangerous traffic hazard eliminated.

Stipulations provided by the federal government include: Free flow of water must be maintained, the city must make the repairs, the city must agree to remove the replacement if the canal is restored, and the plan must be approved by the Interior Department.

Bernard L. Williams, of the Glenora section of Valley Road, appealed to the council again for water and was informed by Commissioner William J. Edwards that a further study of the problem will be made.

The Board of Zoning Appeals made a request for compensation for work of members in connection with the inspection of sites and holding hearings. Mayor Thomas S. Post said it would be considered when the budget is prepared.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble, safety inspector for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, told the Council of a traffic hazard at Virginia Avenue in the vicinity of the B. & O. Y.M.C.A. He said railroad workers have to cross the street after leaving buses and protest that some traffic control device be placed in operation. Commissioner William V. Keegan said a light is on order and will be installed as soon as possible.

Local Telephone

had been working for the past week.

In Baltimore, Schleunes' statement was confirmed by August B. Haneke, vice president and general manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

Meanwhile, the Maryland Telephone Traffic Union prepared yesterday for the distribution in Cumberland today of handbills stating "our side of the case."

While the operators who make up the traffic union have not been on strike, they have been honoring picket lines of other unions and last Tuesday filed a 30-day strike notice.

Got Mayor's Permission

The handbills, headed "Number Please? Thank You," are to be distributed at the busier street intersections in downtown Cumberland today, Williams reported. The operators also received permission from Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday to distribute the handbills from door to door.

Union heads here predicted last night that with the return to work of employes in Hagerstown and Frederick that additional supervisory personnel will be sent to Cumberland to assist local supervisory workers who have been handling the switchboards since the strike began 16 days ago. However, the company had "no comment" on this subject.

News Briefs

Earl Nonnemann, will be guest speaker at the Optimist Club dinner tomorrow at 6:15 p. m. in Central YMCA. He will talk on the subject "Rehabilitation of the Veteran". Following the meeting a special program, including games and refreshments has been arranged for a group of boys who will be guests of the club.

Dr. Moses Paulson, assistant professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, will give a talk on "Peptic Ulcer" at the monthly meeting of the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Society, to be held Friday at 9 p. m. in the classroom of the nurses' home at Memorial Hospital.

The Wiley Ford bridge across the Potomac River will be closed for about 30 days for repairs, and all West Virginia Route 28 traffic should use the Blue Bridge between Cumberland and Ridgeley, according to G. Bates Chaires, district engineer of the State Roads Commission. Work on the Wiley Ford bridge began yesterday.

Fifty appointments have been made for a two-day chest clinic to be held tomorrow and Thursday at City Hall under the auspices of the Cumberland Health Department. Dr. I. B. Lyon of the state sanitorium at Sabillasville will be in charge.

Squadron No. 13, Sons of the Legion will meet at the Legion Home Harrison Street, at 5:30 o'clock this evening, to participate in a parade being sponsored by the Redmen.

To Represent Maryland

Miss Mary Jean Rupert, a senior in Hagerstown High School, will represnt Maryland as the Good Citizenship Pilgrim to the Fifty-sixth Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Washington, May 19-23.

Miss Rupert placed first in the state-wide contest to choose a high school student who best demonstrated the four qualities of a good service and patriotism.

Clubs Were

have commented at length on the situation.

It was noted with considerable emphasis by several county officials that "any clubs which have been selling whisky, wine or beer on Sunday have been violating the law all the time."

Sunday Sales Illegal

There seemed to be general misunderstanding about this law throughout the county, it was explained, and some license holders and members of clubs were of the opinion that whisky, wine and beer could be sold legally by clubs after hours and on Sunday. "The fact is," court attaches explain, "only light beer could be sold and then only with food."

The new law hasn't changed this situation, except that now not even light beer can be sold on Sunday and after hours, and that enforcement is expected to be a little more strict, one official declared.

The last Grand Jury report fixed the responsibility of law enforcement with the Sheriff's office, it was stated, and deputies and the Sheriff, when commenting on the situation merely said, "now we know where we stand."

It was noted throughout the county Sunday that numerous clubs, normally open, were closed or were not operating their bars. One club which was open announced that its bar will be closed next Sunday, and it was clear here that they had misunderstood provisions of the law.

At the clerk of court's office it was explained that the licenses which expire April 30, and were issued under the law now declared unconstitutional, were extended to run until that date. The new law, an emergency measure which became effective when the Governor signed it, is law now, but probably won't go into full operation until new licenses are issued May 1, it was explained. The reasoning was that the new law is purely a licensing and control law, and since no licenses have been issued under it there is nothing to control or regulate.

However, one official commented, "clubs are no different than any other license holder under the new law, so far as selling hours are concerned. They weren't any different under the old law, but many of them just thought they were."

Copies Not Available

Some of this confusion is due to the fact that there has never been a synopsis of the law printed or copies of the law provided for Allegany county license holders. When licenses are issued for hunting or fishing, copies of the law are presented the licensee. But no provision was made in the new liquor law for printing copies for distribution, just as no provision was made as to who pays the salaries of the new Liquor Control Board.

An assessment of $96,500,000.00 at $1.72 on each One Hundred Dollars of Assessable Property equals $1,659,800.00; which with the tax from Bank Stock $14,600.00; Corporation Franchise Tax $1,625.00; the amount due from the State for the maintenance of insane $10,000.00; estimated amount of interest on taxes of $5,000.00; estimated from Liquor Licenses $35,000.00; from the State Roads Commission for Lateral Roads $200,000.00; from State Comptroller, County's allocation of Income Tax $15,000.00; anticipated receipts from Jail $1,500.00; Magistrates $2,500.00; Peoples' Court $3,000.00; from paid patients in State Hospitals $7,000.00; from estimate on Automobile Tax $47,000.00; and an aggregate of unexpended balances of $113,826.79 from the previous levy, making a total of $2,115,851.79

The State Tax Rate is fixed by statute at ten cents (10c) on each one hundred dollars of assessable property, which added to One Dollar and Seventy-two Cents ($1.72) for County purposes makes a total of One Dollar and Eighty-two Cents, ($1.82) on each one hundred dollars of assessable property in Allegany County as the tax rate for the year 1947.

By an Act of the General Assembly of Maryland, at its 1931 Session, a discount of five per cent (5%) will be allowed on County Taxes if paid on or before the last day of June; of four per cent (4%) if paid on or before the last day of July; of three per cent (3%) if paid on or before the last day of August. No discount will be allowed on taxes after the latter date. Interest at the rate of one-half of one per centum per month, or fractional part thereof shall be charged from the 31st of August.

Chapter 261 of the Acts of 1918 of the Public General Laws of Maryland, provides that no discount will be allowed on State Taxes. Interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month will be collected from October 1st.

An assessment of $96,500,000.00 at $1.72 on each One Hundred Dollars of Assessable Property equals $1,659,800.00; which with the tax from Bank Stock $14,600.00; Corporation Franchise Tax $1,625.00; the amount due from the State for the maintenance of insane $10,000.00; estimated amount of interest on taxes of $5,000.00; estimated from Liquor Licenses $35,000.00; from the State Roads Commission for Lateral Roads $200,000.00; from State Comptroller, County's allocation of Income Tax $15,000.00; anticipated receipts from Jail $1,500.00; Magistrates $2,500.00; Peoples' Court $3,000.00; from paid patients in State Hospitals $7,000.00; from estimate on Automobile Tax $47,000.00; and an aggregate of unexpended balances of $113,826.79 from the previous levy, making a total of $2,115,851.79

The State Tax Rate is fixed by statute at ten cents (10c) on each one hundred dollars of assessable property, which added to One Dollar and Seventy-two Cents ($1.72) for County purposes makes a total of One Dollar and Eighty-two Cents, ($1.82) on each one hundred dollars of assessable property in Allegany County as the tax rate for the year 1947.

By an Act of the General Assembly of Maryland, at its 1931 Session, a discount of five per cent (5%) will be allowed on County Taxes if paid on or before the last day of June; of four per cent (4%) if paid on or before the last day of July; of three per cent (3%) if paid on or before the last day of August. No discount will be allowed on taxes after the latter date. Interest at the rate of one-half of one per centum per month, or fractional part thereof shall be charged from the 31st of August.

Chapter 261 of the Acts of 1918 of the Public General Laws of Maryland, provides that no discount will be allowed on State Taxes. Interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month will be collected from October 1st.

Detroit Woman Taken By Death In Frostburg

Service Will Be Held Wednesday

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 21 — Mrs. Mary Donahue, 85, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Claryville, and a resident of Detroit, for the past 24 years, died late Sunday night in Miners' Hospital, where she had been a patient since Friday.

Mrs. Donahue who had been residing at the home of her niece, Mrs. Taylor Russell, Detroit, came here March 20 to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hugh Donahue, a daughter-in-law, was a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Smeltz, Bowery Street, when she became ill.

Other survivors, besides Mrs. Smeltz, are four sons, Hugh Donahue, this city; Joseph and Bernard, of Detroit, Mich., and James, of Parkersburg, W. Va. She also leaves 19 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

The body will remain at the Smeltz home until Wednesday, when services will be held 9:30 a. m., in St. Michael's Catholic Church. Burial will be in St. Michael's cemetery.

Frostburg Briefs

Carpenters began work this morning tearing out the front of the building of A. C. Stewart, recently purchased by Frostburg Lodge, No. 348, Loyal Order of Moose. The part being removed will be used as a stairway to enter the second story of the building.

The Van Dyke Bible class of First Methodist Church will meet Thursday, 7:30 p. m., at the church.

The Grace Bible class of First Methodist Church will meet Thursday, 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Simeon Duckworth, with Mrs. Edna Plummer, assistant hostess. All members are to bring yarn for afghans.

Albert Klosterman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klosterman, 7 American avenue, was baptized Sunday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, by Rev. Justus H. Liesmann, pastor.

Frostburg Personals

Mrs. Lillian McFarland, Detroit, and Mrs. Emma Foreman, Washington, were weekend guests at the Keller home, 52 West Main Street.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Yates are spending the week in New York City, where Mr. Yates is attending a meeting of the American Bankers' Association.

Rev. and Mrs. Winthrop Stilwell, Prattsburg, N. Y., are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ward, West Loo Street.

Eckhart Man Held On Federal Count

Charged with transporting a stolen automobile across a state line, John Hetzel Stewart, 19, Eckhart, was committed to Allegany County Jail yesterday in default of $1,000 bond after he waived a hearing before United States Commissioner James Alfred Avirett.

Stewart, who was arrested Sunday morning by Lt. James E. Van and Officer Paul M. Crabtree, of the City Police Department, was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation when police learned he had driven the machine from Ridgeley, W. Va., to Mt. Savage.

Police charged Stewart with stealing the machine of Robert Bryan Bridges, Jr., Ridgeley, April 11, and then driving to Mt. Savage. Later Stewart drove the car to this city where it was abandoned in a damaged condition, police said.

Stewart also admitted attempting to steal two other machines in Cumberland but abandoned them when he could not get the motors to turn over, police said. They quoted Stewart as saying he crossed ignition wires and pushed the machines down a hill, but when the engine wouldn't start he left them.

The FBI charged Stewart with transporting a stolen automobile in interstate commerce knowing the same to have been stolen.

Police said Stewart, who resided in Ohio for a brief period after he was discharged from the Navy in July, 1946, is unemployed. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Stewart, Eckhart.

Supreme Court Will Not Review Order

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 21 (AP)—The West Virginia Supreme Court refused today to review a Mineral County Circuit Court order of January 21, granting Hugh D. Strachan, Keyser, a judgment of about $5,000 against the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Bel Air, Md.

Strachan took out insurance of his personal property, and upon that owned by his mother, Lydia Strachan, on December 6, 1944, but fire destroyed the home on the following day, before the policies actually were delivered.

The company contended in the lower court action that the agent who contacted Strachan and accepted the first premiums on the policies was not authorized to do such business in West Virginia.

William Reed Dies

PARSONS, W. Va., April 21.—William B. Reed, 72, retired Parsons Tannery worker, died today at his home as the result of a heart condition. He was a son of the late Washington and Martha Branon Reed and a native of this community.

Surviving are his widow, Winnie Kate Long Reed, two sons, Judd Reed, Akron, Ohio; and William Reed, Jr., at home; two daughters, Mrs. Alga Phillips, Massilon, Ohio, and Mrs. Flora Poling, Porterwood, W. Va. Two brothers and six sisters also survive.

More than 25 per cent of forest fires in the United States are traceable to careless smokers.

Cumberland Safety Record For March Is Near-Perfect

Cumberland had a near-accident free month during March, with only three mishaps reported in the city and no one injured and no one killed. Allegany county did not fare so well, however, with the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission report showing two killed and seven hurt in a total of 17 accidents during the month.

Allegany county victims were Delmar Simon Dolly, 44, Flintstone Route 2, county road worker, fatally injured March 2 in a bus-truck collision on Route 40 east of Cumberland, and Clarence Edward Whitaker, 68, Frostburg, who died after being struck by a car driven by Robert J. Greaves, Columbus, Ohio, at the foot of Big Savage Mountain on March 22.

During March there were 1,313 accidents reported in Maryland with 23 deaths and 607 persons injured. Baltimore City police reported 724 accidents with four persons killed and 320 injured, and the State, County and Municipal Police Departments reported 589 accidents with 19 persons killed and 287 injured.

Both Baltimore City and the counties experienced a reduction in deaths as compared to the figures of March, 1946. Baltimore City had a 43 per cent reduction and the counties a 21 per cent reduction. The state, as a whole, with 23 deaths being reported during March experienced a 26 per cent reduction when compared to the March 1946 figure when 31 deaths were reported. The year's total for fatalities is now 82 as compared to 99 for the same period last year—a 17 per cent reduction.

Pedestrian accidents continue to lead the field with 11 of the 23 persons killed during the month being in this group; next was motor vehicle accidents seven deaths; followed by non-collision accidents deathsand fixed object accidents two deaths each; and motor vehicle with bicycle accidents one death.

GARBAGE COLLECTION CONTRACT RENEWED

Walter F. Miller and Harry E. Davis, city garbage collection contractors for two years, were awarded the contract for another year by the Mayor and Council yesterday. No other bids were received.

Miller and Davis submitted a bid of $51,700 with a provision that 75 cents additional a month would be allowed for each new home.

After City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett explained the bid request made no provision for an extra fee and that technically no such bid could be accepted, it was agreed that Miller and Davis would drop the 75-cent monthly clause and instead would be paid a flat $52,000.

Davis said the bid was $10,000 above the current figure because the amount of refuse to haul has increased and operating costs have advanced. The contract covers a year, starting May 1, and the firm has the right to renew for yearly periods for three more years.

The council ordered $100 paid to the Allegany County cancer fund drive.

Carl F. Ballard, 64 Greene Street, was ordered refunded $25 for a water tap and meter not used, and the First Federal Savings and Loan was refunded $9.14 because of double payment of a water bill at 23 Roberts Street. Katherine Greene was refunded $12.45, representing taxes paid in error on a property at 19 Roberts Street.

Local Soldier In Korea Promoted To Sergeant

Corp. Edward Barnett, 211 Bedford Street, this city, has been promoted to sergeant in Quartermaster Railhead Company at Seoul Korea, according to a letter received by his Grandmother Mrs. Catherine M. Barnett.

Sgt. Barnett states that soldering now is difficult due to the fact living conditions and sanitary conditions are very bad and food and other eatables are not fit for human consumption and American Soldiers are not permitted to either buy or eat Korean food-stuff.

No American soldier is allowed to possess Korean money or trade or barter with natives, it being a court martial offense if caught, Sgt. Barnett, wrote.

Sgt. Barnett is the son of former Lt. John Edward Barnett, 29th Division and Military Intelligence Division, and is well known locally having been connected with G. C. Murphy store for many years.

Mrs. Maude Norris Taken By Death

By MRS. ROSE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE, April 21 — Mrs. Maude Goodrich Norris, 56, wife of Ernest Norris died at 3 o'clock this morning in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, where she was admitted two weeks ago to undergo a major operation.

Four Men Fined In Forest Fires

ROMNEY, W. Va., April 21—During the past two weeks there have been a number of disastrous forest fires in the South Branch Valley, according to J. B. Saville, district forester. Several arrests have been made and convictions obtained, Saville added.

A. T. Holliday, Martinsburg, W. Va., entered a plea of guilty to burning brush at his club house near the forests in Back Creek Valley, without having a permit as required by law, and was fined $20 and costs.

Ervin Wratchford, Hardy county, was also fined for burning brush without a permit and permitting fire to get out of control. He was fined $20 and costs.

Riley Malick, Augusta, Hampshire county, paid a fine of $20 and costs for failure to extinguish a fire and permitting it to get out of control. John Gess, Loom, Hampshire county, who was burning brush without a permit and permitting fire to escape, was also fined $20 and costs.

Other investigations are under way, Saville said, and will be checked for State Forestry Law violations.

Detroit Woman Taken By Death In Frostburg

Service Will Be Held Wednesday

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 21 — Mrs. Mary Donahue, 85, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Claryville, and a resident of Detroit, for the past 24 years, died late Sunday night in Miners' Hospital, where she had been a patient since Friday.

Mrs. Donahue who had been residing at the home of her niece, Mrs. Taylor Russell, Detroit, came here March 20 to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hugh Donahue, a daughter-in-law, was a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Smeltz, Bowery Street, when she became ill.

Other survivors, besides Mrs. Smeltz, are four sons, Hugh Donahue, this city; Joseph and Bernard, of Detroit, Mich., and James, of Parkersburg, W. Va. She also leaves 19 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

The body will remain at the Smeltz home until Wednesday, when services will be held 9:30 a. m., in St. Michael's Catholic Church. Burial will be in St. Michael's cemetery.

Frostburg Briefs

Carpenters began work this morning tearing out the front of the building of A. C. Stewart, recently purchased by Frostburg Lodge, No. 348, Loyal Order of Moose. The part being removed will be used as a stairway to enter the second story of the building.

The Van Dyke Bible class of First Methodist Church will meet Thursday, 7:30 p. m., at the church.

The Grace Bible class of First Methodist Church will meet Thursday, 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Simeon Duckworth, with Mrs. Edna Plummer, assistant hostess. All members are to bring yarn for afghans.

Albert Klosterman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klosterman, 7 American avenue, was baptized Sunday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, by Rev. Justus H. Liesmann, pastor.

Frostburg Personals

Mrs. Lillian McFarland, Detroit, and Mrs. Emma Foreman, Washington, were weekend guests at the Keller home, 52 West Main Street.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Yates are spending the week in New York City, where Mr. Yates is attending a meeting of the American Bankers' Association.

Rev. and Mrs. Winthrop Stilwell, Prattsburg, N. Y., are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ward, West Loo Street.

Eckhart Man Held On Federal Count

Charged with transporting a stolen automobile across a state line, John Hetzel Stewart, 19, Eckhart, was committed to Allegany County Jail yesterday in default of $1,000 bond after he waived a hearing before United States Commissioner James Alfred Avirett.

Stewart, who was arrested Sunday morning by Lt. James E. Van and Officer Paul M. Crabtree, of the City Police Department, was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation when police learned he had driven the machine from Ridgeley, W. Va., to Mt. Savage.

Police charged Stewart with stealing the machine of Robert Bryan Bridges, Jr., Ridgeley, April 11, and then driving to Mt. Savage. Later Stewart drove the car to this city where it was abandoned in a damaged condition, police said.

Stewart also admitted attempting to steal two other machines in Cumberland but abandoned them when he could not get the motors to turn over, police said. They quoted Stewart as saying he crossed ignition wires and pushed the machines down a hill, but when the engine wouldn't start he left them.

The FBI charged Stewart with transporting a stolen automobile in interstate commerce knowing the same to have been stolen.

Police said Stewart, who resided in Ohio for a brief period after he was discharged from the Navy in July, 1946, is unemployed. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Stewart, Eckhart.

Supreme Court Will Not Review Order

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 21 (AP)—The West Virginia Supreme Court refused today to review a Mineral County Circuit Court order of January 21, granting Hugh D. Strachan, Keyser, a judgment of about $5,000 against the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Bel Air, Md.

Strachan took out insurance of his personal property, and upon that owned by his mother, Lydia Strachan, on December 6, 1944, but fire destroyed the home on the following day, before the policies actually were delivered.

The company contended in the lower court action that the agent who contacted Strachan and accepted the first premiums on the policies was not authorized to do such business in West Virginia.

William Reed Dies

PARSONS, W. Va., April 21.—William B. Reed, 72, retired Parsons Tannery worker, died today at his home as the result of a heart condition. He was a son of the late Washington and Martha Branon Reed and a native of this community.

Surviving are his widow, Winnie Kate Long Reed, two sons, Judd Reed, Akron, Ohio; and William Reed, Jr., at home; two daughters, Mrs. Alga Phillips, Massilon, Ohio, and Mrs. Flora Poling, Porterwood, W. Va. Two brothers and six sisters also survive.

More than 25 per cent of forest fires in the United States are traceable to careless smokers.

Cumberland Safety Record For March Is Near-Perfect

Cumberland had a near-accident free month during March, with only three mishaps reported in the city and no one injured and no one killed. Allegany county did not fare so well, however, with the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission report showing two killed and seven hurt in a total of 17 accidents during the month.

Allegany county victims were Delmar Simon Dolly, 44, Flintstone Route 2, county road worker, fatally injured March 2 in a bus-truck collision on Route 40 east of Cumberland, and Clarence Edward Whitaker, 68, Frostburg, who died after being struck by a car driven by Robert J. Greaves, Columbus, Ohio, at the foot of Big Savage Mountain on March 22.

During March there were 1,313 accidents reported in Maryland with 23 deaths and 607 persons injured. Baltimore City police reported 724 accidents with four persons killed and 320 injured, and the State, County and Municipal Police Departments reported 589 accidents with 19 persons killed and 287 injured.

Both Baltimore City and the counties experienced a reduction in deaths as compared to the figures of March, 1946. Baltimore City had a 43 per cent reduction and the counties a 21 per cent reduction. The state, as a whole, with 23 deaths being reported during March experienced a 26 per cent reduction when compared to the March 1946 figure when 31 deaths were reported. The year's total for fatalities is now 82 as compared to 99 for the same period last year—a 17 per cent reduction.

Pedestrian accidents continue to lead the field with 11 of the 23 persons killed during the month being in this group; next was motor vehicle accidents seven deaths; followed by non-collision accidents deathsand fixed object accidents two deaths each; and motor vehicle with bicycle accidents one death.

GARBAGE COLLECTION CONTRACT RENEWED

Walter F. Miller and Harry E. Davis, city garbage collection contractors for two years, were awarded the contract for another year by the Mayor and Council yesterday. No other bids were received.

Miller and Davis submitted a bid of $51,700 with a provision that 75 cents additional a month would be allowed for each new home.

After City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett explained the bid request made no provision for an extra fee and that technically no such bid could be accepted, it was agreed that Miller and Davis would drop the 75-cent monthly clause and instead would be paid a flat $52,000.

Davis said the bid was $10,000 above the current figure because the amount of refuse to haul has increased and operating costs have advanced. The contract covers a year, starting May 1, and the firm has the right to renew for yearly periods for three more years.

The council ordered $100 paid to the Allegany County cancer fund drive.

Carl F. Ballard, 64 Greene Street, was ordered refunded $25 for a water tap and meter not used, and the First Federal Savings and Loan was refunded $9.14 because of double payment of a water bill at 23 Roberts Street. Katherine Greene was refunded $12.45, representing taxes paid in error on a property at 19 Roberts Street.

12 Amateur Pilots Enter Air Derby

Announcement was made over the weekend by J. Louis Ort, chairman of the committee from the Exchange Club which is sponsoring the cross country air derby to be held May 11 at Mexico Farms, that 12 amateur fliers have notified the committee they plan to compete for first prize honors in the 110 mile race.

Entries have been received here from pilots, not only in Cumberland, but Moorefield and Martinsburg, W. Va., Winchester, Va., and Bedford, Pa.

The triangle race, which will start at the Mexico Farms airport, will take the contestants to Martinsburg, W. Va., for the first leg, to Winchester, Va., for the second leg and then back to the Mexico Farms airport. At each of the corners the pilots must be identified at the field.

Va., George Ludwig, Pipe Cub Trainer. Keyser, W. Va., G. F. O'Brien, Luscombe, 8A, Hagerstown, Md.

Local Soldier In Korea Promoted To Sergeant

Corp. Edward Barnett, 211 Bedford Street, this city, has been promoted to sergeant in Quartermaster Railhead Company at Seoul Korea, according to a letter received by his Grandmother Mrs. Catherine M. Barnett.

Sgt. Barnett states that soldering now is difficult due to the fact living conditions and sanitary conditions are very bad and food and other eatables are not fit for human consumption and American Soldiers are not permitted to either buy or eat Korean food-stuff.

No American soldier is allowed to possess Korean money or trade or barter with natives, it being a court martial offense if caught, Sgt. Barnett, wrote.

Sgt. Barnett is the son of former Lt. John Edward Barnett, 29th Division and Military Intelligence Division, and is well known locally having been connected with G. C. Murphy store for many years.

Four Men Fined In Forest Fires

ROMNEY, W. Va., April 21—During the past two weeks there have been a number of disastrous forest fires in the South Branch Valley, according to J. B. Saville, district forester. Several arrests have been made and convictions obtained, Saville added.

A. T. Holliday, Martinsburg, W. Va., entered a plea of guilty to burning brush at his club house near the forests in Back Creek Valley, without having a permit as required by law, and was fined $20 and costs.

Ervin Wratchford, Hardy county, was also fined for burning brush without a permit and permitting fire to get out of control. He was fined $20 and costs.

Riley Malick, Augusta, Hampshire county, paid a fine of $20 and costs for failure to extinguish a fire and permitting it to get out of control. John Gess, Loom, Hampshire county, who was burning brush without a permit and permitting fire to escape, was also fined $20 and costs.

Other investigations are under way, Saville said, and will be checked for State Forestry Law violations.

Market Reacts To Steel Agreement But Profit Taking Reduces Gains

NEW YORK, April 21—(AP)—Fast early buying in today's stock market followed confirmation of the United States Steel wage agreement but quick profit taking soon halted the swing and put a number of pivotals in the losing ranks at the last.

Dealings tapered after the speedy opening when trends were at or near the day's best. Extreme gains running to three or more points were substantially reduced in most cases as the final gong sounded. Selling was the rule in the concluding hour. Transfers of 1,150,000 shares compared with 970,000 Friday. Of the total, 430,000 changed hands in first hour.

United States Steel started 10 minutes late on a 4,000-share block, up 2⅛. It then slipped and ended with a net gain of three-fourths at 69¾. Bethlehem held an advance of five-eighths at 85. American Woolen preferred was up two at 96 and the common three-fourths at 31½. Harbison-Walker added 1¼ at 21½. Eastman Kodak retained 2¼ at 229½. Norfolk and Western two at 225. Chesapeake and Ohio 1¼ at 45¼. Allied Chemical 1¾ at 172¾. American Smelting 1⅛ at 53½ and American Can one at 92.

Ahead were Republic Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, American Woolen, Goodyear, United States Rubber, Sears Roebuck, United Aircraft, American Telephone, North American, Westinghouse, General Electric, Philip Morris, Santa Fe, New York Central, Standard Oil (N. J.) and Texas Company.

Dow Chemical yielded 2½ at 155. Lesser casualties were Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, American Tobacco "B", Schenley, Monsanto Chemical, Sperry, Oliver Corporation, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Phelph Dodge and Western Union "A".

Higher in the Curb were General Plywood, Elliott Company, Babcock and Wilcox, Catalin and American Cyanamid. Turnover here was 280,000 shares versus 250,000 in the preceding full session.

A number of rails and other corporates gained fractions to two points in the bond market under the stimulus of a brightened labor outlook following affirmation of the steel-wage settlement.

Total sales of $3,452,000 compared with $3,560,000 Friday in the last previous full session.

United States government bonds held virtually at previous levels.

Driver Fined $20 For Recklessness

Pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving, Clarence Lewis Lyons, Route 2, Cumberland, was fined $20 and costs of 75 cents yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew.

A charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol also was filed against Lyons by State Trooper Walter L. Wilt, but Lyons denied the charge and was acquitted. He was arrested April 13 on Route 40.

Cylde E. Kenney, 309 Footer Place, charged with failing to stop at a boulevard stop sign at Route 40 and Allegany Grove on April 16, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $3.75. Harold F Sweene, Mt. Savage, arrested on a similar charge at Route 40 and Mt. Savage Road April 15, pleaded guilty and was fined $5.75.

John F. Cross, 634 Hilltop Drive, accused of permitting an unlicensed person to operate, was fined $5.75 after he entered a plea of guilty. He was arrested April 16 on Route 220. William Belfore, 12 John Street, Ridgeley, forfeited bond of $11.45 on a charge of exceeding 50 miles an hour on Route 220 April 16. He forfeited a similar amount on a charge of driving with no operators' license.

State Trooper William McElfish made all the arrests.

L. G. Kelley, Barrelville, forfeited bond of $6.45 when he failed to appear for a hearing before Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., on a charge of operating without a license. Trooper Harry Holsinger made the arrest April 17 on Route 36 at Corriganville.

In Frederick, Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., Westernport, chairman of the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly, forfeited bond of $10 and costs when he failed to appear for a hearing recently before Magistrate Alton Y. Bennett on a charge of exceeding 50 miles an hour.

In the Billopp mansion, built by Captain Christopher Billopp about 1668, on Staten Island, N. Y., was held a peace conference on Sept. 1, 1776, between Lord Howe and Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Edward Rutledge.

Investigation into the death of Mrs. Ella Orpha Flanigan, 45, 720 Lafayette Street, who died in Memorial Hospital after being struck Saturday night by a machine allegedly operated by George Bennett Stewart, 23, Columbia Street, was continued yesterday, according to the office of the State's Attorney.

Authorities said several more witnesses remain to be questioned in the case before charges are preferred against Stewart. He was released on $1,000 bond pending the outcome of the investigation. Stewart's father, Rev. J. L. Stewart, posted the bond.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said Mrs. Flanigan died as the result of an intercranial hemorrhage and a fractured skull. She also suffered a fractured left leg and a deep laceration above the right ear.

Man, 20, Is Found Guilty Of Assault

Found guilty of assault, Wilbert D. Bonner, 20, Barrelville, was directed to stay away from a dance hall on Mt. Savage Road and on that condition sentence was deferred for six months by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court.

Jack Moore, one of the owners of Melody Manor, told the court Bonner, who allegedly had caused trouble at the place on two previous occasions, flicked a cigaret against a woman's neck Saturday night while she was dancing. While being ejected from the hall, Bonner allegedly hit Moore on the right cheek. The latter also suffered a chin injury. State Trooper William F. Baker arrested Bonner.

Police Have Letter For Guy True

Police last night were trying to locate Guy True, believed to be a resident of Cumberland, to deliver "a letter of importance" which was mailed to the Cumberland Police Department for delivery.

Police said they received a letter addressed to True, with a note attached asking them to locate the man who served with the Military Police of an Air Corps Unit in England. They said the note asked that the letter be delivered since it contained "matters of importance."

Council Defeats Order For Audit Payment

The Mayor and Council yesterday unanimously defeated an order to pay the estate of the late Charles O. Hall, Baltimore, certified public accountant, $2,100 for auditing work in 1945 and 1946, when Mayor Thomas S. Post protested against the order.

The order called for payment of $1,500 for auditing the city's books for the year ending March 31, 1946, and for payment of $600 for auditing the Memorial Hospital books for the year ending September 30, 1945.

Mayor Post said the council had unanimously refused to pay an extra amount for the hospital audit on a previous occasion. City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett said he considers the hospital part of the city and the audit as part of the city audit, adding that $1,500 should cover both jobs.

Although the city's fiscal year ended March 31, no certified public accountant has been named to make an audit. Mr. Hall, who was appointed last year for two years, died in October.

Market Reacts To Steel Agreement But Profit Taking Reduces Gains

NEW YORK, April 21—(AP)—Fast early buying in today's stock market followed confirmation of the United States Steel wage agreement but quick profit taking soon halted the swing and put a number of pivotals in the losing ranks at the last.

Dealings tapered after the speedy opening when trends were at or near the day's best. Extreme gains running to three or more points were substantially reduced in most cases as the final gong sounded. Selling was the rule in the concluding hour. Transfers of 1,150,000 shares compared with 970,000 Friday. Of the total, 430,000 changed hands in first hour.

United States Steel started 10 minutes late on a 4,000-share block, up 2⅛. It then slipped and ended with a net gain of three-fourths at 69⅝. Bethlehem held an advance of five-eighths at 85. American Woolen preferred was up two at 96 and the common three-fourths at 31½. Harbison-Walker added 1¼ at 21½. Eastman Kodak retained 2¼ at 229½. Norfolk and Western two at 225. Chesapeake and Ohio 1¼ at 45¼. Allied Chemical 1¾ at 172¾. American Smelting 1½ at 53½ and American Can one at 92.

Ahead were Republic Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, American Woolen, Goodyear, United States Rubber, Sears Roebuck, United Aircraft, American Telephone, North American, Westinghouse, General Electric, Philip Morris, Santa Fe, New York Central, Standard Oil (N. J.) and Texas Company.

Dow Chemical yielded 2½ at 155. Lesser casualties were Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, American Tobacco "B", Schenley, Monsanto Chemical, Sperry, Oliver Corporation, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Phelph Dodge and Western Union "A".

Higher in the Curb were General Plywood, Elliott Company, Babcock and Wilcox, Catalin and American Cyanamid. Turnover here was 280,000 shares versus 250,000 in the preceding full session.

A number of rails and other corporates gained fractions to two points in the bond market under the stimulus of a brightened labor outlook following affirmation of the steel-wage settlement.

Total sales of $3,452,000 compared with $3,560,000 Friday in the last previous full session.

United States government bonds held virtually at previous levels.

Driver Fined $20 For Recklessness

Pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving, Clarence Lewis Lyons, Route 2, Cumberland, was fined $20 and costs of 75 cents yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew.

A charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol also was filed against Lyons by State Trooper Walter L. Wilt, but Lyons denied the charge and was acquitted. He was arrested April 13 on Route 40.

Cylde E. Kenney, 309 Footer Place, charged with failing to stop at a boulevard stop sign at Route 40 and Allegany Grove on April 16, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $3.75. Harold F Sweene, Mt. Savage, arrested on a similar charge at Route 40 and Mt. Savage Road April 15, pleaded guilty and was fined $5.75.

John F. Cross, 634 Hilltop Drive, accused of permitting an unlicensed person to operate, was fined $5.75 after he entered a plea of guilty. He was arrested April 16 on Route 220. William Belfore, 12 John Street, Ridgeley, forfeited bond of $11.45 on a charge of exceeding 50 miles an hour on Route 220 April 16. He forfeited a similar amount on a charge of driving with no operators' license.

State Trooper William McElfish made all the arrests.

L. G. Kelley, Barrelville, forfeited bond of $6.45 when he failed to appear for a hearing before Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., on a charge of operating without a license. Trooper Harry Holsinger made the arrest April 17 on Route 36 at Corriganville.

In Frederick, Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., Westernport, chairman of the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly, forfeited bond of $10 and costs when he failed to appear for a hearing recently before Magistrate Alton Y. Bennett on a charge of exceeding 50 miles an hour.

In the Billopp mansion, built by Captain Christopher Billopp about 1668, on Staten Island, N. Y., was held a peace conference on Sept. 1, 1776, between Lord Howe and Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Edward Rutledge.

Investigation into the death of Mrs. Ella Orpha Flanigan, 45, 720 Lafayette Street, who died in Memorial Hospital after being struck Saturday night by a machine allegedly operated by George Bennett Stewart, 23, Columbia Street, was continued yesterday, according to the office of the State's Attorney.

Authorities said several more witnesses remain to be questioned in the case before charges are preferred against Stewart. He was released on $1,000 bond pending the outcome of the investigation. Stewart's father, Rev. J. L. Stewart, posted the bond.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said Mrs. Flanigan died as the result of an intercranial hemorrhage and a fractured skull. She also suffered a fractured left leg and a deep laceration above the right ear.

Man, 20, Is Found Guilty Of Assault

Found guilty of assault, Wilbert D. Bonner, 20, Barrelville, was directed to stay away from a dance hall on Mt. Savage Road and on that condition sentence was deferred for six months by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court.

Jack Moore, one of the owners of Melody Manor, told the court Bonner, who allegedly had caused trouble at the place on two previous occasions, flicked a cigaret against a woman's neck Saturday night while she was dancing. While being ejected from the hall, Bonner allegedly hit Moore on the right cheek. The latter also suffered a chin injury. State Trooper William F. Baker arrested Bonner.

Police Have Letter For Guy True

Police last night were trying to locate Guy True, believed to be a resident of Cumberland, to deliver "a letter of importance" which was mailed to the Cumberland Police Department for delivery.

Police said they received a letter addressed to True, with a note attached asking them to locate the man who served with the Military Police of an Air Corps Unit in England. They said the note asked that the letter be delivered since it contained "matters of importance."

Council Defeats Order For Audit Payment

The Mayor and Council yesterday unanimously defeated an order to pay the estate of the late Charles O. Hall, Baltimore, certified public accountant, $2,100 for auditing work in 1945 and 1946, when Mayor Thomas S. Post protested against the order.

The order called for payment of $1,500 for auditing the city's books for the year ending March 31, 1946, and for payment of $600 for auditing the Memorial Hospital books for the year ending September 30, 1945.

Mayor Post said the council had unanimously refused to pay an extra amount for the hospital audit on a previous occasion. City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett said he considers the hospital part of the city and the audit as part of the city audit, adding that $1,500 should cover both jobs.

Although the city's fiscal year ended March 31, no certified public accountant has been named to make an audit. Mr. Hall, who was appointed last year for two years, died in October.

Listen World

By ELSIE ROBINSON

The English have a name for it. They call it going balmy. Here in America we have a lot of names for it, too, equally impolite. But the nicest one, used in the better vocabularies, is neurosis.

Neurosis means that you are warped out of the pattern somehow. Maybe you inherited that warp. Maybe you acquired it through shock or some inferiority complex. Maybe it's just part of your natural cussedneses. But the grim truth is that an appalling number of our supposedly sane citizens are off the beam and going more and more off the beam as our lives become more complex.

Recently some bright folk made a case study of a typical Ohio rural town in Miami County (population 52,600). Just a nice normal town such acs you could find in any state. And yet according to this survey 10 to 20 per cent of the residents ought to see a psychiatrist.

Many live miserable, tangled lives haunted by fear and grief and resentment. In the past six years 207 have been committed to institutions; one out of every 23 inhabitants of the county would spend part of his life in a mental institution. More than 10 per cent of its draft age men were mentally unfit for military service (farm boys were less mentally fit than city boys). One elementary school child in five was seriously maladjusted; in six years 1,168 cases of delinquency had come up to court.

And so it went. Here in the healthy industrious out-of-door life of a typical American town, neurosis was setting in like cancer. Of course there were many cases of actual insanity and cimple mindedness, but we're not discussing those today. We are only discussing those who are enough off the beam to interfere with the wholesome life of the community, and such warped souls are plenty.

No, Miami is not an exceptional county. You can find its like in every state. You work with similarly warped citizens every day of your life. You may be warped in some degree yourself yet never suspect it.

Pills won't cure you. Tonics won't cure you. Only the wise men who know the subtle connection between the spirit and the body can possibly cure you. But this one fact can be said and it applies to every neurotic in America—

We are not losing our grip because life has quickened its tempo beyond its normal rate. We are not going off the beam because of all these new mechanical gadgets. We are going off the beam at an appalling rate because we are living too much by ourselves.

The brightest person on earth can go balmy if he thinks only of himself and for himself. He can go worse than balmy—he can go actually insane if he becomes too self centered.

And that is largely what is the matter with America today. Time was when we were forced to be a part of the world and to take our place in the world. Back in the nineteenth century we were "rugged individualists." We half soled our shoes, we made our own bread, we planted and tended gardens and stored the vegetables away for winter consumption. A mother wasn't just a wife then. A husband didn't just have a job. They were both active citizens of this world and their work reached far and wide.

If we needed a new house we made one. If we needed an orchard we planted one in the vacant lot next door. Willy-nilly we were part of of great world around us and we took our place in the world. We might have been, and often were, very selfish and stupid human beings but circumstances forced us to become part of the mass effort. And because we were part of that mass effort we threw our minds and our spirits into it. . . . we looked beyond our own narrow horizons . . . we did chores that interlocked with the world program. And so we saved our own sanity.

And now we are in a new era. We have become speculative. We are no longer part of the whole working world. We are crammed into some little niche and our lives are infinitely more narrow and colorless than at the turn of the century.

We are going balmy not because we are too hurried or worried or driven by work. We are becoming balmy because we haven't enough work to do—enough individual, personal jobs to attend to. And so we are leaving room in our lives for all sorts of personal eccentricities and prejudices and crochets. We are going balmy because we are so self centered that we are getting stagnant.

Think it over. See if it doesn't fit.

Koelker, Reed, Mull And Nazelrod Win

William "Bill" Frazier, Rocket Athletic Club middleweight, technically knocked out Harold "Buck" Shober in 35 seconds of the third and final round and Paul Lepley, Diamond Athletic Club lightweight, won a hairline decision over Clarence Jenkins, promising 138-pound novice of St. Mary's Boys' Club in the two top matches on the eight-bout amateur fistic program presented last night at the state armory by the Cumberland Police Boys' Club.

Approximately 650 cash customers, the largest to witness any of the five shows staged since October by the PBC, sat in on the show and saw all but one of the eight matches go the limit of three rounds.

Metz Takes "Runout"

The five-round go scheduled between Johnny Tressler and Frank Metz, failed to materialize when Metz took a "runout powder" and was not present when the time came to start firing. As a result Metz retired from the local heavyweight picture via an indefinite suspension. Tressler refused to meet another opponent after Metz failed to show up.

Taking top honors in last night's show was the Lepley-Jenkins battle, the fourth on the program. Appearing in only his second amateur scrap, Jenkins hit Lepley with about everything but the water bucket in the first round only to have the "Hard Rock" come back magnificently in the second round to square up matters then edge out a decision by the closest of margins in the final stanza.

It was one of the hardest fought bouts put on here between a pair of evenly matched amateurs in many moons and it was so close that the officials disagreed, two casting their ballots for Lepley and one for the St. Mary's Boys' Club battler. It was a typical Pier No. 5 brawl all the way, there was seldom a clinch and not a single knockdown marked the contest, although both boys rocked each other from pillar to post throughout. Lepley and Jenkins received a "big hand" when they left the ring.

The Frazier-Metz return go was far different than their first meeting when "Belting Bill" was disqualified for "unnecessary roughness" after he had thrown his opponent bodily to the floor claiming that he had done so as a result of Shober's holding tactics.

"Buck" Floored Twice

Last night both boys fought and broke cleanly and made an interesting fight of it. They fought on even terms in the opening round then Frazier unloosed the fireworks, flooring "Buck" for a nine count with a left to the head and right to the jaw. Bill scored a second knockdown with a right smack on the jaw and Shober was in the resin as the bell sounded ending the second round.

Both middleweights wrestled to the floor as the final round opened. Then Frazier launched a two-fisted attack, driving Shober around the ring. With the latter absorbing punishment like a sponge does water, Referee Jim Kelley stepped in and called it quits after 35 seconds of milling, declaring Frazier the victor on a T.K.O.

"Sonny" Lafferty, flyweight of St. Mary's Boys' Club, started off the evening by left-jabbing his way to a 3-0 decision over Jimmie Deetz. Lafferty's left worked like a piston and drove Deetz all around the ring. The lad seconded by Bobby Green, one-time local welterweight star, and "Zip" Hutson, won every round.

In a slugfest affair between a pair of junior welters, Don Nazelrod earned a 3-0 verdict over Paul Goetz in bout No. 2. Striking a pose that made him look like a ring gladiator of the John L. Sullivan era, Nazelrod, minus the handlebar mustache, floored Goetz for counts of six and five in the final round and the latter was on the floor as the bout ended. When Nazelrod got warmed up in the third heat his followers began yelling "Atta Boy John L."

Jake Koelker earned a decision over Melvin "Kid" Washington in the third match, rallying in the third round after dull sessions that brought boos from the spectators. Jake opened up at the finish and had Washington holding on for dear life.

Jimmie Reed, Royale A. C. middleweight, won a split decision over Doug Thomas, novice of the Century A. C. Frostburg; Donnie Booth, 108, of the "Fighting Booth Family" of Eckhart, lost a 2-1 decision to Roy Richardson, 110, of the Century A. C., Frostburg, and in the grand finale, Marty Hull punched out a 3-0 win over Eugene Mann, Rocket A. C. bantamweight.

Robert McKenzie and Billy Kerns, a pair of 70-pounders, of St. Mary's Boys' Club, put on an exhibition match before the regular program got under way.

It was announced that the South Cumberland A. C. has made application for a sanction to hold its next amateur show at the armory on Monday, May 5.

Gilbert Becker and James E. Kelley, Jr., refereed. The judges were Ross W. Prysock and Howard "Red" Bush, the timer, John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, and the announcer, Nelson W. Russler.

FIGHT RESULTS

"Sonny" Lafferty, 108, St. Mary's Boys' Club, won decision over Jimmie Deetz, 105, Diamond Athletic Club.

Don Nazelrod, 142, Cumberland American Legion, won decision over Paul Goetz, 143, Police Boys' Club.

Jake Koelker, 126, Diamond Athletic Club, won decision over Melvin Washington, 130, Royale Athletic Club.

Paul Lepley, 135, Diamond Athletic Club, won decision over Clarence Jenkins, 138, St. Mary's Boys' Club.

Jimmie Reed, 158, Royale Athletic Club, won decision over Doug Thomas, 161, Century Athletic Club, Frostburg.

Bill Frazier, 162, Rocket Athletic Club, won over Harold "Buck" Shober, 162, Diamond Athletic Club on technical knockout in 35 seconds of the third round. Referee Kelley stopped the match to save Shober from further punishment.

Roy Richardson, 110, Century Athletic Club, won decision over Donnie Booth, 108, unattached, of Eckhart, Md.

Marty Mull, 122, Diamond Athletic Club, won decision over Eugene Mann, 122, Rocket Athletic Club.

Bivins Decisions Curtis Sheppard

5,054 Witness Heavy Bout In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP) — Jimmy Bivins, 185¾, of Cleveland, O., won an unanimous decision over Curtis (Hatchetman) Sheppard, 197¾, of Philadelphia, in a 10-round boxing feature tonight.

Bivins had no trouble, except in the sixth, when Sheppard showered him with rights and left.

Sheppard was on his knees when the bell sounded at the end of the 10th.

In the semi-final of the show, which drew a gross of $18,524 and a paid attendance of 5,054, Charley Crump of Baltimore, 194, won an eight round decision over Leo Stoll, 196, of Baltimore.

LYTELL SCORES KO

BOSTON, April 21 (AP) — Bert Lytell, 158, the southpaw slugging Fresno, California., Negro, knocked out Jota Jota Fernandez, 155, of Caracas, Venezuela, in the sixth round of their scheduled 10-round feature boxing bout tonight at Mechanics Building.

The mustacheoed Jota Jota, who bills himself as the South American middleweight titlist, was able to cope with the wide-swinging Lytell only in the third round, when he scored frequently with both hands to the head and body. But he was on the canvas for a nine-count in the first round and took eight after being knocked through the ropes in the fifth.

Lytell dropped him for the third time early in the sixth and then, continuing his two-fisted attack to the head, forced the Venezuelan to take the full count at 1:51.

Hank Wyse Scores Shutout Triumph Over Cincinnati

Yields Three Blows As Cubs Win, 3 To 0

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—Henry Wyse, veteran curveballer, throttled Cincinnati's high-geared offense by setting the Reds down with only three hits for the Cubs' first shutout victory of the season, 3 to 0, before 6,699 chilled fans today.

It was the Cubs' third straight victory to elevate them to .500 rating after opening the season with three losses in a row.

A slow-rolling infield hit to Stan Hack by Ray Lamanno in the second inning was the only safety off Wyse's brilliant hurling until the ninth. Then, however, Bobby Adams and Lamanno rapped out singles that eliminated any second-guessing about the possibility of a no-hitter. Box:

Joe McCarthy Marks His 60th Birthday; Likes Life On Farm

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Joe McCarthy, fully recovered from the illness which forced him to quit as manager of the New York Yankees, today observed his 60th birthday determined to "forget baseball."

McCarthy, who brought seven world series titles and eight American League pennants to the Yankees over a span of 13 years before retiring during the 1946 season, recently turned down an offer to succeed Leo (The Lip) Durocher as Brooklyn manager.

Today, his wife lent emphasis to that decision by announcing at their farm home in nearby East Amherst:

"Joe is through with baseball forever. He likes this life out here. It has made a new man of him. It has given him back his health. He won't return as a baseball manager."

Fontaine Knocks Out Kessler In 7th Round

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP) — Juste Fontaine, 137, Milwaukee, knocked out Ruby Kessler, 144, New York, in 1:52 of the seventh round of their scheduled 10-round bout at The Arena tonight.

A crowd of 4,464 fight fans who paid a gate of $13,517 saw Fontaine bring down Kessler with a left hook to the jaw after softening him up with a left to the stom[illegible].

Kessler, who earlier hammered Fontaine to the horizontal for a three count in the third round, took the full count but was up so quickly after the last count that many fans protested.

In a 10-round semi-final, Gene Burton, 142, New York, and Doug Ratford, 139½, New York, fought to a draw.

Bi-State Executive Council Will Meet

The executive council of the Bi-State Baseball League will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the Lonaconing Republican Club. The council comprises a representative of each team in the 10-club circuit.

George Layman, umpire-in-chief, requests that each team have its home umpire attend this meeting.

Insurance for the players will be discussed.

Skins Sign Rookies

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — Coach Turk Edwards of the Washington pro football Redskins said today two more rookies have signed 1947 contracts.

They are:

Don Bunge, 22 years old, 235-pound, 6 foot, 7½ inch tackle from the University of Minnesota.

Everett Wheeler, 22 year old, 215-pound, 6-3 center from the University of Arkansas.

Green Stops Falco

SCRANTON, Pa., April 21 (AP) — Johnny Green, 148, Buffalo, N. Y., knocked out Joey Falco, 153, Philadelphia, tonight in the first round of a scheduled 10-rounder at Town Hall.

A crowd of 2,061, paid $3,876 to see Green score with a savage right hand uppercut and a series of left hooks in one minute, 54 seconds of the opening session. The defeat was Falco's first in 17 appearances in Scranton rings.

PHALANX INSTALLED 2-1 CHOICE TO WIN THE KENTUCKY DERBY

ST. LOUIS, April 21 — (AP) — Phalanx, winner of a section of the Wood Memorial last Saturday, was a 2-1 favorite to win the Kentucky Derby in Betting Commissioner John J. Carroll's future book today.

The brown colt owned by the Whitney Stables opened at 10 to 1, the current figure on Cosmic Bomb, who was a 5-1 winter book choice.

Carroll listed Faultless at 3-1, down from 5-1, and On Trust at 6-1. Double Jay is 8-1, backed from 10-1, and Jet Pilot, at 15-1 in the winter book, now is 10-1. Other figures: Riskolater 15-1; Atomac Power 20-1, Stepfather 20-1, Cornish Knight 20-1; Owners Choice 30-1, and W. L. Sickle 30-1.

Durocher Case Closed, Chandler Tells Brooklyn

Reconsideration Asked By Dodger Officials

CINCINNATI, April 21 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler today turned down a request by Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Ford Frick, president of the National League, that he reconsider the case of Dodger manager Leo Durocher, whom he suspended for the 1947 season.

The commissioner's office said in a statement that Rickey and Frick, along with Walter O'Malley and Judge Henry L. Ughattan, part owners of the Dodgers, and Arthur Mann, assistant to Rickey, had conferred with Chandler "to ask him to reconsider the Durocher case."

"The commissioner declined, stating the Durocher case was closed," the statement concluded.

The Brooklyn party and Frick were reported en route back to New York, and were not available for comment.

In suspending Durocher April 9, Chandler said the action came "as a result of the accumulation of unpleasant incidents, in which he (Durocher) had been involved, which the commissioner construes as detrimental to baseball x x x."

Rickey since has named Burt Shotton to pilot the 1947 Dodgers.

BIDWILL FUNERAL TO BE HELD TODAY

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP) — His mourners including Mayor Martin Kennelly, Jack Dempsey and persons from all walks of the sports realm, Charles W. Bidwill, prominent Chicago sportsman, will be buried tomorrow in Calvary Cemetery.

Services will be held at St. Catherine of Sienna Catholic Church for the 51-year-old owner of the Chicago Cardinals, who died Saturday morning of pneumonia.

Pall-bearers will include George Halas, cross-town rival owner of the Chicago Bears; William H. Johnston, Bidwill's partner in horse and dog tracks; John R. Johnston, brother of William; Arch Wolfe and Ray Bennigsen of Bidwill's staff; Thomas Downes and Walter Carrigan, two detectives and close friends of Bidwill; and Robert Carey, representative of the estate of Thomas Carey, owner of Hawthorne Race Track, of which Bidwill was managing director.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 21 (AP)—University of Virginia golfers defeated Maryland 8½ to ½ today, the Old Liners picking up the fraction by halving the second foursome point.

Chicago Notches Third Straight, Tops Tigers, 6-4

Leaders Of League Defeat Newhouser

DETROIT, April 21 (AP)—Chicago's surprising White Sox maintained their unbeaten pace today with a 10-hit attack that beat the Detroit Tigers' ace, Hal Newhouser, 6 to 4, and kept the Sox on top of the American League standings.

It was the third straight triumph for Chicago, which wasn't scored on for 22 straight innings before Detroit chased across three runs in the fifth.

By that time the Sox already had five runs—three of them in the first inning when Newhouser walked three men and hit Ralph Hodgin in the head with a pitch that sent the Chicago left fielder to Harper Hospital with a concussion and bad bruise. Box:

LANE'S ANNOUNCEMENT COMES AS "COMPLETE SHOCK" TO MAHONEY

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 21. (AP)—Chairman George P. Mahoney of the Maryland Racing Commission said here tonight that an announcement by Governor Lane of Maryland that he would appoint Stuart S. Janney, Jr. to succeed Mahoney "came as a complete shock and very much of a surprise to me."

Mahoney is here to attend the meeting of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners.

"I left Baltimore at noon today and the governor had not contacted me in the matter," he said. "I'm here to transact business for the State of Maryland and don't want to comment further at this time."

Mahoney's term expires July 1.

Lane To Appoint Janney As New Racing Chairman

George Mahoney's Term Ends July 1

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 21 (AP) — Governor Lane announced tonight he would appoint Stuart S. Janney, Jr., Baltimore attorney and turfman, as the new chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission to succeed George P. Mahoney.

Mahoney's term expires July 1.

In a statement Lane said that "in view of the discussion in the newspapers as to my intentions with respect to this office, I have concluded that it was best for me to make an announcement at this time."

Mahoney's position respecting race track "reforms," have provoked controversies. He has been mentioned as a candidate for one of the more important offices to be voted on at the annual meeting of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners opening in Lexington, Ky., tomorrow.

Named By O'Conor

He was named chairman of the Maryland agency in 1945 by former Governor Herbert R. O'Conor.

Janney, prominent Maryland horseman, is a director of the Maryland Horse Breeders Association. He was admitted to the bar in 1932 and served as a marine corps officer during World War II.

The new chairman is the owner and rider of Winton, renowned Maryland steeplechase champion.

He is a son of the late Stuart S. Janney law partner of the late Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland. An uncle, Jarvis Spencer, was at one time chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission.

After Mahoney became chairman the "mouse test" for detection of stimulated horses was instituted and brought protest from some horsemen.

Last fall, members of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, which embraces 90 per cent of the Maryland horsemen, voted to withhold their horses from racing at the Laurel track in protest of a commission-sponsored receiving barn.

A compromise was reached one day before racing began at Laurel.

Proposes "Blackbook"

Last week, Mahoney announced that his proposed "Mahoney blackbook" to weed out the "crooked few" from U. S. race tracks would be placed before the national association at the Kentucky meeting.

The "blackbook" is part of his plan for a central licensing information bureau "to keep an index of everyone connected with racing, owners, trainers, jockeys, jockey agents and all others who require a license," he explained.

Mahoney said if a "mark is placed against an individual upon proof of wrong doing," he would be barred from further privileges in racing until the record is cleared.

Mahoney asserted that a "man may get into trouble in one state, and yet go to another and get a license."

NBA Will Approve Walcott-Louis Go

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP) — The executive committee of the National Boxing Association announced today it will approve a heavyweight title bout between Champion Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott, Camden, N. J. veteran.

The action, announced in a committee statement, said that Chairman Leon Rains of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission had announced that Promoter Herman Taylor and the managers of Walcott have offered a $200,000 guarantee to Louis if he will meet Walcott in Philadelphia.

The statement said that the NBA committee "made it clear that the NBA is not in the matchmaking business and is not interested in the terms for such a bout, but that such a bout would have NBA approval because Walcott is rated at the top of outstanding boxers challenging for Louis' title."

650 See Boys' Club Eight-Bout Card

Koelker, Reed, Mull And Nazelrod Win

William "Bill" Frazier, Rocket Athletic Club middleweight, technically knocked out Harold "Buck" Shober in 35 seconds of the third and final round and Paul Lepley, Diamond Athletic Club lightweight, won a hairline decision over Clarence Jenkins, promising 138-pound novice of St. Mary's Boys' Club in the two top matches on the eight-bout amateur fistic program presented last night at the state armory by the Cumberland Police Boys' Club.

Approximately 650 cash customers, the largest to witness any of the five shows staged since October by the PBC, sat in on the show and saw all but one of the eight matches go the limit of three rounds.

Metz Takes "Runout"

The five-round go scheduled between Johnny Tressler and Frank Metz, failed to materialize when Metz took a "runout powder" and was not present when the time came to start firing. As a result Metz retired from the local heavyweight picture via an indefinite suspension. Tressler refused to meet another opponent after Metz failed to show up.

Taking top honors in last night's show was the Lepley-Jenkins battle, the fourth on the program. Appearing in only his second amateur scrap, Jenkins hit Lepley with about everything but the water bucket in the first round only to have the "Hard Rock" come back magnificently in the second round to square up matters then edge out a decision by the closest of margins in the final stanza.

It was one of the hardest fought bouts put on here between a pair of evenly matched amateurs in many moons and it was so close that the officials disagreed, two casting their ballots for Lepley and one for the St. Mary's Boys' Club battler. It was a typical Pier No. 5 brawl all the way, there was seldom a clinch and not a single knockdown marked the contest, although both boys rocked each other from pillar to post throughout. Lepley and Jenkins received a "big hand" when they left the ring.

The Frazier-Metz return go was far different than their first meeting when "Belting Bill" was disqualified for "unnecessary roughness" after he had thrown his opponent bodily to the floor claiming that he had done so as a result of Shober's holding tactics.

"Buck" Floored Twice

Last night both boys fought and broke cleanly and made an interesting fight of it. They fought on even terms in the opening round then Frazier unloosed the fireworks, flooring "Buck" for a nine count with a left to the head and right to the jaw. Bill scored a second knockdown with a right smack on the jaw and Shober was in the resin as the bell sounded ending the second round.

Both middleweights wrestled to the floor as the final round opened. Then Frazier launched a two-fisted attack, driving Shober around the ring. With the latter absorbing punishment like a sponge does water, Referee Jim Kelley stepped in and called it quits after 35 seconds of milling, declaring Frazier the victor on a T.K.O.

"Sonny" Lafferty, flyweight of St. Mary's Boys' Club, started off the evening by left-jabbing his way to a 3-0 decision over Jimmie Deetz. Lafferty's left worked like a piston and drove Deetz all around the ring. The lad seconded by Bobby Green, one-time local welterweight star, and "Zip" Hutson, won every round.

In a slugfest affair between a pair of junior welters, Don Nazelrod earned a 3-0 verdict over Paul Goetz in bout No. 2. Striking a pose that made him look like a ring gladiator of the John L. Sullivan era, Nazelrod, minus the handlebar mustache, floored Goetz for counts of six and five in the final round and the latter was on the floor as the bout ended. When Nazelrod got warmed up in the third heat his followers began yelling "Atta Boy John L."

Jake Koelker earned a decision over Melvin "Kid" Washington in the third match, rallying in the third round after dull sessions that brought boos from the spectators. Jake opened up at the finish and had Washington holding on for dear life.

Jimmie Reed, Royale A. C. middleweight, won a split decision over Doug Thomas, novice of the Century A. C. Frostburg; Donnie Booth, 108, of the "Fighting Booth Family" of Eckhart, lost a 2-1 decision to Roy Richardson, 110, of the Century A. C., Frostburg, and in the grand finale, Marty Hull punched out a 3-0 win over Eugene Mann, Rocket A. C. bantamweight.

Robert McKenzie and Billy Kerns, a pair of 70-pounders, of St. Mary's Boys' Club, put on an exhibition match before the regular program got under way.

It was announced that the South Cumberland A. C. has made application for a sanction to hold its next amateur show at the armory on Monday, May 5.

Gilbert Becker and James E. Kelley, Jr., refereed. The judges were Ross W. Prysock and Howard "Red" Bush, the timer, John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, and the announcer, Nelson W. Russler.

FIGHT RESULTS

"Sonny" Lafferty, 108, St. Mary's Boys' Club, won decision over Jimmie Deetz, 105, Diamond Athletic Club.

Don Nazelrod, 142, Cumberland American Legion, won decision over Paul Goetz, 143, Police Boys' Club.

Jake Koelker, 126, Diamond Athletic Club, won decision over Melvin Washington, 130, Royale Athletic Club.

Paul Lepley, 135, Diamond Athletic Club, won decision over Clarence Jenkins, 138, St. Mary's Boys' Club.

Jimmie Reed, 158, Royale Athletic Club, won decision over Doug Thomas, 161, Century Athletic Club, Frostburg.

Bill Frazier, 162, Rocket Athletic Club, won over Harold "Buck" Shober, 162, Diamond Athletic Club on technical knockout in 35 seconds of the third round. Referee Kelley stopped the match to save Shober from further punishment.

Roy Richardson, 110, Century Athletic Club, won decision over Donnie Booth, 108, unattached, of Eckhart, Md.

Marty Mull, 122, Diamond Athletic Club, won decision over Eugene Mann, 122, Rocket Athletic Club.

Bivins Decisions Curtis Sheppard

5,054 Witness Heavy Bout In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP) — Jimmy Bivins, 185¾, of Cleveland, O., won an unanimous decision over Curtis (Hatchetman) Sheppard, 197¾, of Philadelphia, in a 10-round boxing feature tonight.

Bivins had no trouble, except in the sixth, when Sheppard showered him with rights and left.

Sheppard was on his knees when the bell sounded at the end of the 10th.

In the semi-final of the show, which drew a gross of $18,524 and a paid attendance of 5,054, Charley Crump of Baltimore, 194, won an eight round decision over Leo Stoll, 196, of Baltimore.

LYTELL SCORES KO

BOSTON, April 21 (AP) — Bert Lytell, 158, the southpaw slugging Fresno, California., Negro, knocked out Jota Jota Fernandez, 155, of Caracas, Venezuela, in the sixth round of their scheduled 10-round feature boxing bout tonight at Mechanics Building.

The mustacheoed Jota Jota, who bills himself as the South American middleweight titlist, was able to cope with the wide-swinging Lytell only in the third round, when he scored frequently with both hands to the head and body. But he was on the canvas for a nine-count in the first round and took eight after being knocked through the ropes in the fifth.

Lytell dropped him for the third time early in the sixth and then, continuing his two-fisted attack to the head, forced the Venezuelan to take the full count at 1:51.

Hank Wyse Scores Shutout Triumph Over Cincinnati

Yields Three Blows As Cubs Win, 3 To 0

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—Henry Wyse, veteran curveballer, throttled Cincinnati's high-geared offense by setting the Reds down with only three hits for the Cubs' first shutout victory of the season, 3 to 0, before 6,699 chilled fans today.

It was the Cubs' third straight victory to elevate them to .500 rating after opening the season with three losses in a row.

A slow-rolling infield hit to Stan Hack by Ray Lamanno in the second inning was the only safety off Wyse's brilliant hurling until the ninth. Then, however, Bobby Adams and Lamanno rapped out singles that eliminated any second-guessing about the possibility of a no-hitter.

Joe McCarthy Marks His 60th Birthday; Likes Life On Farm

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Joe McCarthy, fully recovered from the illness which forced him to quit as manager of the New York Yankees, today observed his 60th birthday determined to "forget baseball."

McCarthy, who brought seven world series titles and eight American League pennants to the Yankees over a span of 13 years before retiring during the 1946 season, recently turned down an offer to succeed Leo (The Lip) Durocher as Brooklyn manager.

Today, his wife lent emphasis to that decision by announcing at their farm home in nearby East Amherst:

"Joe is through with baseball forever. He likes this life out here. It has made a new man of him. It has given him back his health. He won't return as a baseball manager."

Fontaine Knocks Out Kessler In 7th Round

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP) — Juste Fontaine, 137, Milwaukee, knocked out Ruby Kessler, 144, New York, in 1:52 of the seventh round of their scheduled 10-round bout at The Arena tonight.

A crowd of 4,464 fight fans who paid a gate of $13,517 saw Fontaine bring down Kessler with a left hook to the jaw after softening him up with a left to the stom[illegible].

Kessler, who earlier hammered Fontaine to the horizontal for a three count in the third round, took the full count but was up so quickly after the last count that many fans protested.

In a 10-round semi-final, Gene Burton, 142, New York, and Doug Ratford, 139½, New York, fought to a draw.

Bi-State Executive Council Will Meet

The executive council of the Bi-State Baseball League will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the Lonaconing Republican Club. The council comprises a representative of each team in the 10-club circuit.

George Layman, umpire-in-chief, requests that each team have its home umpire attend this meeting.

Insurance for the players will be discussed.

Skins Sign Rookies

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — Coach Turk Edwards of the Washington pro football Redskins said today two more rookies have signed 1947 contracts.

They are:

Don Bunge, 22 years old, 235-pound, 6 foot, 7½ inch tackle from the University of Minnesota.

Everett Wheeler, 22 year old, 215-pound, 6-3 center from the University of Arkansas.

Green Stops Falco

SCRANTON, Pa., April 21 (AP) — Johnny Green, 148, Buffalo, N. Y., knocked out Joey Falco, 153, Philadelphia, tonight in the first round of a scheduled 10-rounder at Town Hall.

A crowd of 2,061, paid $3,876 to see Green score with a savage right hand uppercut and a series of left hooks in one minute, 54 seconds of the opening session. The defeat was Falco's first in 17 appearances in Scranton rings.

PHALANX INSTALLED 2-1 CHOICE TO WIN THE KENTUCKY DERBY

ST. LOUIS, April 21 — (AP) — Phalanx, winner of a section of the Wood Memorial last Saturday, was a 2-1 favorite to win the Kentucky Derby in Betting Commissioner John J. Carroll's future book today.

The brown colt owned by the Whitney Stables opened at 10 to 1, the current figure on Cosmic Bomb, who was a 5-1 winter book choice.

Carroll listed Faultless at 3-1, down from 5-1, and On Trust at 6-1. Double Jay is 8-1, backed from 10-1, and Jet Pilot, at 15-1 in the winter book, now is 10-1. Other figures: Riskolater 15-1; Atomac Power 20-1, Stepfather 20-1, Cornish Knight 20-1; Owners Choice 30-1, and W. L. Sickle 30-1.

Durocher Case Closed, Chandler Tells Brooklyn

Reconsideration Asked By Dodger Officials

CINCINNATI, April 21 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler today turned down a request by Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Ford Frick, president of the National League, that he reconsider the case of Dodger manager Leo Durocher, whom he suspended for the 1947 season.

The commissioner's office said in a statement that Rickey and Frick, along with Walter O'Malley and Judge Henry L. Ughattan, part owners of the Dodgers, and Arthur Mann, assistant to Rickey, had conferred with Chandler "to ask him to reconsider the Durocher case."

"The commissioner declined, stating the Durocher case was closed," the statement concluded.

The Brooklyn party and Frick were reported en route back to New York, and were not available for comment.

In suspending Durocher April 9, Chandler said the action came "as a result of the accumulation of unpleasant incidents, in which he (Durocher) had been involved, which the commissioner construes as detrimental to baseball x x x."

Rickey since has named Burt Shotton to pilot the 1947 Dodgers.

BIDWILL FUNERAL TO BE HELD TODAY

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP) — His mourners including Mayor Martin Kennelly, Jack Dempsey and persons from all walks of the sports realm, Charles W. Bidwill, prominent Chicago sportsman, will be buried tomorrow in Calvary Cemetery.

Services will be held at St. Catherine of Sienna Catholic Church for the 51-year-old owner of the Chicago Cardinals, who died Saturday morning of pneumonia.

Pall-bearers will include George Halas, cross-town rival owner of the Chicago Bears; William H. Johnston, Bidwill's partner in horse and dog tracks; John R. Johnston, brother of William; Arch Wolfe and Ray Bennigsen of Bidwill's staff; Thomas Downes and Walter Carrigan, two detectives and close friends of Bidwill; and Robert Carey, representative of the estate of Thomas Carey, owner of Hawthorne Race Track, of which Bidwill was managing director.

Chicago Notches Third Straight, Tops Tigers, 6-4

Leaders Of League Defeat Newhouser

DETROIT, April 21 (AP)—Chicago's surprising White Sox maintained their unbeaten pace today with a 10-hit attack that beat the Detroit Tigers' ace, Hal Newhouser, 6 to 4, and kept the Sox on top of the American League standings.

It was the third straight triumph for Chicago, which wasn't scored on for 22 straight innings before Detroit chased across three runs in the fifth.

By that time the Sox already had five runs—three of them in the first inning when Newhouser walked three men and hit Ralph Hodgin in the head with a pitch that sent the Chicago left fielder to Harper Hospital with a concussion and bad bruise. Box:

LANE'S ANNOUNCEMENT COMES AS "COMPLETE SHOCK" TO MAHONEY

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 21. (AP)—Chairman George P. Mahoney of the Maryland Racing Commission said here tonight that an announcement by Governor Lane of Maryland that he would appoint Stuart S. Janney, Jr. to succeed Mahoney "came as a complete shock and very much of a surprise to me."

Mahoney is here to attend the meeting of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners.

"I left Baltimore at noon today and the governor had not contacted me in the matter," he said. "I'm here to transact business for the State of Maryland and don't want to comment further at this time."

Mahoney's term expires July 1.

Lane To Appoint Janney As New Racing Chairman

George Mahoney's Term Ends July 1

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 21 (AP) — Governor Lane announced tonight he would appoint Stuart S. Janney, Jr., Baltimore attorney and turfman, as the new chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission to succeed George P. Mahoney.

Mahoney's term expires July 1.

In a statement Lane said that "in view of the discussion in the newspapers as to my intentions with respect to this office, I have concluded that it was best for me to make an announcement at this time."

Mahoney's position respecting race track "reforms," have provoked controversies. He has been mentioned as a candidate for one of the more important offices to be voted on at the annual meeting of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners opening in Lexington, Ky., tomorrow.

Named By O'Conor

He was named chairman of the Maryland agency in 1945 by former Governor Herbert R. O'Conor.

Janney, prominent Maryland horseman, is a director of the Maryland Horse Breeders Association. He was admitted to the bar in 1932 and served as a marine corps officer during World War II.

The new chairman is the owner and rider of Winton, renowned Maryland steeplechase champion.

He is a son of the late Stuart S. Janney law partner of the late Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland. An uncle, Jarvis Spencer, was at one time chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission.

After Mahoney became chairman the "mouse test" for detection of stimulated horses was instituted and brought protest from some horsemen.

Last fall, members of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, which embraces 90 per cent of the Maryland horsemen, voted to withhold their horses from racing at the Laurel track in protest of a commission-sponsored receiving barn.

A compromise was reached one day before racing began at Laurel.

Proposes "Blackbook"

Last week, Mahoney announced that his proposed "Mahoney blackbook" to weed out the "crooked few" from U. S. race tracks would be placed before the national association at the Kentucky meeting.

The "blackbook" is part of his plan for a central licensing information bureau "to keep an index of everyone connected with racing, owners, trainers, jockeys, jockey agents and all others who require a license," he explained.

Mahoney said if a "mark is placed against an individual upon proof of wrong doing," he would be barred from further privileges in racing until the record is cleared.

Mahoney asserted that a "man may get into trouble in one state, and yet go to another and get a license."

NBA Will Approve Walcott-Louis Go

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP) — The executive committee of the National Boxing Association announced today it will approve a heavyweight title bout between Champion Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott, Camden, N. J. veteran.

The action, announced in a committee statement, said that Chairman Leon Rains of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission had announced that Promoter Herman Taylor and the managers of Walcott have offered a $200,000 guarantee to Louis if he will meet Walcott in Philadelphia.

The statement said that the NBA committee "made it clear that the NBA is not in the matchmaking business and is not interested in the terms for such a bout, but that such a bout would have NBA approval because Walcott is rated at the top of outstanding boxers challenging for Louis' title."

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

✔ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and adults are victims of Pin-Worms.

Watch for the warning signs, especially the embarrassing, nagging rectal itch. After centuries of Pin-Worm distress a really effective way to deal with them has been established through JAYNE'S P-W, the new Pin-Worm treatment developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets give satisfaction or your money back. So why take chances on Pin-Worms! If you suspect this ugly infection, ask your druggist for P-W and follow the directions.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

I SUFFERED FOR 1½ YEARS with RHEUMATIC PAINS says 60-Year-Old G. E. Worker

Tells How One Bottle of MUSCLE-RUB Brought Him Fast Relief. Feels Fine Now

Mr. Peter Dmytryshyn, a General Electric Worker of Pittsfield, Mass. writes: "My advice to anyone suffering the tortures of Rheumatic Pains is to get a bottle of Muscle-Rub—but quick! I know, for I suffered with these awful pains for over a year and a half. Then I read about Muscle-Rub and bought a bottle. It certainly did the trick—and I feel fine now. So if you are suffering as I suffered, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Muscle-Rub today."

Muscle-Rub is a doctor's formula—an external preparation—and is sold on an iron clad money back guarantee. If half a bottle doesn't bring a marked improvement in your condition—your druggist will refund every penny you paid. Get Muscle-Rub today at any drug store.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

NEW YORK, April 21—Regardless of what you hear about Jennifer Jones' plans—her next picture after "Portrait of Jenny" will be "The Dark Wood" at 20th Century-Fox—and that ain't all. Tyrone Power will co-star—and that ain't bad! And then to add to the importance 20th is giving the Christine Weston novel, Otto Preminger will both produce and direct. Jennifer, of course, plays the war widow who falls in love with a man who looks almost identically like her husband.

Edgar Bergen

Since Jennifer has yet to finish "Portrait of Jenny" and Otto has "Daisy Kenyon" on his schedule, it isn't likely that the picture will get underway until late in the year.

June Havoc didn't turn down the starring role in the London company of "Annie Get Your Gun" for nothing. She had a movie up her sleeve, one of the top roles with George Raft in "Intrigue"—and she wanted this more than another stage hit. Well, June has proved what she can do on the stage for she was a big hit replacing Betty Field in "Dream Girl."

June says something interesting. "Unless you are a Helen Hayes, a Tallulah Bankhead or a Lynn Fontanne, an actress needs a motion picture now and then to keep up the old prestige. And even if you are on top—a picture is very important. Look what 'The Best Years of Our Lives' did for Frederic March."

Every time I print something about "Anna Lucasta," I have to eat my words. But it comes too straight to ignore that John Wildberg and Philip Yordan will leap in and make an independent movie of their stage hit if they can get Paulette Goddard to say "yes" to playing Anna.

If they can't get Paulette, they'll put that $500,000 sales tag back on the property and settle back to listening to the Hollywood bids again.

This is still the story that might lure Greta Garbo back to the movies—if anything will.

It's hard to believe that the mother of an actress who recently had a baby is trying so hard to break up her daughter's marriage that she's practically camping at the hospital trying to get the girl to come home with her, instead of returning to her husband!

Naturally, in a case like this, it is impossible to mention names, but I think this is such malicious meddling on the part of a mother-in-law that I can only say—if the shoe pinches in any particular quarter, wear it, lady.

I understand the husband is so worried that he is almost a hospital case himself.

I'm delighted to break the news that my good friends, Douglas and Mary Lee Fairbanks, expect their third child in September. They have two little girls, Daphne, age 6, and Victoria, who is 4—so it isn't hard to guess that they will be very happy to welcome a little boy.

The Fairbanks are wonderful parents and it's to bad the quiet, charming home life they lead is so often overlooked in the splashy divorce stories that rate so much attention about Hollywood.

David Niven told me that Mary Lee couldn't have been more marvelous to his two children when their mother died so tragically last year. Their homes are near each other and every day she came to the Niven house to supervise their meals, or brought them back to play with her own children.

The Harry Cohn-Charles Vidor feud goes on and on.

Cohn recalled the director to the Columia iot to handle "Gallant Blade," a story that Vidor feels is far beneath his importance and the salary he is drawing.

It's too bad these two can't get together on an amicable understanding, but I guess that is hard in a case where two people have their sides to an argument and each thinks he is right.

Marcia Ralston, former wife of Phil Harris, returns to the screen for her first movie in six years in "Out Of The Blue" with George Brent, Virginia Mayo and Turhan Bey at Eagle-Lion.

She's a good looking girl and says she's tired of staying around her valley house and "making the San Fernando Valley her drone."

Her house isn't far from where Phil and Alice Faye live—just a coincidence, of course.

If you remember the story about night club singer Diana Johns' unusual courtship and marriage to wealthy Joseph Grade that appeared in the American Weekly about a year ago—you'll be interested in the sequel.

They are getting a very unusual divorce,

At least her charges are unusual. She'll say that following their marriage in Culver City in 1945, Grade's mother gave a wedding dinner consisting entirely of Salami and pickles just to prove her disapproval of the marriage before all the guests!

And from there on, things went from Salami and wurst.

Snapshots of Hollywood and New York collected at random: Diana Lynn is goin down to Texas to visit Bob Neal's mother—which may or may not mean wedding bells. With Diana—you never know.

Lee Marshall and Bob Walker still see each other—but her real heart was in Hollywood over the weekend to visit her. The lady's cagey about his full name—but the first name is Bill.

Edgar Bergen, Frances and the baby, of course, leave for Sweden July 4 to visit his relatives. An audience with the King of Sweden highlights their trip.

Speaking of the Scandinavian influence—Irene Dunne is hilarious with that Norwegian accent she's developing for "I Remember Mama." She's using it in even casual conversations.

I'm writing this column with my bags all packed and my typewriter atop a hat box, all ready to plane for home and Hollywood tomorrow.

I love Hollywood—but I'd be telling a fib if I didn't say I have had a wonderful, if hectic time commuting between Baltimore and New York for the past month. One of the boys who has done so much to help in every way is good-looking Ed Sullivan. (Not the columnist—but the same name) of the 20th publicity department. And to all of you other public relations pals — thanks a million.

But to get back to today's scribing—Wallace Ford will be a grandfather in June when his daughter, Patty, welcomes a baby.

Pep DeLucia, who owns the Chantecleer, is teaching Audrey Totter how to drive a car and concentrate on him at the same time.

Tallulah Bankhead comes to the coast to star in "Private Lives" this summer.

Dinah Shore and George Montgomery, Michael North, Martha Vickers, Dennis Morgan and lots of others will be on hand when Bror Dahlberg presents those happy kids, Gloria and Dick Moorman, both ex-GIs, with that pre-engineered home in the Valley next Sunday. Even the Lieutenant Governor will be on hand to welcome the happy couple to the home they won.

That's all today.

ENDS BAD CASE OF CONSTIPATION

Woman Finds Relief Eating Famous Breakfast Cereal Daily

Is constipation causing you worry and unhappiness? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

"I am 58 years old. I had been to doctors a... spent money on medicines to get relief from constipation. One morning I heard about KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN on the radio and went right out and bought a box. Believe me, it has done wonders for me! If this letter will help anyone else as ALL-BRAN has helped me, pass it along with my permission." Mrs. Hope L. Peak, 810 E. Colfax Ave., Denver, Colo.

You, too, may find lasting relief if you suffer from constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet. Simply eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day, either as a cereal or in muffins—and drink plenty of water. Try it! If after 10 days, you are not completely satisfied with the results, send the empty carton to the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan, and get double your money back.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative but a wholesome breakfast cereal made from the vital outer layers of wheat. Ask your grocer for KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN today.

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

✔ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and adults are victims of Pin-Worms.

Watch for the warning signs, especially the embarrassing, nagging rectal itch. After centuries of Pin-Worm distress a really effective way to deal with them has been established through JAYNE'S P-W, the new Pin-Worm treatment developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets give satisfaction or your money back. So why take chances on Pin-Worms! If you suspect this ugly infection, ask your druggist for P-W and follow the directions.
It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

I SUFFERED FOR 1½ YEARS with RHEUMATIC PAINS

says 60-Year-Old R. E. Worker Tells How One Bottle of MUSCLE-RUB Brought Him Fast Relief. Feels Fine Now

Mr. Peter Dmytryshyn, a General Electric Worker of Pittsfield, Mass. writes: "My advice to anyone suffering the tortures of Rheumatic Pains is to get a bottle of Muscle-Rub—but quick! I know, for I suffered with these awful pains for over a year and a half. Then I read about Muscle-Rub and bought a bottle. It certainly did the trick—and I feel fine now. So if you are suffering as I suffered, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Muscle-Rub today."

Muscle-Rub is a doctor's formula—an external preparation—and is sold on an iron clad money back guarantee. If half a bottle doesn't bring a marked improvement in your condition—your druggist will refund every penny you paid. Get Muscle-Rub today at any drug store.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

NEW YORK, April 21—Regardless of what you hear about Jennifer Jones' plans—her next picture after "Portrait of Jenny" will be "The Dark Wood" at 20th Century-Fox—and that ain't all. Tyrone Power will co-star—and that ain't bad! And then to add to the importance 20th is giving the Christine Weston novel, Otto Preminger will both produce and direct. Jennifer, of course, plays the war widow who falls in love with a man who looks almost identically like her husband.

Edgar Bergen

Since Jennifer has yet to finish "Portrait of Jenny" and Otto has "Daisy Kenyon" on his schedule, it isn't likely that the picture will get underway until late in the year.

June Havoc didn't turn down the starring role in the London company of "Annie Get Your Gun" for nothing. She had a movie up her sleeve, one of the top roles with George Raft in "Intrigue"—and she wanted this more than another stage hit. Well, June has proved what she can do on the stage for she was a big hit replacing Betty Field in "Dream Girl."

June says something interesting. "Unless you are a Helen Hayes, a Tallulah Bankhead or a Lynn Fontanne, an actress needs a motion picture now and then to keep up the old prestige. And even if you are on top—a picture is very important. Look what 'The Best Years of Our Lives' did for Frederic March."

Every time I print something about "Anna Lucasta," I have to eat my words. But it comes too straight to ignore that John Wildberg and Philip Yordan will leap in and make an independent movie of their stage hit if they can get Paulette Goddard to say "yes" to playing Anna.

If they can't get Paulette, they'll put that $500,000 sales tag back on the property and settle back to listening to the Hollywood bids again.

This is still the story that might lure Greta Garbo back to the movies—if anything will.

It's hard to believe that the mother of an actress who recently had a baby is trying so hard to break up her daughter's marriage that she's practically camping at the hospital trying to get the girl to come home with her, instead of returning to her husband!

Naturally, in a case like this, it is impossible to mention names, but I think this is such malicious meddling on the part of a mother-in-law that I can only say—if the shoe pinches in any particular quarter, wear it, lady.

I understand the husband is so worried that he is almost a hospital case himself.

I'm delighted to break the news that my good friends, Douglas and Mary Lee Fairbanks, expect their third child in September. They have two little girls, Daphne, age 6, and Victoria, who is 4—so it isn't hard to guess that they will be very happy to welcome a little boy.

The Fairbanks are wonderful parents and it's to bad the quiet, charming home life they lead is so often overlooked in the splashy divorce stories that rate so much attention about Hollywood.

David Niven told me that Mary Lee couldn't have been more marvelous to his two children when their mother died so tragically last year. Their homes are near each other and every day she came to the Niven house to supervise their meals, or brought them back to play with her own children.

The Harry Cohn-Charles Vidor feud goes on and on.

Cohn recalled the director to the Columia iot to handle "Gallant Blade," a story that Vidor feels is far beneath his importance and the salary he is drawing.

It's too bad these two can't get together on an amicable understanding, but I guess that is hard in a case where two people have their sides to an argument and each thinks he is right.

Marcia Ralston, former wife of Phil Harris, returns to the screen for her first movie in six years in "Out Of The Blue" with George Brent, Virginia Mayo and Turhan Bey at Eagle-Lion.

She's a good looking girl and says she's tired of staying around her valley house and "making the San Fernando Valley her drone."

Her house isn't far from where Phil and Alice Faye live—just a coincidence, of course.

If you remember the story about night club singer Diana Johns' unusual courtship and marriage to wealthy Joseph Grade that appeared in the American Weekly about a year ago—you'll be interested in the sequel.

They are getting a very unusual divorce.

At least her charges are unusual. She'll say that following their marriage in Culver City in 1945, Grade's mother gave a wedding dinner consisting entirely of Salami and pickles just to prove her disapproval of the marriage before all the guests!

And from there on, things went from Salami and wurst.

Snapshots of Hollywood and New York collected at random: Diana Lynn is goin down to Texas to visit Bob Neal's mother—which may or may not mean wedding bells. With Diana—you never know.

Lee Marshall and Bob Walker still see each other—but her real heart was in Hollywood over the weekend to visit her. The lady's cagey about his full name—but the first name is Bill.

Edgar Bergen, Frances and the baby, of course, leave for Sweden July 4 to visit his relatives. An audience with the King of Sweden highlights their trip.

Speaking of the Scandinavian influence—Irene Dunne is hilarious with that Norwegian accent she's developing for "I Remember Mama." She's using it in even casual conversations.

I'm writing this column with my bags all packed and my typewriter atop a hat box, all ready to plane for home and Hollywood tomorrow.

I love Hollywood—but I'd be telling a fib if I didn't say I have had a wonderful, if hectic time commuting between Baltimore and New York for the past month. One of the boys who has done so much to help in every way is good-looking Ed Sullivan. (Not the columnist—but the same name) of the 20th publicity department. And to all of you other public relations pals — thanks a million.

But to get back to today's scribing—Wallace Ford will be a grandfather in June when his daughter, Patty, welcomes a baby.

Pep DeLucia, who owns the Chantecleer, is teaching Audrey Totter how to drive a car and concentrate on him at the same time.

Tallulah Bankhead comes to the coast to star in "Private Lives" this summer.

Dinah Shore and George Montgomery, Michael North, Martha Vickers, Dennis Morgan and lots of others will be on hand when Bror Dahlberg presents those happy kids, Gloria and Dick Moorman, both ex-GIs, with that pre-engineered home in the Valley next Sunday. Even the Lieutenant Governor will be on hand to welcome the happy couple to the home they won.

That's all today.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their kindness in our recent bereavement, the death of James Edward Emerick. We wish also to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars, and we are deeply grateful to the Rev. John Bucher and Rev. W. J. Lloyd. Our thanks for their services.

MRS ANNA M. EMERICK and FAMILY

We desire to express our thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and following the death of our beloved, George K. Garvin. We are also very grateful to Rev. C. N. Hutchinson, and to those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their cars. May God bless you all.

HIS WIFE and FAMILY

We are taking this means to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and death of our father, Richard A. Stine, Piedmont, W. Va. Also to those who offered floral tributes and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their kindness in our recent bereavement, the death of James Edward Emerick. We wish also to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars, and we are deeply grateful to the Rev. John Bucher and Rev. W. J. Lloyd. Our thanks for their services.

MRS. ANNA M. EMERICK and FAMILY

We desire to express our thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and following the death of our beloved, George K. Garvin. We are also very grateful to Rev. C. N. Hutchinson, and to those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their cars. May God bless you all.

HIS WIFE and FAMILY

We are taking this means to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and death of our father, Richard A. Stine, Piedmont, W. Va. Also to those who offered floral tributes and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

Board Will Ask Taylor To Become Recreation Head

Long Casts Sole Dissenting Vote

By a vote of 5 to 1, the Cumberland Recreation Board decided last night to invite Charles L. Taylor, Clarksburg, W. Va., to become a full-time recreation director in the city at an annual salary of $4,500.

Taylor, who now holds a position as assigner of recreation directors for the National Recreation Association, was in Cumberland last week and said he would be willing to take the position at that salary, according to Clifton Van Roby, a board member.

The dissenting vote was cast by John J. Long, board chairman, who said that while he was favorably impressed by Taylor and thinks he is the best available man for the position, the $4,500 salary is too high. Stating that a salary of $4,000 would be more suitable, Long said he feels that other applicants should be interviewed before a final choice is made.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of county schools and one of the board members who interviewed Taylor, pointed out that no other qualified men had signified interest in the position, and that Taylor was rated at the top of a list of six applicants provided by the National Recreation Association.

John I. Spiker and J. Suter Kegg, secretary, said that the job of organizing recreation in Cumberland on a year-round basis will be a difficult one, and that an able director probably could not be secured for a lower salary. Clair R. Mease, the seventh member of the board, was not present to cast a vote.

Roby was instructed to wire Taylor, notifying him of the board's decision and asking him to report by May 1 if possible. Mrs. C. Erich Roeder seconded Spiker's motion to approve Taylor's application.

Mayor Thomas S. Post, who attended the meeting in an ex-officio capacity, said the deadline for completing the city's budget for the fiscal year is May 25, and the board started work on drawing up a temporary recreation budget for Taylor's consideration, if he accepts the position as director.

MAYOR, BRUCE MAY TESTIFY ON POLLUTION

Arrangements are being made for Mayor Thomas S. Post and Charles J. Bruce, members of the Upper Potomac River Board, to appear at hearings in Washington this week on an omnibus pollution control bill, Mayor Post said last night.

Following announcement over the weekend that hearings would be held on the bill, Bruce wired E. R. Cotton, executive secretary of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin, asking whether Cumberland representatives could testify regarding pollution of the Potomac River.

Cotton wired Mayor Post yesterday that he is making arrangements for the mayor and Bruce, who is superintendent of the Evitts Greek Water Company, to testify before the Senate Public Works Committee on either Thursday or Friday morning, depending upon the length of testimony of other witnesses.

The Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin and other government agencies have been called to present their views on a bill authorizing 100 million dollars annually in loans and federal grants to end stream pollution. The bill provides for compulsory compliance through court suits.

WAGE AGREEMENT REACHED BY B. & O. AND BROTHERHOODS

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 21—(AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and representatives of two workers' brotherhoods announced today that a wage agreement had been reached after six weeks of negotiations, and the union men said it contained "many concessions."

B. F. Davisson, of Grafton, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and H. A. Porch, of Cumberland, Md., general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, described the agreement in a joint statement as "the best contract ever made."

The settlement, the company said, would remain in effect for one year from June 1, 1947.

All-County Music Festival Will Be Presented Here This Evening

There will be two changes in conductors for the seventh annual spring all-county music festival to be presented tonight at 8:15 at Fort Hill High School, Jack E. Platt, director of music education of Allegany County, announced last night.

Earle Wilde, Allegany faculty member, scheduled to conduct the orchestra is a patient in Allegany Hospital. Wilton Sykes, elementary string director, will take his place. Mr. Platt will substitute for Miss Dorothy Willison, in directing the a cappella group, due to death in the latter's family.

Since there has been a sell out, there are no more tickets available, Mr. Platt said last night, and that it would be useless to expect to get them at the door. The Potomac Edison company is running special buses to the school. They will leave Baltimore street at 7:30, 7:45 and 8 o'clock, and will take care of the return trip following the concert.

The 500 participants in the concert will arrive at Fort Hill at 9:30 this morning and rehearse for the evening performance, until time for the dress rehearsal in the afternoon, which will be presented to the junior-senior high school of Fort Hill.

Several innovations in the program this year will include a piano soloist, small groups before the curtain, a combined choral and instrumental group with approximately 100 selected voices and a selected band of 35. Preceding the festival there will be a demonstration of the work by the elementary string, wood wind and brass pupils.

The first selection will be "Stout Hearted Men," from "Student Prince", to be played by the orchestra with Wilton Sykes directing. A girls' chorus of 200 voices, trained by Miss Annetta Yates, Fort Hill, will sing, "Jaunting to the Fair," "Alleluia" and "Lullaby."

The a cappella chorus of 100 students will sing "Swansea Town," a Hampshire folk song; "Beautiful Savior" and "Vale of Tuoni."

Schubert's "The Linden Tree", Waring's "The Night Is Young," and Frank Black's arrangement of "Great Day" will be sung by the boys chorus of 90 voices, led by Miss Margery Hinkle, Beall High.

Sam Hunter, Beall High School, will play "Arkansas Traveler" and "Repartee" as his two piano solos.

The mixed chorus of 300 students, directed by Joseph Derry, Central, Lonaconing, will sing, Mozart's "Gloria," "Turn Ye To Me" and "The Lass with the Delicate Air."

S. Lua Sykes will direct the 74 piece band in playing "Sleepers Awake," "Victory and Fame," and selections from "Show Boat."

Vets' Program Slated At Teachers' College

The Federal Works Agency yesterday approved a project for veterans' educational facilities at State Teachers College, Frostburg, at a cost of approximately $40,000, Rep. J. Glenn Beall reported last night.

Beall said the project includes laboratory facilities and necessary equipment. He added that the application for the project was made by Dr. Thomas Pullen, state superintendent of schools.

Organization Of Safety Groups To Be Discussed

A dinner and organization meeting for safety and fire prevention staffs of industrial plants in this area will be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Westvaco Club in Luke, according to John J Long, director of safety and fire prevention for the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Long said it is hoped to co-ordinate the efforts of industrial organizations and to develop an educational program regarding safety and fire prevention.

He said officers will be elected and a constitution drawn up. Plans will be discussed for securing outside speakers at future monthly meetings.

Among the approximately 30 persons who have accepted invitations to attend Thursday's dinner meeting are John Purinton and his staff from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; Thomas Gulland of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory at Pinto; Robert B. Kimble, representing the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Magnus Work and his staff from the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corpration of America; H. Lee Silcox, chairman of first aid and accident prevention for Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross; and representatives of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, the Potomac Edison Company, the Western Mayland Railway, and the General Textile Mill at Lonaconing.

Long said he and four members of his staff will represent the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

A preliminary meeting was held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club last month to determine the amount of interest in the proposed organization.

Thomas S. Watson Resigns As Marine Commandant Here

Thomas S. Watson, commandant of Francis K. Finan Detachment Marine Corps League, for the past six months, tendered his resignation at last night's meeting of the detachment in order to give more time to his duties as state commandant.

Ralph E. Patch, senior vice commander, automatically succeeds Watson as commandant here. William D. Baer was moved up from the post of junior vice commander to succeed Patch, and H. J. Luther, a veteran of First Marine Division campaigns at Tulagi, Guadalcanal, Cape Gloucester and Peleliu, was elected junior vice commander.

Plans were discussed for the next meeting of state officers, which will be held in Cumberland Sunday afternoon, May 18. At that time the location of state headquarters will be considered. The three Marine Corps League detachments in Maryland are located in Cumberland, Hagerstown and Baltimore.

At a state meeting in Hagerstown earlier this month, John T. Fey, judge advocate of the local detachment, was named adjutant, and Paul A. Divico was elected state service officer.

Miss Minnie I. Strawderman, the only woman member of the detachment here, resigned as adjutant, and Charles J. Norris was elected to succeed her. Joseph H. Wilson, James M. Kennedy and Gail P. Northcraft were named as a house committee.

The next meeting will be held Monday, April 28, at 8 p. m.

A meeting of the Auxiliary Unit will be held tonight at 8 at league headquarters, 120 South Mechanic Street, when new members will have their final opportunity to sign the unit's charter and become charter members. Those eligible for membership are wives, mothers, sisters, widows and daughters, the latter over 16 years of age, of men who have served or are now serving in the Marine Corps.

TO APPEAR IN PLAY—The three students shown above will play leading roles in the Ursuline Academy's Senior class play "Miss Posey from Poseyville," which will be presented in SS. Peter and Paul Hall tonight at 8:15 o'clock. They are (left to right)—Miss Colleen Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Boyle, Mt. Savage, who will play the role of "Mrs. Ella Dean." Charles Spooler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martz, Wiley Ford, W. Va., a Senior at LaSalle, who will play the male lead of "Clark Kendall" and Miss Anna Margaret Gillard, 422 Valley Street, who will portray "Miss Kay Foster." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Gillard.

Red Men Convene Here Today For State Conclave

A four division parade tonight at 7 o'clock will mark the first day of the annual Great Sun Council Fire of the Maryland Reservation, Improved Order of Red Men, with over 400 delegates expected for the three-day conclave.

The parade promises to be a colorful affair with tribes from all parts of the state coming here in full regalia, feathers and all. An outstanding feature will be the display put on by the Red Men's Tribe from Millersburg, Pa., which has won national recognition for its drill team and costumes, and is expected here.

The parade will form at 6:30 p. m. in the vicinity of the State Armory, South Centre Street, with Capt. Thomas F. Conlon, veteran Cumberland parade marshal doing the organizing.

The first division, with W. Ewald Ruehl as marshal will form on South George Street, facing Harrison and will include Logan Tribe No. 155, Boonsboro; Patuxent Tribe, No. 58, and Mianus Council No. 3, both of Baltimore and Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Frostburg.

The second division, with John M. Lilley as marshal, will assemble on Salem Street facing Centre Street. Fort Hill High School Band will lead, followed by Black Hawk Tribe No. 131, Westernport; Shawnah Council No. 49, North East, Md.; Ocklokonee Tribe No. 212, Oxford, Pa., and Squadron No. 13, Sons of the Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

Gene Lilley will marshal the third division, forming on Harrison Street, facing North Centre Street. Oakland City Bank of Oakland will lead the division followed by Cherokee Tribe No. 197, Hagerstown; Tioga Tribe No. 126, Midland; Spring Glenn Pennsylvania Tribe of Spring Glenn, Pa., and Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars Drum and Bugle Corps.

Commissioner William V. Keegan will marshal the fourth division forming on Union Street. Arion Band of Frostburg will lead the division, followed by Everett Pennsylvania Tribe; Altoona, Pennsylvania Tribe; Platoon of Scouts on horses; cars of veteran Red Men; other visiting units; Tonkaway Tribe No. 120 Band and candidates; Tonkaway Tribe No. 120; and Fulton Myers Post No. 153, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

The parade will be led by a platoon of City and State Police on motorcycles. Route of march will be north on Centre to Mechanic, south to Baltimore to George and back to the State Armory.

The convention will officially open at the State Armory preceding the parade with an address of welcome by Mayor Thomas S. Post. Following the parade Logan Tribe No. 155 will confer degrees at 8 p. m. at the Armory.

W. E. Ruehl, Great Sachem, will make an address Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Fraternal Order of Eggles Ball Room after which memorial services will be conducted for departed members. The eulogy will be given by F. Brooke Whiting.

The banquet and dance of the council will be tomorrow evening at Ali Ghan Shrine Club.

Official business will take up the council's time Thursday with election of officers scheduled for 10 a. m.

Members of the Degree of Pocahontas will conduct their meetings in the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom during the three-day session and are scheduled to participate with the Red Men in the memorial service on Wednesday.

The class adoption of "palefaces" tonight at the State Armory will be the first centennial class in Maryland in honor of Great Incohonee W. L. Bently, Jr., Norfolk, Va. The Great Council of the United States is celebrating its 100th anniversary this year and centennial classes are being initiated.

Following Wednesday night's memorial service, a business meeting and nomination of state chiefs is slated. Ruehl, W. I. Hanna, Baltimore, great chief of records, and Allan L. Hill, Westernport, great keeper of the wampum, will make addresses.

Leslie W. Brown, Harrisburg, Pa., supreme district deputy great incohonee, will serve as installing officer of new chiefs elected on Thursday. William A. Harris, Jr., Snow Hill, is slated to succeed Ruehl as great sachem of the state.

VFW Drum Corps Ready For Several Parades

Henry Hart Post No. 1411 Veterans of Foreign Wars Drum and Bugle Corps met last night with 52 members present for rehearsal. The corps accepted invitations to appear in parades at Frostburg, May 18, for the I Am an American Day celebration; and at the Winchester, Virginia Apple Blossom Festival, May 2. The corps will leave post headquarters for Winchester at 8 a. m. by bus.

On May 1, the unit will participate in a May Day program at Fort Hill High School auditorium, and will parade tonight in the Red Men's convention march. The corps was instructed to report at post headquarters at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

City Employes Ask For Wage Increase

City employes, excluding firemen, policemen and hourly workers, have filed a petition with the Mayor and Council asking for an unspecified wage increase, and Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday that city officials will not oppose legislation increasing wages of city employes. The governor's office recently asked the Mayor and Council to express an opinion on such legislation.

Recent legislative acts provided increases for all workers, and pay for hourly workers has been increased five cents an hour.

County Revenue Up $1,172,719 For 1947-1948

As a result of legislation passed at the recent session of the General Assembly, Allegany County will receive in the fiscal year 1947-48 allocations totaling $2,153,335.20, an increase of $1,172,719.40 over funds received under laws enacted prior to 1947, Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., chairman of the Allegany County delegation, said last night.

This information and sources of the revenue were contained in a schedule forwarded by Secretary of State John B. Funk to Whitworth at the latter's request.

The schedule shows that the county, under laws passed before 1947, will receive the amount of $890,615.80 for schools, roads, etc., for the official year during June 30, 1947, while the county will receive $2,153,335.20 under the 1947 Acts of the General Assembly, or an increase of $1,172,719.40 for the year starting July 1.

Will Be Apportioned

Incorporated towns and cities will receive a portion of these amounts but the totals have not yet been determined.

For the fiscal year ending June 30 the schools allocation amounts to $792,165 but for the year 1947-48 the allocation will total $1,550,734, an increase of $758,569, the scedule shows. In addition, another $154,320 will be allocated to the county under the school incentive fund.

The roads allocation for the year ending June 30 totaled $136,753.92, but for 1947-48 that allocation is increased to $208,100.35, an increase of $71,346.43.

Income tax allocation to the county for the year 1946-47 amounts to $51,696.88 while for the coming fiscal year that source of revenue will provide $63,974.89, an increase of $12,278.01.

Racing Revenue Up

The county also will receive in the 1946-47 fiscal year approximately $52,248.65 from racing revenue, which was made possible by action of the 1946 special session of the legislature, but this figure is not shown on the schedule since the full effect of Sherbow allocations is desired, Secretary Funk pointed out.

However, in 1947-48, the county will receive $110,205.96 from racing revenue.

A nadditional $66,000 will be provided through admissions tax, licenses and recordation tax, from which there is no revenue for the year 1946-47, the schedule discloses.

Of this amount, $48,000 is from licenses $11,000 from admissions tax and $7,000 from recordation tax.

Another enlistee is Harold Melvin Lancaster, 30, Long, who served eight months in the Navy during the war. Shaffer is a chief motor machinist and Lancaster is a seaman first class.

Clubs Were Not Entitled To Sell Liquor On Sunday Under Old Law

Fey Says No Change Made By Delegation

Considerable misunderstanding has arisen over the new liquor law which governs Allegany County, according to members of the county delegation to Annapolis, which introduced and sponsored the bill through the legislature.

Jack T. Fey, a member of the delegation said yesterday that clubs and club operators are being very critical of the county delegates because of some clauses in the law.

Foremost among the complaints is that of Sunday closing, Fey explained, asserting that the delegation is "being unjustly accused of closing clubs on Sunday under the new law."

Fey produced a copy of the old law, and explained that the delegation attempted to re-enact as much of the old law as seemed desirable and workable, saying that the law had been declared unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals, in so far as the issuance of county liquor licenses by the court is concerned.

Refers To Old Law

He referred particularly to Subsection H of 316-H Chapter 5 of the law as passed in 1933, which provides that it is unlawful to sell beer, wine or whisky on Sunday or after midnight or before 7 a. m. The only exception in this clause is that clubs, restaurants and hotels where food is sold, were permitted to sell light beer with food.

In writing the new law, the delegation eliminated the exception, providing that no intoxicants whatever can be sold by any license holder on Sunday or after midnight or before 7 a. m. any other day, Fey explained. He said the delegation felt that all license holders should be treated equally, so far as selling hours are concerned, so eliminated the exception regarding light beer with food.

Two Communities Approve Daylight Saving Time

Westernport And Frostburg Act

Two Allegany County towns joined the Daylight Saving Time ranks last night when the Mayors and Councils of Frostburg and Westernport approved measures adopting fast time for their communities during the summer months.

Cumberland adopted daylight time April 14, and Luke's decision probably will be reached this week. Lonaconing has yet to act on the matter, but Mayor Jack Evans has indicated that town officials favor daylight time. However, the Mayor said the decision depends on the wishes of the town's businessmen.

Piedmont, W. Va., also may go along with daylight time, and will do so if Luke joins Westernport in setting clocks ahead an hour.

At a recent meeting Mayor Harold Fredlock and the Piedmont town councilmen agreed to adopt daylight time if both Westernport and Luke do.

Sixteen citizens attended the special meeting of Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore and the Frostburg Council last night, and a petition, signed by 135 residents, was presented by Ralph M. Race in behalf of daylight time.

The Frostburg Council unanimously approved a motion directing William S. Jenkins, city attorney, to prepare an ordinance providing that Frostburg go on daylight time effective Sunday at 12:01 a. m.

A special meeting will be held Wednesday night to pass on the ordinance.

At Westernport Councilman George C. Cleaver introduced a motion that Westernport adopt daylight saving time and it was seconded by Mayor Milton McIntyre and approved by the council.

No Westernport residents appeared at the meeting to speak for or against fast time.

Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Etta Theresa and Diana, and a brother, Leonard, Jr., at home; his paternal grandfather, Thomas Beard, this city, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Denmark, Cumberland.

The body will remain at the home where funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday by Rev. Julius O. Williams, pastor of McKendree Methodist Church.

Three Persons Are Treated In Hospitals

Three persons were treated in local hospitals yesterday for minor injuries, but none were admitted. They are:

Joseph Deter, 29, 632 Leiper Street, employed at the B. and O. Bolt and Forge Shop, who said he was struck on the head by a wedge that was thrown from a machine while he was at work.

Thomas Higgins, 15, Little Orleans, who was treated in Memorial Hospital for a deep laceration on the index finger of the left hand, said he suffered the injury when he accidently touched a buzz saw while attending a vocational class at Oldtown High School.

The two-and-a-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reed, 5 Grand View Terace was treated in Allegany Hospital for second degree burns. The parents told attaches a young brother pulled a pot of hot coffee down on the child's feet.

Rev. M. S. Fales Will Succeed Rev. Eisenberger

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP)—Rev. Merton S. Fales, Central Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, was elected today as moderator of the Presbytery of Baltimore, succeeding Rev. William A. Eisenberger, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Cumberland.

Named minister and elder of the Presbytery's Council were the Rev. Merval W. Weaver, Frederick, and Elder Martin Seabolt, Waverly Church.

Newly ordained, Rev. John Cameron Taylor was received into the Presbytery prior to taking up his pastorates at the First Presbyterian Church in Frostburg.

Jury Trials Open With $25,000 Suit Taking Full Day

The first jury trial of the April term of Circuit Court got underway yesterday and testimony was completed, but attorneys are scheduled to argue the case at 9:15 o'clock today.

Heard before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson, the case involves a claim of $25,000 in two damage suits resulting from a traffic accident last May 22 on the Bedford Road, in which an Everett, Pa., woman was allegedly badly hurt.

Mrs. I. Marguerite Twigg, manager of a service station and restaurant, asks $20,000 damages from Glenn Morris and the Morris Motor Express, Inc., of this city; while her husband, Richard B. Twigg, seeks $5,000 damages against the same defendant.

Woman Weeps In Court

While Twigg was on the stand, describing the mishap, his wife sat beside their attorneys and wept at intervals—apparently nervous when details of the accident were recalled. Harry I. Stegmaier and Edward J. Ryan are attorneys for the couple, while Morris is represented by W. Earle Cobey and William R. Carscaden.

Twigg testified that he was driving to Everett from Cumberland on the night of May 22 and was rounding a curve when he discovered a truck, traveling in the opposite direction and "on the wrong side of the highway." He said he swerved his car to the right, to avoid a head-on collision, then swerved back to the left to keep from hitting the guard rail. Twigg said he was traveling about 40 or 45 miles an hour and that he lost control of his car, which careened down an embankment.

Aided By Friend

Twigg said the mishap occurred about four miles from Cumberland Valley near the intersection of the Rainesburg Road, and that his wife was badly cut about the face and also suffered injuries to her spine and body. He said he took a flashlight and clambered back to the road, flagging down a car operated by Samuel Leonard, also of Everett. They placed Mrs. Twigg in the machine and started for Cumberland, Twigg testified, and on the outskirts of this city overtook a truck operated by Morris.

They signalled Morris to stop, and he agreed to follow them to Memorial Hospital.

Twigg exhibited bills from the local hospital and physicians who treated his wife, and also testified that she went to Baltimore to undergo plastic surgery, due to facial cuts. As a result of the mishap, she has become nervous and irritable he added, and "sometimes cries when people stare at the scars on her face."

Says Car Demolished

Twigg, who formerly lived in Cumberland, said his car was demolished and that his wife was unable to work for a long time.

A civil appeal case scheduled for yesterday was settled by agreement of the parties involved. Mrs. Della Cook, who received a $60 judgment against John Ravenscroft and Anna Lee Ravenscroft at a hearing before Magistrate B. J. McPartland, at Lonaconing, took an appeal, and under the agreement reached today, a judgment of $90 and costs was entered against the defendants.

Ryan was counsel for Mrs. Cook, with the defendants represented by Leslie J. Clark.

Child Injures Foot

John F. Workmeister, Jr., 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Workmeister, Park Heights was treated in Memorial Hospital last night for an injured left foot suffered when he tripped over a stone.

June Darr, 12, Baltimore Pike received treatment for a puncture in the left arm. Attaches said the child fell on a pick while playing in the yard at home.

Intent To Murder Indictment Filed Against Lepley

Veteran Shot At City Policemen

Five more indictments, involving three traversers, were docketed in Circuit Court yesterday, as the sheriffs office and deputies continued the task of serving warrants on persons indicted by the April Grand Jury last week.

The three persons indicted are Eugene S. Lepley, accused of assault with intent to murder; Peter Loncarevich, Jr., charged on two counts of false pretenses; and William G. Sponaugle, indicted on two counts of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

According to authorities, the Grand Jury brought the indictment against Lepley, a World War II veteran, for his alleged attack on City Policemen John Newhouse, Curtis MacA. Kime, Raymond Johnston and Edwin R. Lilya, on March 25.

Reported Incompetent

The 24-year-old veteran had been examined by Dr. Arthur F. Jones, county physician, who recommended that he be taken to Perry Point Hospital for mental observation and treatment. He has remained in the county jail since then, and his indictment by the Grand Jury came as a surprise in some quarters.

Loncarevich is indicted for cashing a $15 check at Rands, Inc., on March 11, and cashing a $100 check at Sears Roebuck Company on March 1. Both checks were drawn on the Commercial Savings Bank and were allegedly fraudulent.

Sponaugle is charged with stealing a load of junk on April 3, valued at $50, belonging to William Smith, Sr., and James Smith, trading as Piedmont Foundry and Machine Company. In the second indictment he is accused of stealing junk valued at $10 from William V. Collins, this city, on April 4.

Two damage suits, docketed in Circuit Court as a result of a traffic accident in which a Cumberland girl was fatally injured, have been settled by agreement of attorneys, with the full amount asked in the actions to be paid her father and the administrator of her estate.

Miss Catherine T. Insogna, Valley Street, was the victim of the crash last October 13 on the highway near Annapolis, and the driver of the machine, William R. Mitchell, was also killed. The girl, who was employed in Baltimore, died two days later in a hospital there.

Father Asked $2,500

Her father, Frank Insogna, asked $2,500 damages in one suit against George W. Della, administrator of Mitchell's estate. The action was filed by Harold E. Naughton, attorney, in the name of the State of Maryland, for the use of Frank Insogna.

In the second suit, Samuel A. Insogna, administrator of her estate, asked $500 from the administrator of Mitchell's estate.

William H. Geppert was counsel for Della in the court suits.

Trio Pleads Guilty To Taking Auto

Three Allegany County youths entered pleas of guilty to charges of unauthorized use of an automobile in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday morning and one was fined and the other two were given suspended sentences by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr.

State Trooper William McElfish said the youths, James Irving Perry, RFD Frostburg; William Thomas Willison, Eckhart, and Alden Elwood Lavin, Mt. Savage, took the automobile owned by Bernard P. Kenney, Ridgeley, Saturday night from its parking place near Union and George Streets.

Perry was fined $25 and costs of 75 cents. Willison and Lavin were sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail but the sentences were suspended and they were paroled in the custody of their parents.

The trooper said the trio "wanted to see a big city" and stole Kenney's car to drive to Baltimore. They were arrested about 12 miles from Baltimore on Route 26 by State Police from the Randallstown barracks. Sunday they were returned to Cumberland for trial.

Held For Investigation

A man identified as Floyd Parker, Oldtown Road, who was arrested last night at 6:35 o'clock by John W. Snyder, is being held in City Jail "for investigation."

Police were also holding a man who was docketed as Francis McNally, 113 Green Street, on a disorderly conduct charge. He will be given a hearing this morning in Police Court.

Local Telephone Workers Will Send Pickets To Hagerstown This Morning

Cumberland members of the Maryland Federation of Telephone Workers prepared last night to leave early this morning for Hagerstown where they planned to set up surprise picket lines in a move to curtail the return to work of telephone employes there yesterday.

There was a possibility, too, that the local pickets would continue on to Frederick where telephone employes also went back to their jobs yesterday.

Meanwhile, George Williams, strike captain, declared, "The strike front is still solid here. We will continue picketing until we get orders from Baltimore to go back to work. The return to work of telephone workers in other counties has made our members that much more determined."

Proposal Turned Down

Williams received a telegram from Robert O. Slemmer, state strike leader, last night in which the latter stated that meetings are being held in Baltimore on the company proposal of arbitration on the wage issue. Indications are, Slemmer said, that members are opposed to this proposal in no uncertain terms and will continue on strike.

Slemmer said in Baltimore that a membership vote on the company proposal was defeated last night by a vote of two and a half to one.

"We voted overwhelmingly to continue the strike," Slemmer said. "Our members feel that other large industries in the United States are putting money on the line and the telephone company should too. It could be a setback to all of labor."

Slemmer said enthusiasm in Baltimore is growing. "We've got our second wind and our sleeves rolled up now," he added.

Have Assurance

In announcing their surprise move to send pickets to Hagerstown this morning to picket the telephone exchang there, Williams and Paul Bixler, strike lieutenant, said they have assurance that telephone operators, members of the Maryland Telephone Traffic Union, will not cross picket lines to return to work and that "normal" service reported yesterday would thus become the opposite today.

Robert L. Schleunes, commercial district manager declared yesterday in Hagerstown that "the telephone strike has collapsed in all points in Western Maryland except Cumberland and tributary offices of Frostburg, Lonaconing and Oakland."

Employes of "all departments in Hagerstown, Frederick and tributary offices reported for work yesterday morning," Schleunes said. He added that employes at Westminster

Board Will Ask Taylor To Become Recreation Head

Long Casts Sole Dissenting Vote

By a vote of 5 to 1, the Cumberland Recreation Board decided last night to invite Charles L. Taylor, Clarksburg, W. Va., to become a full-time recreation director in the city at an annual salary of $4,500.

Taylor, who now holds a position as assigner of recreation directors for the National Recreation Association, was in Cumberland last week and said he would be willing to take the position at that salary, according to Clifton Van Roby, a board member.

The dissenting vote was cast by John J. Long, board chairman, who said that while he was favorably impressed by Taylor and thinks he is the best available man for the position, the $4,500 salary is too high. Stating that a salary of $4,000 would be more suitable, Long said he feels that other applicants should be interviewed before a final choice is made.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of county schools and one of the board members who interviewed Taylor, pointed out that no other qualified men had signified interest in the position, and that Taylor was rated at the top of a list of six applicants provided by the National Recreation Association.

John I. Spiker and J. Suter Kegg, secretary, said that the job of organizing recreation in Cumberland on a year-round basis will be a difficult one, and that an able director probably could not be secured for a lower salary. Clair R. Mease, the seventh member of the board, was not present to cast a vote.

Roby was instructed to wire Taylor, notifying him of the board's decision and asking him to report by May 1 if possible. Mrs. C. Erich Roeder seconded Spiker's motion to approve Taylor's application.

Mayor Thomas S. Post, who attended the meeting in an ex-officio capacity, said the deadline for completing the city's budget for the fiscal year is May 25, and the board started work on drawing up a temporary recreation budget for Taylor's consideration, if he accepts the position as director.

MAYOR, BRUCE MAY TESTIFY ON POLLUTION

Arrangements are being made for Mayor Thomas S. Post and Charles J. Bruce, members of the Upper Potomac River Board, to appear at hearings in Washington this week on an omnibus pollution control bill, Mayor Post said last night.

Following announcement over the weekend that hearings would be held on the bill, Bruce wired E. R. Cotton, executive secretary of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin, asking whether Cumberland representatives could testify regarding pollution of the Potomac River.

Cotton wired Mayor Post yesterday that he is making arrangements for the mayor and Bruce, who is superintendent of the Evitts Greek Water Company, to testify before the Senate Public Works Committee on either Thursday or Friday morning, depending upon the length of testimony of other witnesses.

The Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin and other government agencies have been called to present their views on a bill authorizing 100 million dollars annually in loans and federal grants to end stream pollution. The bill provides for compulsory compliance through court suits.

WAGE AGREEMENT REACHED BY B. & O. AND BROTHERHOODS

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 21—(AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and representatives of two workers' brotherhoods announced today that a wage agreement had been reached after six weeks of negotiations, and the union men said it contained "many concessions."

B. F. Davisson, of Grafton, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and H. A. Porch, of Cumberland, Md., general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, described the agreement in a joint statement as "the best contract ever made."

The settlement, the company said, would remain in effect for one year from June 1, 1947.

Vets' Program Slated At Teachers' College

The Federal Works Agency yesterday approved a project for veterans' educational facilities at State Teachers College, Frostburg, at a cost of approximately $40,000, Rep. J. Glenn Beall reported last night.

Beall said the project includes laboratory facilities and necessary equipment. He added that the application for the project was made by Dr. Thomas Pullen, state superintendent of schools.

Organization Of Safety Groups To Be Discussed

A dinner and organization meeting for safety and fire prevention staffs of industrial plants in this area will be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Westvaco Club in Luke, according to John J Long, director of safety and fire prevention for the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Long said it is hoped to co-ordinate the efforts of industrial organizations and to develop an educational program regarding safety and fire prevention.

He said officers will be elected and a constitution drawn up. Plans will be discussed for securing outside speakers at future monthly meetings.

Among the approximately 30 persons who have accepted invitations to attend Thursday's dinner meeting are John Purinton and his staff from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; Thomas Gulland of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory at Pinto; Robert B. Kimble, representing the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Magnus Work and his staff from the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corpration of America; H. Lee Silcox, chairman of first aid and accident prevention for Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross; and representatives of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, the Potomac Edison Company, the Western Mayland Railway, and the General Textile Mill at Lonaconing.

Long said he and four members of his staff will represent the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

A preliminary meeting was held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club last month to determine the amount of interest in the proposed organization.

Thomas S. Watson Resigns As Marine Commandant Here

Thomas S. Watson, commandant of Francis K. Finan Detachment Marine Corps League, for the past six months, tendered his resignation at last night's meeting of the detachment in order to give more time to his duties as state commandant.

Ralph E. Patch, senior vice commander, automatically succeeds Watson as commandant here. William D. Baer was moved up from the post of junior vice commander to succeed Patch, and H. J. Luther, a veteran of First Marine Division campaigns at Tulagi, Guadalcanal, Cape Gloucester and Peleliu, was elected junior vice commander.

Plans were discussed for the next meeting of state officers, which will be held in Cumberland Sunday afternoon, May 18. At that time the location of state headquarters will be considered. The three Marine Corps League detachments in Maryland are located in Cumberland, Hagerstown and Baltimore.

At a state meeting in Hagerstown earlier this month, John T. Fey, judge advocate of the local detachment, was named adjutant, and Paul A. Divico was elected state service officer.

Miss Minnie I. Strawderman, the only woman member of the detachment here, resigned as adjutant, and Charles J. Norris was elected to succeed her. Joseph H. Wilson, James M. Kennedy and Gail P. Northcraft were named as a house committee.

The next meeting will be held Monday, April 28, at 8 p. m.

A meeting of the Auxiliary Unit will be held tonight at 8 at league headquarters, 120 South Mechanic Street, when new members will have their final opportunity to sign the unit's charter and become charter members. Those eligible for membership are wives, mothers, sisters, widows and daughters, the latter over 16 years of age, of men who have served or are now serving in the Marine Corps.

All-County Music Festival Will Be Presented Here This Evening

There will be two changes in conductors for the seventh annual spring all-county music festival to be presented tonight at 8:15 at Fort Hill High School, Jack E. Platt, director of music education of Allegany County, announced last night.

Earle Wilde, Allegany faculty member, scheduled to conduct the orchestra is a patient in Allegany Hospital. Wilton Syckes, elementary string director, will take his place. Mr. Platt will substitute for Miss Dorothy Willison, in directing the a cappella group, due to death in the latter's family.

Since there has been a sell out, there are no more tickets available, Mr. Platt said last night, and that it would be useless to expect to obtain them at the door. The Potomac Edison company is running special buses to the school. They will leave Baltimore street at 7:30, 7:45 and 8 o'clock, and will take care of the return trip following the concert.

The 500 participants in the concert will arrive at Fort Hill at 9:30 this morning and rehearse for the evening performance, until time for the dress rehearsal in the afternoon, which will be presented to the junior-senior high school of Fort Hill.

Several innovations in the program this year will include a piano soloist, small groups before the curtain, a combined choral and instrumental group with approximately 100 selected voices and a selected band of 35. Preceding the festival there will be a demonstration of the work by the elementary string, wood wind and brass pupils.

The first selection will be "Stout Hearted Men," from "Student Prince", to be played by the orchestra with Wilton Syckes directing. A girls' chorus of 200 voices, trained by Miss Annetta Yates, Fort Hill, will sing, "Jaunting to the Fair," "Alleluia" and "Lullaby."

The a cappella chorus of 100 students will sing "Swansea Town," a Hampshire folk song; "Beautiful Savior" and "Vale of Tuoni."

Schubert's "The Linden Tree", Waring's "The Night Is Young," and Frank Black's arrangement of "Great Day" will be sung by the boys chorus of 90 voices, led by Miss Margery Hinkle, Beall High.

Sam Hunter, Beall High School, will play "Arkansas Traveler" and "Repartee" as his two piano solos.

The mixed chorus of 300 students, directed by Joseph Derry, Central, Lonaconing, will sing, Mozart's "Gloria," "Turn Ye To Me" and "The Lass with the Delicate Air."

S. Lua Syckes will direct the 74 piece band in playing "Sleepers Awake," "Victory and Fame," and selections from "Show Boat."

Red Men Convene Here Today For State Conclave

A four division parade tonight at 7 o'clock will mark the first day of the annual Great Sun Council Fire of the Maryland Reservation, Improved Order of Red Men, with over 400 delegates expected for the three-day conclave.

The parade promises to be a colorful affair with tribes from all parts of the state coming here in full regalia, feathers and all. An outstanding feature will be the display put on by the Red Men's Tribe from Millersburg, Pa., which has won national recognition for its drill team and costumes, and is expected here.

The parade will form at 6:30 p. m. in the vicinity of the State Armory, South Centre Street, with Capt. Thomas F. Conlon, veteran Cumberland parade marshal doing the organizing.

The first division, with W. Ewald Ruehl as marshal will form on South George Street, facing Harrison and will include Logan Tribe No. 155, Boonsboro; Patuxent Tribe, No. 58, and Mianus Council No. 3, both of Baltimore and Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Frostburg.

The second division, with John M. Lilley as marshal, will assemble on Salem Street facing Centre Street. Fort Hill High School Band will lead, followed by Black Hawk Tribe No. 131, Westernport; Shawnah Council No. 49, North East, Md.; Ocklokonee Tribe No. 212, Oxford, Pa., and Squadron No. 13, Sons of the Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

Gene Lilley will marshal the third division, forming on Harrison Street, facing North Centre Street. Oakland City Bank of Oakland will lead the division followed by Cherokee Tribe No. 197, Hagerstown; Tioga Tribe No. 126, Midland; Spring Glenn Pennsylvania Tribe of Spring Glenn, Pa., and Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars Drum and Bugle Corps.

Commissioner William V. Keegan will marshal the fourth division forming on Union Street. Arion Band of Frostburg will lead the division, followed by Everett Pennsylvania Tribe; Altoona, Pennsylvania Tribe; Platoon of Scouts on horses; cars of veteran Red Men; other visiting units; Tonkaway Tribe No. 120 Band and candidates; Tonkaway Tribe No. 120; and Fulton Myers Post No. 153, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

The parade will be led by a platoon of City and State Police on motorcycles. Route of march will be north on Centre to Mechanic, south to Baltimore to George and back to the State Armory.

The convention will officially open at the State Armory preceding the parade with an address of welcome by Mayor Thomas S. Post. Following the parade Logan Tribe No. 155 will confer degrees at 8 p. m. at the Armory.

W. E. Ruehl, Great Sachem, will make an address Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Fraternal Order of Eagles Ball Room after which memorial services will be conducted for departed members. The eulogy will be given by F. Brooke Whiting.

The banquet and dance of the council will be tomorrow evening at Ali Ghan Shrine Club.

Official business will take up the council's time Thursday with election of officers scheduled for 10 a. m.

Members of the Degree of Pocahontas will conduct their meetings in the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom during the three-day session and are scheduled to participate with the Red Men in the memorial service on Wednesday.

The class adoption of "palefaces" tonight at the State Armory will be the first centennial class in Maryland in honor of Great Incohonee W. L. Bently, Jr., Norfolk, Va. The Great Council of the United States is celebrating its 100th anniversary this year and centennial classes are being initiated.

Following Wednesday night's memorial service, a business meeting and nomination of state chiefs is slated. Ruehl, W. I. Hanna, Baltimore, great chief of records, and Allan L. Hill, Westernport, great keeper of the wampum, will make addresses.

Leslie W. Brown, Harrisburg, Pa., supreme district deputy great incohonee, will serve as installing officer of new chiefs elected on Thursday. William A. Harris, Jr., Snow Hill, is slated to succeed Ruehl as great sachem of the state.

VFW Drum Corps Ready For Several Parades

Henry Hart Post No. 1411 Veterans of Foreign Wars Drum and Bugle Corps met last night with 52 members present for rehearsal. The corps accepted invitations to appear in parades at Frostburg, May 18, for the I Am an American Day celebration; and at the Winchester, Virginia Apple Blossom Festival, May 2. The corps will leave post headquarters for Winchester at 8 a. m. by bus.

On May 1, the unit will participate in a May Day program at Fort Hill High School auditorium, and will parade tonight in the Red Men's convention march. The corps was instructed to report at post headquarters at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

City Employes Ask For Wage Increase

City employes, excluding firemen, policemen and hourly workers, have filed a petition with the Mayor and Council asking for an unspecified wage increase, and Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday that city officials will not oppose legislation increasing wages of city employes. The governor's office recently asked the Mayor and Council to express an opinion on such legislation.

Recent legislative acts provided increases for all workers, and pay for hourly workers has been increased five cents an hour.

County Revenue Up $1,172,719 For 1947-1948

As a result of legislation passed at the recent session of the General Assembly, Allegany County will receive in the fiscal year 1947-48 allocations totaling $2,153,335.20, an increase of $1,172,719.40 over funds received under laws enacted prior to 1947, Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., chairman of the Allegany County delegation, said last night.

This information and sources of the revenue were contained in a schedule forwarded by Secretary of State John B. Funk to Whitworth at the latter's request.

The schedule shows that the county, under laws passed before 1947, will receive the amount of $890,615.80 for schools, roads, etc., for the official year during June 30, 1947, while the county will receive $2,153,335.20 under the 1947 Acts of the General Assembly, or an increase of $1,172,719.40 for the year starting July 1.

Will Be Apportioned

Incorporated towns and cities will receive a portion of these amounts but the totals have not yet been determined.

For the fiscal year ending June 30 the schools allocation amounts to $792,165 but for the year 1947-48 the allocation will total $1,550,734, an increase of $758,569, the scedule shows. In addition, another $154,320 will be allocated to the county under the school incentive fund.

The roads allocation for the year ending June 30 totaled $136,753.92, but for 1947-48 that allocation is increased to $208,100.35, an increase of $71,346.43.

Income tax allocation to the county for the year 1946-47 amounts to $51,696.88 while for the coming fiscal year that source of revenue will provide $63,974.89, an increase of $12,278.01.

Racing Revenue Up

The county also will receive in the 1946-47 fiscal year approximately $52,248.65 from racing revenue, which was made possible by action of the 1946 special session of the legislature, but this figure is not shown on the schedule since the full effect of Sherbow allocations is desired, Secretary Funk pointed out.

However, in 1947-48, the county will receive $110,205.96 from racing revenue.

A nadditional $66,000 will be provided through admissions tax, licenses and recordation tax, from which there is no revenue for the year 1946-47, the schedule discloses.

Of this amount, $48,000 is from licenses $11,000 from admissions tax and $7,000 from recordation tax.

Harbaugh Child Injured

Calvin Harbaugh, 5, 234 West Oldtown Road, was treated for undetermined injuries at Memorial Hospital yesterday morning after he was allegedly struck by a machine operated by Earl Bucy, 136 Arch Street, attaches said.

Bucy, who took the child to the hospital, said he ran in front of the car.

Roscoe Lewis, 24, Myersville, suffered lacerations of the right arm while at work at Wiley Ford with a construction company. He was treated at Memorial Hospital.

Public Welfare Costs In March Total $958,228

Cost of operating the State Department of Public Welfare, during March, was $958,228, covering all types of assistance, according to J. Milton Patterson, director. This compares to a decrease over the January figure when $971,772 was expended, but to an increase over February when cost was reported at $949,866.

In Allegany county, total of $54,908.86 was expended in March for all types of assistance. This includes Old Age Assistance, $22,925.65; Aid To Dependent Children, $9,708.35; Public Assistance to Needy Blind, $739.80; General Public Assistance, $10,545.45; and Foster Home Care, $1,989.61.

A total of 19 applications for Old Age Assistance were received, with 739 assisted at an average cost of $31.02 for the county. A total of 214 families with dependent children were assisted at an average cost per family of $45.37 and an average cost per child of $17.56. A total of 553 children received aid with 14 new applications received.

No new applications for needy blind were submitted and a total of 24 in the county were aided at a cost of $30.83 per person.

Under General Public Assistance, 21 new applications were received, making a total of 371 cases. The average grant was $37.45. Sixty-three children are in foster homes in the county, with an average cost of $31.58 per child.

In Garrett County, a total of $19,863.92 was expended during March for all types of aid. Old Age Assistance cost $8,410.91, for 313 cases or an average of $26.84. Aid To Dependent Children cost $7,066.96 for 416 children at an average of $48.07 per family and $16.99 per child.

Needy Blind in Garrett County cost $205.33 for seven cases at an average of $29.33 per case.

For General Public Assistance, 20 new cases were received in Garrett County making a total of 160 for the month at a cost of $3,648.62 or an average of $32.56. Foster Home care cost $532.10 or an average of $23.13 for 23 children.

Clubs Were Not Entitled To Sell Liquor On Sunday Under Old Law

Fey Savs No Change Made By Delegation

Considerable misunderstanding has arisen over the new liquor law which governs Allegany County, according to members of the county delegation to Annapolis, which introduced and sponsored the bill through the legislature.

Jack T. Fey, a member of the delegation said yesterday that clubs and club operators are being very critical of the county delegates because of some clauses in the law.

Foremost among the complaints is that of Sunday closing, Fey explained, asserting that the delegation is "being unjustly accused of closing clubs on Sunday under the new law."

Fey produced a copy of the old law, and explained that the delegation attempted to re-enact as much of the old law as seemed desirable and workable, saying that the law had been declared unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals, in so far as the issuance of county liquor licenses by the court is concerned.

Refers To Old Law

He referred particularly to Subsection H of 316-H Chapter 5 of the law as passed in 1933, which provides that it is unlawful to sell beer, wine or whisky on Sunday or after midnight or before 7 a. m. The only exception in this clause is that clubs, restaurants and hotels where food is sold, were permitted to sell light beer with food.

In writing the new law, the delegation eliminated the exception, providing that no intoxicants whatever can be sold by any license holder on Sunday or after midnight or before 7 a. m. any other day, Fey explained. He said the delegation felt that all license holders should be treated equally, so far as selling hours are concerned, so eliminated the exception regarding light beer with food.

Two Communities Approve Daylight Saving Time

Westernport And Frostburg Act

Two Allegany County towns joined the Daylight Saving Time ranks last night when the Mayors and Councils of Frostburg and Westernport approved measures adopting fast time for their communities during the summer months.

Cumberland adopted daylight time April 14, and Luke's decision probably will be reached this week. Lonaconing has yet to act on the matter, but Mayor Jack Evans has indicated that town officials favor daylight time. However, the Mayor said the decision depends on the wishes of the town's businessmen.

Piedmont, W. Va., also may go along with daylight time, and will do so if Luke joins Westernport in setting clocks ahead an hour.

At a recent meeting Mayor Harold Fredlock and the Piedmont town councilmen agreed to adopt daylight time if both Westernport and Luke do.

Sixteen citizens attended the special meeting of Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore and the Frostburg Council last night, and a petition, signed by 135 residents, was presented by Ralph M. Race in behalf of daylight time.

The Frostburg Council unanimously approved a motion directing William S. Jenkins, city attorney, to prepare an ordinance providing that Frostburg go on daylight time effective Sunday at 12:01 a. m.

A special meeting will be held Wednesday night to pass on the ordinance.

At Westernport Councilman George C. Cleaver introduced a motion that Westernport adopt daylight saving time and it was seconded by Mayor Milton McIntyre and approved by the council.

No Westernport residents appeared at the meeting to speak for or against fast time.

DON CEDRIC BEARD

Don Cedric Beard, six months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Beard, 331 Central Avenue, died at his home at 3 p. m. yesterday.

Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Etta Theresa and Diana, and a brother, Leonard, Jr., at home; his paternal grandfather, Thomas Beard, this city, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Denmark, Cumberland.

The body will remain at the home where funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday by Rev. Julius O. Williams, pastor of McKendree Methodist Church.

Three Persons Are Treated In Hospitals

Three persons were treated in local hospitals yesterday for minor injuries, but none were admitted. They are:

Joseph Deter, 29, 632 Leiper Street, employed at the B. and O. Bolt and Forge Shop, who said he was struck on the head by a wedge that was thrown from a machine while he was at work.

Thomas Higgins, 15, Little Orleans, who was treated in Memorial Hospital for a deep laceration on the index finger of the left hand, said he suffered the injury when he accidently touched a buzz saw while attending a vocational class at Oldtown High School.

The two-and-a-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reed, 5 Grand View Terace was treated in Allegany Hospital for second degree burns. The parents told attaches a young brother pulled a pot of hot coffee down on the child's feet.

Rev. M. S. Fales Will Succeed Rev. Eisenberger

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP)—Rev. Merton S. Fales, Central Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, was elected today as moderator of the Presbytery of Baltimore, succeeding Rev. William A. Eisenberger, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Cumberland.

Named minister and elder of the Presbytery's Council were the Rev. Merval W. Weaver, Frederick, and Elder Martin Seabolt, Waverly Church.

Jury Trials Open With $25,000 Suit Taking Full Day

The first jury trial of the April term of Circuit Court got underway yesterday and testimony was completed, but attorneys are scheduled to argue the case at 9:15 o'clock today.

Heard before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson, the case involves a claim of $25,000 in two damage suits resulting from a traffic accident last May 22 on the Bedford Road, in which an Everett, Pa., woman was allegedly badly hurt.

Mrs. I. Marguerite Twigg, manager of a service station and restaurant, asks $20,000 damages from Glenn Morris and the Morris Motor Express, Inc., of this city; while her husband, Richard B. Twigg, seeks $5,000 damages against the same defendant.

Woman Weeps In Court

While Twigg was on the stand, describing the mishap, his wife sat beside their attorneys and wept at intervals—apparently nervous when details of the accident were recalled. Harry I. Stegmaier and Edward J. Ryan are attorneys for the couple, while Morris is represented by W. Earle Cobey and William R. Carscaden.

Twigg testified that he was driving to Everett from Cumberland on the night of May 22 and was rounding a curve when he discovered a truck, traveling in the opposite direction and "on the wrong side of the highway." He said he swerved his car to the right, to avoid a head-on collision, then swerved back to the left to keep from hitting the guard rail. Twigg said he was traveling about 40 or 45 miles an hour and that he lost control of his car, which careened down an embankment.

Aided By Friend

Twigg said the mishap occurred about four miles from Cumberland Valley near the intersection of the Rainesburg Road, and that his wife was badly cut about the face and also suffered injuries to her spine and body. He said he took a flashlight and clambered back to the road, flagging down a car operated by Samuel Leonard, also of Everett. They placed Mrs. Twigg in the machine and started for Cumberland, Twigg testified, and on the outskirts of this city overtook a truck operated by Morris.

They signalled Morris to stop, and he agreed to follow them to Memorial Hospital.

Twigg exhibited bills from the local hospital and physicians who treated his wife, and also testified that she went to Baltimore to undergo plastic surgery, due to facial cuts. As a result of the mishap, she has become nervous and irritable he added, and "sometimes cries when people stare at the scars on her face."

Says Car Demolished

Twigg, who formerly lived in Cumberland, said his car was demolished and that his wife was unable to work for a long time.

A civil appeal case scheduled for yesterday was settled by agreement of the parties involved. Mrs. Della Cook, who received a $60 judgment against John Ravenscroft and Anna Lee Ravenscroft at a hearing before Magistrate B. J. McPartland, at Lonaconing, took an appeal, and under the agreement reached today, a judgment of $90 and costs was entered against the defendants.

Ryan was counsel for Mrs. Cook, with the defendants represented by Leslie J. Clark.

Child Injures Foot

John F. Workmeister, Jr., 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Workmeister, Park Heights was treated in Memorial Hospital last night for an injured left foot suffered when he tripped over a stone.

June Darr, 12, Baltimore Pike received treatment for a puncture in the left arm. Attaches said the child fell on a pick while playing in the yard at home.

Intent To Murder Indictment Filed Against Lepley

Veteran Shot At City Policemen

Five more indictments, involving three traversers, were docketed in Circuit Court yesterday, as the sheriffs office and deputies continued the task of serving warrants on persons indicted by the April Grand Jury last week.

The three persons indicted are Eugene S. Lepley, accused of assault with intent to murder; Peter Loncarevich, Jr., charged on two counts of false pretenses; and William G. Sponaugle, indicted on two counts of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

According to authorities, the Grand Jury brought the indictment against Lepley, a World War II veteran, for his alleged attack on City Policemen John Newhouse, Curtis MacA. Kime, Raymond Johnston and Edwin R. Lilya, on March 25.

Reported Incompetent

The 24-year-old veteran had been examined by Dr. Arthur F. Jones, county physician, who recommended that he be taken to Perry Point Hospital for mental observation and treatment. He has remained in the county jail since then, and his indictment by the Grand Jury came as a surprise in some quarters.

Loncarevich is indicted for cashing a $15 check at Rands, Inc., on March 11, and cashing a $100 check at Sears Roebuck Company on March 1. Both checks were drawn on the Commercial Savings Bank and were allegedly fraudulent.

Sponaugle is charged with stealing a load of junk on April 3, valued at $50, belonging to William Smith, Sr., and James Smith, trading as Piedmont Foundry and Machine Company. In the second indictment he is accused of stealing junk valued at $10 from William V. Collins, this city, on April 4.

Two damage suits, docketed in Circuit Court as a result of a traffic accident in which a Cumberland girl was fatally injured, have been settled by agreement of attorneys, with the full amount asked in the actions to be paid her father and the administrator of her estate.

Miss Catherine T. Insogna, Valley Street, was the victim of the crash last October 13 on the highway near Annapolis, and the driver of the machine, William R. Mitchell, was also killed. The girl, who was employed in Baltimore, died two days later in a hospital there.

Father Asked $2,500

Her father, Frank Insogna, asked $2,500 damages in one suit against George W. Della, administrator of Mitchell's estate. The action was filed by Harold E. Naughton, attorney, in the name of the State of Maryland, for the use of Frank Insogna.

In the second suit, Samuel A. Insogna, administrator of her estate, asked $500 from the administrator of Mitchell's estate.

William H. Geppert was counsel for Della in the court suits.

Trio Pleads Guilty To Taking Auto

Three Allegany County youths entered pleas of guilty to charges of unauthorized use of an automobile in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday morning and one was fined and the other two were given suspended sentences by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr.

State Trooper William McElfish said the youths, James Irving Perry, RFD Frostburg; William Thomas Willison, Eckhart, and Alden Elwood Lavin, Mt. Savage, took the automobile owned by Bernard P. Kenney, Ridgeley, Saturday night from its parking place near Union and George Streets.

Perry was fined $25 and costs of 75 cents. Willison and Lavin were sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail but the sentences were suspended and they were paroled in the custody of their parents.

The trooper said the trio "wanted to see a big city" and stole Kenney's car to drive to Baltimore. They were arrested about 12 miles from Baltimore on Route 26 by State Police from the Randallstown barracks. Sunday they were returned to Cumberland for trial.

Held For Investigation

A man identified as Floyd Parker, Oldtown Road, who was arrested last night at 6:35 o'clock by John W. Snyder, is being held in City Jail "for investigation."

Police were also holding a man who was docketed as Francis McNally, 113 Green Street, on a disorderly conduct charge. He will be given a hearing this morning in Police Court.

Local Telephone Workers Will Send Pickets To Hagerstown This Morning

Cumberland members of the Maryland Federation of Telephone Workers prepared last night to leave early this morning for Hagerstown where they planned to set up surprise picket lines in a move to curtail the return to work of telephone employes there yesterday.

There was a possibility, too, that the local pickets would continue on to Frederick where telephone employes also went back to their jobs yesterday.

Meanwhile, George Williams, strike captain, declared, "The strike front is still solid here. We will continue picketing until we get orders from Baltimore to go back to work. The return to work of telephone workers in other counties has made our members that much more determined."

Proposal Turned Down

Williams received a telegram from Robert O. Slemmer, state strike leader, last night in which the latter stated that meetings are being held in Baltimore on the company proposal of arbitration on the wage issue. Indications are, Slemmer said, that members are opposed to this proposal in no uncertain terms and will continue on strike.

Slemmer said in Baltimore that a membership vote on the company proposal was defeated last night by a vote of two and a half to one.

"We voted overwhelmingly to continue the strike," Slemmer said. "Our members feel that other large industries in the United States are putting money on the line and the telephone company should too. It could be a setback to all of labor."

Slemmer said enthusiasm in Baltimore is growing. "We've got our second wind and our sleeves rolled up now," he added.

Have Assurance

In announcing their surprise move to send pickets to Hagerstown this morning to picket the telephone exchang there, Williams and Paul Bixler, strike lieutenant, said they have assurance that telephone operators, members of the Maryland Telephone Traffic Union, will not cross picket lines to return to work and that "normal" service reported yesterday would thus become the opposite today.

Robert L. Schleunes, commercial district manager declared yesterday in Hagerstown that "the telephone strike has collapsed in all points in Western Maryland except Cumberland and tributary offices of Frostburg, Lonaconing and Oakland."

Employes of "all departments in Hagerstown, Frederick and tributary offices reported for work yesterday morning," Schleunes said. He added that employes at Westminster
